NRA MEMBER U.S. WE DO OUR PART

Monroe Morning World

And NEWS-STAR

THE WEATHER

LOUISIANA: Mostly cloudy, occasional rains in south portion Sunday.
ARKANSAS: Local thundershowers Sunday; Monday partly cloudy.
MONROE: Maximum, 94; minimum, 72. River, 13.9 feet.

VOL. IV.—No. 286 | Exclusive Morning Associated Press Service | MONROE, LOUISIANA, SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1933 | PRICE FIVE CENTS

TODAY

Buy Now, Buy American.
Three Days of Leisure.
Purifying Germany.
Something To Pronounce.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd.)

THE "BUY NOW and Buy American" campaign has started.

One million and a half volunteer workers will join in the drive for immediate and universal buying asked by Industrial Administrator Hugh S. Johnson.

Retail prices are still low. They will not remain low. Buying now, you save money, and, what is more important, you promote the recovery.

Those that should know agree that this month of September will be the last month of low prices. So, buy now, buy things made in America, and make sure that you are getting them.

THE "LONG HOLIDAY," three days in which to play, sleep and "do what you will," as the labor unions put it, began Saturday.

Some will return in three days with only a coat of tan and a memory of "really good beer." A few will come back with plans made for fighting their own particular section of the depression, and for using usefully the leisure that is to become more and more plentiful, at least until we get back to normal.

Those few will be the fortunate few.

THE CABLE CONTINUES announcement of Hitler plans for "purification of the Germanic race." Only old-fashioned dances, waltz, gallop, quadrille, will be permitted. Modern dances, called "American and thoroughly un-German," fox trot, one step, tango are banned. To dance them "unpatriotic."

IN THE CITY OF WORMS, according to a dispatch printed in the New York Times, this happened, quoted from a German newspaper, "a Jew, Walther Lieberg, maintained relations with a Christian girl. The girl's mother did nothing to terminate these relations, but suffered them. The Christian girl took the ground that the government could not interfere with her private life.

"To enlighten these people and bring them to the heinousness of their conduct, a detachment of Hitler guards paraded the Jew, his sweetheart and her mother through the streets of Kassel."

Parading the "Christian mother" through the streets is an interesting touch.

OUR NEW AMBASSADOR to Poland, first foreign envoy to enter Poland through a Polish port, aboard a Polish ship, landed on the liner Kosciusko, much touched to hear Polish

(Continued on Eleventh Page)

TALLULAH MAN DIES SUDDENLY

Billy Craig Suffers Fatal Heart Attack While Swimming

TALLULAH, La., Sept. 2.—(Special)—Billy Craig, 27, son of W. S. Craig, leading banker and business man of Tallulah, died late Saturday of a heart attack while swimming with a party of young men at Eagle Lake, seven miles west of Tallulah.

As Craig and his companions were preparing to leave the water, Craig sank at the pier. He was rescued immediately and artificial respiration was administered by members of the group while others summoned a physician, but he died before the physician arrived. After a diagnosis had been made, the death was attributed to heart failure.

Craig is survived by his parents and two brothers, Frank and Emmett. Funeral arrangements have not been made, pending communication from the young man's parents in Chicago, where the father is ill in a hospital.

Roosevelt Wins Fishing Contest, Gets Sunburned

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Sunburned but victorious in a bitterly contested fishing contest, President Roosevelt was sailing southward tonight aboard the yacht Nourmahal for another day of sport off the Delaware capes.

A message from the president's secretary, Stephen T. Early, to the navy department tonight. said the presidential party had boarded the yacht on which the chief executive is slowly returning to the capital from Hyde Park after dark tonight, following a successful day of fishing.

Early reported the president had won the day's fishing honors with a catch of "two sea bass and as many porgies," but that he as well as others in the party were most successful in getting sunburned.

EARTHQUAKE REPORTED

BERKELEY, Calif., Sept. 2.—(AP)—An earthquake recorded on the University of California seismograph for half an hour starting at about 8:53 a. m., today was estimated by Professor Perry Byerly to be 5,500 miles distant, probably near Japan. He said it was not of catastrophic intensity.

DE PINEDO KILLED AS PLANE STRIKES FENCE AT AIRPORT

Famous Italian Flier Dies As He Starts On Long Flight

HEAVY LOAD IS CAUSE

Spectators Shudder As Flame Quickly Engulfs His Ship

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Marquis General Francesco de Pinedo died in the flames of his blazing monoplane today as he attempted to take off on a non-stop solo flight to Baghdad that was intended to dispel the cloud of obscurity surrounding his brilliant career in aviation.

A tremendous load of gasoline, 1,027 gallons, caused his giant red, green and purple plane to swerve from a concrete runway and hit a fence at Floyd Bennett airport. In a second it was a roaring mass of flames, and the flier was burned beyond recognition.

The start of what the gallant flier had hoped would be a non-stop record flight became a scene of horror. Spectators shuddered and covered their eyes as they saw fire engulf the airman.

Attendants rushed to the scene and tried to pull him out, but the flames forced them back. Michael Hicks Beach, a naval machinist's mate, was badly burned about the face trying to reach De Pinedo with a fire extinguisher.

The plane burned only a few seconds before it was a mass of metal wreckage. The body was found lying beside it and field officials said that the flier had jumped and attempted to crawl away before the fire killed him.

De Pinedo's plane was traveling about 70 miles an hour when it hit the steel wire fence at 6:02 a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

He had covered about 2,000 feet of the mile-long concrete runway before disaster overtook him. The plane, lurching under its great load of fuel, refused to rise. One wheel got off the ground but fell back, then the plane swerved into the dirt along the runway.

De Pinedo, going perhaps 100 miles

(Continued on Fifth Page)

BAPTISTS TO VOTE ON PASTOR TODAY

Warring Factions Hope to Settle Jonesboro Religious Fight

JONESBORO, Ark., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Torn by bitter religious strife for the second time in two years, this city hoped tonight that lasting tranquility among warring factions of the Jonesboro Baptist tabernacle would follow an election tomorrow to settle its pastorate dispute.

County and city officers will be on guard at the tabernacle to keep peace among members of the congregation as they cast their ballots.

It was by no means certain, however, that the election would end the latest controversy that has stirred the city for several weeks.

The election was ordered by the chancery court to determine whether the Rev. Joe Jeffers, militant evangelist and founder of the tabernacle, or the Rev. Dale S. Crowley, whom Jeffers put in as pastor two years ago, was wanted by a majority of the congregation.

Jeffers himself will not be present. He left yesterday for Miami, Fla., planning to return in about ten days. Moreover he is enjoined by court order temporarily from entering the tabernacle.

His followers have indicated they will not participate in the election.

The tabernacle has been padlocked for a few weeks and gaurded by officers as a result of a situation that threatened to develop into physical combat among members of the opposing factions. It was thrown open again.

Merchants Will Observe Labor Day Here Tomorrow

Labor day will be a holiday in Monroe and West Monroe with all stores of the retail merchants' division of the chamber of commerce remaining closed, according to agreement. Banks and courts will observe the holiday and there will be no deliveries of mail either in the city or on rural delivery routes, and the postoffice will remain closed.

A number of outing parties are planned and long motor trips and fishing expeditions will be the order of the day.

In Monroe the chief feature will be the parade which is slated for 9 a.m. through downtown streets and in which union labor and those who are supporting the NRA program will unite to make a success of the event.

West Monroe will have a rodeo at Major McGuire park which is expected to draw a large crowd at 8 p.m., which will comprise the third and concluding performance in as many days.

THOSE PAJAMA POSES LOOK HOPEFUL

HARDY TO SPEAK AT NRA MEETING

Parade to Precede Gathering Here Next Tuesday Night

George W. Hardy, Jr., mayor of Shreveport. will be the principal speaker at the NRA mass meeting to be held at the Ouachita Parish High school auditorium Tuesday night at 8 p. m., according to plans formulated by members of the NRA committee Friday night at Hotel Virginia.

Other speakers will include W. C. Feazel, member of the state NRA board; C. C. Bell, mayor of West Monroe; Lee Hawkins, NRA chairman in Ouachita parish on the west side of the river; Mrs. Fagan Cox, chairman of women's division on the east side of the river; Mrs. T. L. Tippit, chairman of the women's division on the west side of the river; Mrs. Charles Mitchell, chairman of the women's division for Ouachita parish, and Rev. N. F. Vandegaer, pastor of St. Matthew's Catholic church of Monroe.

Mayor Arnold Bernstein will act as master of ceremonies at the meeting Tuesday night. Invocation will be made by Rev. Ernest Holloway, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Former Senator M. C. Redmond will preside as chairman.

Music for the mass meeting and for a street parade to be held at 7:30 p. m., preceding the meeting, will be provided by the 156th infantry band of the national guard. The band will keep up the program of music from 7:30 to 8 o'clock. All those entitled to the blue eagle are invited to join in the parade.

Plans for an intensive NRA campaign were discussed and perfected at the meeting Friday night, at which A. V. Miller, chairman of the Ouachita parish NRA committee, presided.

The following committee was appointed by Mr. Miller to complete arrangements for the program Tuesday evening; D. M. Doughty, O. C. Davis, W. W. Sullivan and M. C.

(Continued on Eleventh Page)

Longview Woman Is Hurt In Automobile Accident

When her automobile turned over on the Ruston highway, about 12 miles out of Monroe, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Mrs. C. M. Boone of Longview, Texas, received a fracture of the right collar bone. She was brought to Monroe and placed in St. Francis sanitarium for treatment. Her husband, the only other person in the car, escaped injury.

Mrs. Boone said she was driving at a rather rapid rate when she ran into a heavy shower of rain. She failed to slow down sufficiently on reaching the wet pavement and was unable to bring the car under control after it had started skidding.

Mr. and Mrs. Boone were en route to Jones, La., to visit his mother when the accident occurred.

TWO WOMEN KILLED

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Two women were killed and an undetermined number of persons injured when an Albany-Saratoga Springs bus with 29 passengers aboard rolled down a 10-foot embankment and overturned in a ditch near Round Lake, south of here, tonight. The dead are Mrs. Mary L. Sowthard and Mrs. Hattie Clark.

Relentless Search Made For Lindbergh Kidnapers

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—(AP)—A year and a half after Baby Lindbergh, 20-months-old son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, was kidnaped and slain, the police search for the perpetrators of the crime is going on tenaciously.

New Jersey, New York and federal agencies are working unceasingly—hopeful that "the break" which will solve the kidnaping will come.

Authorities believe the key to the crime is the $50,000 ransom paid by Lindbergh to the kidnapers, who betrayed his confidence. Lindbergh retained a list of the serial numbers of the ransom notes. Eventually, officials think the kidnapers will start spending the money freely and be trapped.

JOSEPH RANSDELL TO RETURN HOME

Won't Seek Office But Will Take Interest In Politics

WASHINGTON, D C., Sept. 2.—(Special)—Ending nearly a half century of public life, former United States Senator Joseph E. Ransdell of Louisiana, tomorrow will leave for his home in Lake Providence. Accompanied by Mrs. Ransdell, the former solon will motor home.

Senator Ransdell today said he was going home to rest.

"But rest will mean neither idleness nor lassitude," he said. "I am going to resume the practice of law, put aside in the prime of life when I entered public life."

Senator Ransdell said he would

(Continued on Fifth Page)

AIR RACER KILLED WHEN SHIP FALLS

Roy Ligget, Known As 'Tough Luck' Pilot, Dies at Chicago

CURTISS - WRIGHT - REYONLDS AIRPORT, CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—(AP)—A buffeting wind brought tragedy to the second day of the international air races, causing the death of Roy Liggett, 37-year-old racing pilot from Omaha, Neb.

Liggett, pushing his tiny red racing plane at 175 miles an hour in a qualifying trial for the first contest of the afternoon was killed when his ship had its left wing torn off by terrific pressure resulting from its speed and the resistance of a 25-mile an hour wind.

The ship crashed in a nearby cornfield, spinning down from a height of 300 feet. The metal body of the plane, a racer that other pilots described as "a seat strapped to a power plant motor" was tangled and twisted so badly that steel saws were required to remove the pilot's body.

Although a consistent money winner in air racing, Liggett had become known as a "tough luck" pilot and friends said he recently expressed preference for "death in a clean crash rather than starvation."

He had a narrow escape in a race last year when a wheel dropped off the plane in which he met death today. He dropped out of a $1,800 prize race here yesterday when another plane swerved into his path on a "racehorse" take off for the event.

The same wind condition nearly brought death to six other persons at nearby Palwaukee airport. A plane piloted by J. L. Moss of Lake Forest, Ill., was swung half way around,

(Continued on Fifth Page)

Long Wields Big Stick On Education System

Funds For Schools Available Only As Senior Senator Dictates.

This is the fifty-first of a series of articles on assessments, taxation and the costs of government in Louisiana. The author, from long experience in public affairs, is thoroughly familiar with the subject and his purpose is to tell in simple language that all may understand how the state and its agencies handle the huge volume of funds derived from a greater variety of taxes, licenses, etc., than any other state has.

Cost of general administration of the public school system of the state is borne chiefly by Louisiana taxpayers. However, the state does not carry the entire burden. Outside educational funds share it to a limited extent. Louisiana's annual contribution to the state department of public education is $76,250.

In a department reasonably free from political control, much public criticism has been raised by the status of Secretary of State E. A. (Bob) Conway who continues to exercise the functions of member of the state board of education while holding the elective office of secretary of state. Mr. Conway is said to be fortified in this stand by a verbal opinion of the attorney general. Nevertheless, he is probably the only man in Louisiana Democratic history to hold two elective State offices at the same time. He was elected member of the state board from the fourth congressional district.

The fact that Mr. Conway is known to be the closest member of the official family to Senator Long is looked upon as strengthening the hold of the senior United States senator on the state's educational system. Grapevine authority at the state capital has it that Mr. Conway is the political mouthpiece of Senator Long in state affairs; that while Governor Allen is the senator's marionette, as it were, Mr. Conway is his associate and friend. Hence, he is deemed to be a far more sincere partisan ally in the state board of education than Mr. Allen is in the governor's chair. Of the two, Mr. Conway is regarded as much the stronger character.

However, with the exception of this enduring rebuke to the cause of depoliticalized public education, the system appears to be operated on a non-political basis, so far as its inner workings go. By open act and public judgment Hon. Thos. H. Harris, state superintendent of public education, is lined up with the state administration and his political fortunes are linked with those of the Long-Allen

(Continued on Third Page)

63 PERSONS DEAD IN PATH OF GALE THAT SWEPT CUBA

Tidal Wave Ten Feet High Sweeps In From Sea at Cardenas

MORE THAN 300 HURT

Famous Museum Badly Damaged When Its Roof Collapses

HAVANA, Sept. 2.—(AP)—At least 63 persons were killed in yesterday's tropical hurricane and several score were missing tonight as Cuba watched the progress of another storm off the northeastern coast.

Cardenas reported "more than" 30 killed and over 100 injured. Four sugar-laden sailboats, out of Cardenas, with crews of from 15 to 20 each were reported missing and an Italian sailboat was aground near the city. Fragmentary reports from Santa Clara said more than 20 were killed and scores injured near there.

Four were killed and over 20 injured at Mantanzas, 50 miles nearer Havana.

Previously nine deaths and more than 300 injuries had been reported. Dispatches from Camaguey said eight persons were killed and more than 200 wounded in Sagua la Grande as 300 homes were wrecked. The other death was in Havana where 64 persons were injured by flying glass and debris.

The new storm, described by the national observatory as "probably of cyclonic intensity," was said apparently to be moving toward the east Bahamas.

(Copyright, 1933, by the Associated Press)

CARDENAS, Cuba, Sept. 2.—The tropical hurricane which swept this sugar center Friday killed at least 30 persons, injured over 100 and wrought unprecedented damage to property.

The exetent of the damage was learned tonight when an Associated Press representative made his way into Cardenas over debris-strewn highways.

Scenes of misery were on every

(Continued on Eleventh Page)

HITLER SPEAKERS RAP JEWISH RACE

Arrival of Hofer After Escape In Austria Causes Sensation

NURNBERG, Germany, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Two of the foremost Hitler spokesmen told brown-shirted followers in convention today that unless the world takes measures to protect itself against "international Jewry's attempt to dominate," bolshevism and chaos are likely to result.

Joseph Goebbels, minister of propaganda, and Dr. Alfred Rosenberg, chief adviser on foreign policy, suddenly brought the race problem to prominence simultaneously with Hitler's own appearance before one group of 60,000 Nazi youths and another of 160,000 party functionaries.

The arrival by airplane of Franz Hofer, Austrian Nazi who symbolizes the conflict between the Austrian government and Chancellor Adolph Hitler's Germany, furnished another sensation. Hofer's appearance was viewed as part of a plan to make the Nazi convention the scene of a challenge to anti-Nazi forces in Austria, where Hitler adherents have been outlawed by the government.

Hofer was spirited from jail at Innesbruck, Austria, by Nazi comrades and taken to Italy. Wounded in the knee during the escape, he had to lie in the plane all the way from Bolzano, Italy, to Nurnberg.

New interest in the Jewish problem robbed Hofer's arrival of some of its dramatic interest. Minister Goebbels told party adherents that "the Jewish problem won't rest until it is solved by all the peoples of Europe. The solution will be found if peoples are thinking clearly and recognize what is necessary for their own well being."

He claimed in various countries peoples privately were already arguing what is to be done about the Jewish problem.

Al Williams Again Says He Didn't Hit Huey Long

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Alford J. "Al" Williams, famous aviator and former navy speed racer, set his plane down at Floyd Bennett field today and denied, for the second time ,that he was the man of mystery who knocked down Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana, a week ago at the Sands Point Bath club, on Long Island.

Williams, who flew into town from Pittsburgh, was asked:

"Did you hit Senator Long?"

Smiling, he replied: "No, no."

"Then how did you get that?"—and the questioner pointed to a bruised right fist, stained with iodine.

"Oh, that. Well, I jammed it in an elevator door."

The famous pilot is now sharing attention with Police Chief Stephen Webber, of Port Washington, who—rumors have it—was the man who struck the Louisiana senator

Showdown With Ford Looms As Chevrolet Denies Union Charge

St. Louis Workers Ask That General Motors Be Refused Eagle

R.F.C. CREDIT PLANNED

Retail Oil Prices to Go Up Under National Recovery Code

DETROIT, Sept. 2. — (AP) — With Henry Ford's vacation of silence near its close and his long-awaited declaration of policy on his failure as yet to sign the NRA automobile code apparently near, first repercussions came today from the code's collective bargaining provision, one of the features to which Ford's associates say he objects.

While the 70-year-old motor manufacturer, still maintaining silence on his NRA plans, apparently prepared to return to Detroit to launch what observers believe will be a spectacular "go it alone" campaign, denial came from the Chevrolet Motor company here tht it is discriminating against union employes in the traditionally open-shop automotive industry.

Simultaneously, the Chevrolet company announced details of a plan for a "company union," in which employes might deal collectively with the firm in accordance with NRA provisions, but emphasized carefully that membership in the organization, to be known as the Chevrolet Employes' association, is voluntary.

The denial of discrimination came after union employes of the Chevrolet Company in St. Louis had telegraphed to President Roosevelt a plea that the General Motors corporation, of which Chevrolet is a unit, be denied the right to display the NRA blue eagle, because, they charged, 100 active union employes had been discharged. G. M. Low, manager of the St. Louis plant, declared that some men were laid off due to slowing down of production, but that there was no discrimination against union men. Officials here said the St. Louis plant was "60 per cent organized and perhaps it was inevitable that some trouble should follow."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—(AP)—A tentative plan for opening the vaults of the Reconstruction corporation to aid financially embarrassed business

(Continued on Fifth Page)

ROGERS HAS HIS SAY

BEVERLY HILLS, Sept. 2.—(Special)—We got a little shot of inflation coming along now in a few weeks, and a lot of us dumb ones are trying to find out just what it is, just where it attacks you, and how. All you can learn about it is, "money will be cheaper." Cheaper than what? If a dollar is worth only 10 cents how are you going to get your clutches on it any easier than now? Unless they give it away, I can't see where it's going to be any big help to everybody. Now I am only asking these questions. I don't want 'em answered. Had a chat with Mr. Raskob, a wealthy man that was a Democrat before it was fashionable; in fact, he was ostracized from the other rich for years. He is in favor of inflation (rather unique for a millionaire). Well, even he had a little trouble explaining what it was, so I certainly don't want to have to listen to any of you amateurs in the money business.

Yours,
Will Rogers

© 1933 by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

LABOR TO PARADE MONDAY MORNING

Workingmen of Twin Cities and Others to Join In March

The most imposing Labor day parade ever held in Monroe and West Monroe is being arranged for tomorrow, when not only organized labor, but also all adherents of the president's industrial recovery program, will be enrolled in the long lines that are to parade through downtown streets.

Merchants and the public are invited to form in line with their cars decorated appropriately with NRA emblems. The parade is to be formed at 9 a.m. sharp, in front of the Ouachita parish courthouse, and line of march is to be north on South Grand Street to DeSiard street, thence east on DeSiard street to Sixth street, then south on that street to Grammont street to the courthouse where disbandment is to take place

Mayor Arnold Bernstein is to lead the parade, together with other city and parish officials, followed by members of the Central Trades and Labor council and local unions.

Order of the union members in the line of march will be as follows: bricklayers, electricians, motion picture operators, auto mechanics, boilermakers, tile setters, painters, printing pressmen, barbers, sheet metal workers, rural letter carriers, typographical union members, marble setters, shoemakers, plasterers, plumbers, carpenters, butchers, paper makers, heading workers

Barney Oakland is to act as grand marshal of the parade, in which he is to be assisted by H. T. Ward as deputy marshal.

All presidents of unions will act as captains of their respective crafts.

There are to be special features which will include floats that will be large and beautifully decorated, bands of music and many novel features for the entertainment of the kiddies.

The West Monroe rodeo performers will follow the parade. They are to provide an afternoon program at Major McGuire park in West Monroe.

A number of details for the parade are still to be developed and for this purpose, a special meeting of the Central Trades and Labor council has been called to meet at 4 p.m. today, at the Woodmen of the World hall on Jackson street.

France Gives Austria Support Against Nazis

PARIS, Sept. 2.—(AP)—France, for the first time publicly, has lent support to Austria's campaign against the Nazi party.

The French government, acting with Great Britain and Italy, today approved Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss' request for authorization to raise a special corps of 8,000 men for duty against "terrorist elements" within Austria on the German border.

Foreign Minister Joseph Paul-Boncour, commenting on France's action, said France agreed to the request in "view of the notably temporary and exceptional character of the corps envisaged and the fact it will be recruited by voluntary enlistment and not surpass the limits of men and equipment fixed by the treaty of St. Germain."

M. Paul-Boncour said that consent was given "for as long as the special conditions exist."

EX-AMBASSADOR DIES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—(AP)—George Thomas Marye, former ambassador to imperial Russia, died today in his eighty-fourth year at his home here after a two weeks illness.

THRILLING STORY OF RESCUE TOLD

35 Persons Are Saved From Burning Ship After Collision

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Sept. 2.—(AP)—A thrilling drama of rescue from a burning ship at sea was unfolded here tonight by 35 survivors of the S. S. Coldwater which was in collision last night with the S. S. President Wilson, Dollar line steamer, off Cape Lookout on the Carolina coast.

The Coldwater sank within 40 minutes of the collision and the President Wilson put into dry dock here for repairs late tonight, badly damaged by the crash.

From the stories of the survivors and passengers and officers of the Wilson liner emerged a tale of the heroism of Captain R. Lee West, skipper of the Coldwater, who carried through the roaring flames the two small daughters of the steamer's only passenger, Mrs. J. C. McPherson of Savannah, Ga., placing them aboard a lifeboat. Capt. West then directed the life boat crew in the rescue of 20 of his seamen who leaped from the burning ship into the water.

Courageous action on the part of Captain West was credited with the fact that there was no loss of life.

"Captain West is the hero," was the terse comment of Captain Makepeace Ridley, veteran Dollar line captain, in command of the liner.

3 Negroes Held After Stolen Car Is Found

An automobile stolen yesterday afternoon from W. A. Walker, Jr., 1219 Fairview, was recovered last night by Police Officers B. H. Grayson, D. J. Bedsole and L. G. Parker. The car was stolen at 1:38 p. m. after being parked on Olive street, and was recovered about 8 p. m.

Three negroes were in the car at the time it was found by Officer Grayson and they told the officer they had used it to go to Swartz, from where they were returning when apprehended. The negroes, Charles Lewis, Tom Scott and Joe Green, were held for questioning.

C. C. C. TRUCK WRECKED

RENOVA, Pa., Sept. 2.—(AP)—A camp truck loaded with members of the Clinton county civilian conservation corps plunged into a ravine tonight after the steering wheel broke on a hillside. One youth was killed instantly and at least 14 others were injured, four seriously.

FERRIDAY BACKS CAMPAIGN OF NRA

Lumber Plants In Concordia Are Working On New Scale

FERRIDAY, La., Sept. 2—(Special)—Residents of Ferriday and of the parish are cooperating in the drive for volunteers to sign the NRA consumers pledges. A mass meeting was held on Monday night and support to the NRA was pledged. The team captains were to continue their drive and the final reports of the canvass accomplishments were to be announced later by General Vogt.

Both the local and Wisner plants of the Fisher Lumber corporation are operating under the NRA lumbermans' code and other wood working plants in and near the parish are on the new scale. The NRA code under which the timber operations are included went into effect on August 22.

As a result of the new code, additional workers have been given employment in the mills and in the woods. The new code calls for a 40-hour week and a minimum scale of 24 cents per hour.

When the seasonal lull in the timber business lets up, more workers will be employed, it is announced by managers of the plants.

The NRA code is helping the plants and is affording employment to those who have been without work for some time.

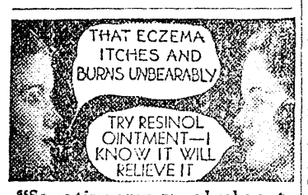
W. M. Fortenberry, assistant state service commissioner of the American Legion, visited Concordia parish Thursday and assisted war veterans in filing claims against the government.

He was at the local American Legion hall on Thursday afternoon and also visited in Vidalia and Jonesville. Friday he was scheduled to go to Harrisonburg and Winnsboro and on Saturday to Delhi, Tallulah and Lake Providence.

Wild life refuges have been established in Tensas and Madison parishes by proclamation of Governor O. K. Allen. Recently the description of the locations were published and the land of the Ayer Timber company in Tensas and Madison parishes and the Fisher Lumber corporation in Tensas parish were listed.

Under the proclamation of Governor Allen, the lumber companies have leased to the department of conservation of the state of Louisiana these lands with the right to establish, maintain and operate a state game refuge and preserve for wild birds and wild quadrupeds.

Dr. W. W. Kailer, federal game warden is issuing a warning to hunters and others that the game laws of Concordia, Tensas and neighboring parishes, will be strictly enforced. He expects to make a personal inspection of the parish to see that all of the game laws are enforced.



"Some time ago eczema broke out on my leg. After weeks of special treatment during which time the itching and burning was so severe I could hardly stand it, I was told nothing more could be done for me. A friend of mine urged me to try Resinol Ointment, which I did. I am happy to say it healed my leg completely and I have never had any breaking out since." (Signed)—Mrs. E. F.* Pawtucker, R. I.

*Name on request.

For free sample each of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, with instructions for the use of these products on various skin troubles, write Resinol, Dept. 42-A, Baltimore, Md.

WOMEN SEEK SCALP OF HUEY LONG

Pictured here within the outline of the state of Louisiana are three of the women leaders active against Senator Long. Left to right, are Mrs. Hilda Phelps Hammond, committee chairman; Mrs. Ida Weiss Friend and Mrs. Martha Westfeldt.

Home Loan Corporation Meeting Slated Tuesday

Robert Breard, Jr., in charge of the Monroe branch of the Home Owners' corporation, has called a meeting of all appraisers and attorneys who have been named in the 12 parishes of northeast Louisiana that are operated from this city as headquarters. They are to assemble at the courthouse at 10 a. m. Tuesday.

Mr. Breard stated that the meeting is highly important, as at that time the work, as it is to be conducted, will be carefully outlined and plans made for generally efficiency of operation.

The work here is going ahead steadily and many applications for loans have been received, but Mr. Breard stated that it will take several weeks before the first applications for loans can have gone through the various stages and be ready for the receipt of money for re-financing.

MISS CLARKE RECOVERING

Miss Elizabeth Clarke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Clarke, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia at St. Francis sanitarium, is rapidly recovering and will be removed soon to her home.

Louisiana Feminine Leaders Ask Nation to Join Campaign

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—(Special)—Louisiana women, calling on all other women to join them, are after the tousle-haired scalp of Huey Long, the senate's very bad boy.

They're trying to shame the dignified senate into protecting its prestige by:

1. Vigorously investigating the primary election of Senator John Overton, Long's man, who was seated despite charges of fraud and corruption by his predecessor, Edwin S. Broussard.

2. Considering charges that Long is "a stench in the national nostrils," as laid before the senate by former Governor John M. Parker in a petition for Huey's expulsion.

The Parker charges are buried in the judiciary committee. The elections investigation is theoretically still alive, but the committee handling it—under chairmanship of Senator Tom Connally of Texas—is not expected to annoy Overton unless the women build a hot enough fire under it.

"The Women's Committee" is the simple name of the feminine anti-Long movement.

It was organized in a New Orleans drawing room after Overton was seated here last March. Through correspondence with women in other states it has sought to build itself into a strong national organization

"Rescue us from Huey Long and his corrupt dictatorship!" cry the Louisiana women to the senate and the rest of the country.

Mrs. Hilda Phelps Hammond, a handsome, soft-voiced woman with determined eyes which have made more than one senator squirm in his chair, heads the committee. She is the mother of four children and has made no previous venture into public life except as wartime state chairman of the Women's National Defense council. Mrs. Hammond became personally excited about the situation of her state when she went to the senate committee's Overton-Broussard hearings, at which Long appeared belligerently as Overton's counsel.

"As citizens of the United States," she says, "we have a right to know just what are the standards of the United States senate.

"The senate can talk until doomsday about Louisiana washing her linen, but this is the senate's own show. It's the senate's investigation and if the committee will continue the investigation it will find a fact-finding committee in every parish ready to help it.

"We can't have honest elections, and we live in a tragic web of intimidation.

"The investigation has been inadequate and we want to know why, with plenty of funds available, the senate hasn't sent its investigators back to Louisiana. There are records which cannot be privately obtained and certain leads which only the government can follow up. And witnesses, if they are to brave the wrath of the Long machine, must know the federal government is behind them."

The Women's Committee began work when each member wrote all the people she knew in other states, recruiting active support and urging all hands to demand action from both the election and the judiciary committees.

Members of the election committee—Connally, Logan of Kentucky, Carey of Wyoming, Townsend of Delaware and Thomas of Utah—were interviewed, with no startling results Connally said it must be proved that Overton had a part in the perpetration of fraud and corruption.

The women redoubled efforts to make their cause a national issue and to keep up a constant barrage on senators The committee became a "national" committee, stressing everybody's interest in the senate's integrity

Membership blanks have been broadcast, pledging signers to work for rigorous senate investigation of Overton's election and Long's unfitness for office

All Democratic national committeewomen have been asked to join in prosecuting this "moral issue" and some have responded favorably. Mrs. Hammond has also contacted the heads of all large national women's organizations.

The Connally committee has a date to return to New Orleans, October 16th. The Women's Committee only asks that able investigators be sent back immediately so that the truth or falsity of the accusations against Long may be honestly and fearlessly ascertained.

The Parker charges which the women want checked include assertations that Long is "personally dishonest, corrupt and immoral" . . . "has created and maintained a system of corruption and debauchery unparalleled in the history of the state" . . . "made elections a farce" . . . "operated a system of racketeering . . . collecting money tribute for himself personally and his associates" . . . "escaped impeachment by bribery and other corrupt methods" . . . controls both legislature and the courts and "is the greatest menace to American decency and civilization."

Among the women associated with Mrs. Hammond are Mrs. James Craik Morris, wife of the Episcopalian bishop of Louisiana; Mrs. Ida Weiss Friend, nationally known clubwoman; Mrs. Martha Gasquet Westfeldt, of an old Louisiana family; Mrs. S. S. Labouisse, daughter of a former state supreme court justice; Miss Mary Railey, head of child welfare, and Miss Katherine Lebouisse of the Consumers' league.

"We don't want any more senatorial courtesy," says Mrs. Hammond. "We want to make the American people realize that the senate is the highest point of government, that it must not try to bury charges against a senator, and leave a state high and dry"

CODE IS ADOPTED BY GAS CONCERNS

The National Gas Products association, the members of which product more than 90 per cent of the carbon black manufactured in the United States, have adopted the following code:

"From and after the effective date, no employe engaged in the industry shall be employed for more than 1088 hours in any 26 week period. No employe shall be employed for more than 48 hours in any week, except maintenance and repair employes in case of emergencies.

"The following minimum wages are hereby established from and after the effective date:

"For factory and mechanical workers and artisans, 40 cents per hour; for clerical and office employes, 40 cents per hour. It is agreed that this paragraph establishes a guaranteed minimum rate of pay, regardless of whether the employe is compensated on the basis of time rate or on a piece-work basis.

"From and after said effective date, no producer shall charge a rental of more than $12 per month to any employe for any one family house, including water, gas and such other services as are customarily furnished by the producer without extra charge in connection therewith.

"No person under the age of 16 years shall be employed by the industry."

An old ordinance makes it illegal to wash a horse on the streets of Charlotte, N. C.

JUDGE MOORE IS SUIT DEFENDANT

Woman Seeks to Have West Monroe Court Decision Set Aside

Alleging an illegal decision on a sequestration suit filed in West Monroe city court, Mrs. Emma K. Catlett filed in district court here Saturday a suit against Judge Decker Moore of the West Monroe court seeking to have the decision set aside. In compliance with a plea contained in the suit, Judge David I. Garrett issued a writ of certiorari and prohibition, in which he ordered Judge Moore to turn over to him his court records in the case and restrained him from carrying out provisions of the decision until the case has been reviewed.

In her petition Mrs. Catlett set up that on June 3, 1933, she filed a suit against Ray Purcell to sequester 14 cows and calves and employed an attorney. She said the case was set for trial on June 13, but that her attorney was out of town on another case and that she appeared, through her husband, and asked for a continuance. Despite this fact and although the judge was absent, she alleged, the court refused a continuance, tried the case and rendered against her, in reconvention, a judgment of $80.

She stated that a motion for a new trial was filed by her attorney on June 14 and tried on June 21 and that on June 26 a new judgment was rendered without retrying the case and without giving notice that a retrial had been granted. In this instance, she said, the amount of judgment against her was fixed at $22. She charged that, without giving notice of the new judgment, the court had issued a writ to seize and sell two heifers on September 2. The writ granted by Judge Garrett prevented this writ from being carried out.

MEN'S CLOTHING TO BE COLORFUL

Stripes, plaids and checks will add to the colorfulness of the well dressed man's attire this fall, writes Herman Masur, of the firm of D. Masur and Sons, who is in the east on a fall buying trip. In contrast to the somber colors of the past season, will be the brighter hues of the fall of 1933. Wales checks are the leaders in the royal family style, which included plaids and stripes.

Other distinctive patterns for fall include: hound's tooth check, pin checks, tartan checks, gun club checks, club checks, hair line stripes, simple stripes, right and left hand diagonals, tartan plaids, windowpane plaids, checkerboard plaids, maniture herringbones, pyramid herringbones, drummond weaves, pebble and basket weaves.

There are four colors that are to be specially popular this fall for men's suits. These are haze blue, spice browns, gothic gray, and platinum gray.

Gothic gray is inspired by the fine old buildings which have been preserved from medieval times. It is said to appeal to men who always favor gray, but are tired of the somberness of jet. It is already popular in eastern universities.

Double breasted models are being shown more than ever before, and trousers are displayed with about the same widths and styles.

Mr. Masur stated that he is making heavy purchases and at prices that will be right. A considerable amount of same were made by buyers before the recent higher prices went into effect.

Arrangements Completed For Maccabees' Meeting

Arrangements have been completed for the meeting, to be followed by banquet, of Ouachita tent No. 54, Order of Maccabees, on Tuesday, September 5th at 8 p. m.

A class of five is to be admitted and Sir Knight Henry Gibbs has been named captain in connection with the initiation of this class. Sir Knight Henry Kihneman has charge of refreshments and he is said to assure a first class repast.

State Manager M. J. Bulger, of New Orleans, will attend and deliver an address. He also is to make a report of the national convention held last July in Detroit, Mich.

A gold nugget weighing nearly 51 ounces, one of the largest found in recent years, was discovered on Sheep creek near Wiseman, Alaska.

LABOR in the TWIN CITIES

By R. L. JOBE of Typographical Union

It seems that child labor is at last a thing of the past. Thursday was the last day that a child could legally be kept off the playground, to eke out a miserable existence in some sweatshop.

September 1 will go down in history, also, as the day of the abolition of the sweatshop. At last, the young-old workers in these hovels can enjoy a bit of sunshine instead of spending all their time cutting or stitching shirts, dresses, etc., for from 10 to 16 hours a day for a mere pittance. Under the blanket code children over 16 may work eight hours, giving the first leisure some of them have enjoyed since almost their babyhood.

It is estimated by officials of NRA that around 1,000,000 employers are pledged to employ no children under the age of 16. This will release from industry some 197,600 children between the ages of 10 to 15 years. If Franklin Roosevelt did not do another thing, the abolition of the sweatshop and of child-slavery more than compensate his efforts to aid his country.

Ouachita Citizen's Lee Hawkins and NRA committeeman from the west side tells me of a questionnaire that is to be presented to Ouachita parish employers within the next few days. This questionnaire is to ascertain the numbers of persons re-employed, trades, names, dates, etc. Chamber of Commerce's S. H. McClary has charge of the questionnaires.

"Let us not forget. The greatest benefit that can come to the workers from the industrial recovery act is to organize. In every industry which comes under this law employers are prevented from interfering with their employers in joining a labor union, organizing or assisting to organize, or choosing their own representatives. It is only through organization that the workers will have a voice in fixing maximum hours, minimum wages and conditions of employment. Any employer who objects to his employes joining a union, or in any way interferes with an employe exercising the rights extended under the law, will be subject to a fine of $500. And each tme he interferes will be a separate offense.

"CHAS. P. HOWARD.
"President, International Typographical union."

Guy Holloway Is Back From Fair at Chicago

Upon his arrival here yesterday from A Century of Progress exposition at Chicago, State Representative Guy H. Holloway of Union parish, declared that besides viewing the wonders expressed in the various expositions that "I did not see a single intoxicated or disorderly person during the two weeks that I spent there."

Mr. Holloway was impressed mostly with the workmanship of ancient arts in respect to those of modern times and spent quite a part of his visit viewing the relics displayed in the advancement of man throughout the ages.

"I saw many pieces of pottery and metal work as well as architecture that rival the moderns in design, art and usefulness," he said.

"This exposition in its greatness is hardly describable. Millions of people are there, coming and going faster than they can be counted. Curious to know how many persons would pass in a minute I stopped on a corner to count the visitors, but it was impossible as I soon lost count in the continual stream of humanity."

Mr. Holloway said he would like to have stayed longer but with the rumor of an extra session of legislature he thought it best to be home and ready for the session. He returned to Farmerville following his visit here.

COLUMBIA WOMAN SUES STORE HERE

Mrs. W. H. Mecom Seeks to Collect $20,000 From Palace

Suit for $20,000 was filed in district court Saturday by Mrs. Norrine Mecom of Columbia against the Palace department store. A companion suit for $1,530.75 was filed by William H. Mecom, husband of Mrs. Mecom. Both suits were in connection with alleged injuries received by Mrs. Mecom when she fell while in the store on September 8, 1932.

In her suit, Mrs. Mecom set up that she came to Monroe on a shopping trip and that she visited the Palace store. As she was leaving the elevator to enter the ladies' ready-to-wear department, she alleged, she tripped over a large rubber mat said to have been rolled and left lying on the floor in a walkway.

In an effort to prevent herself from falling, Mrs. Mecom said, she put a sudden and great strain on her muscles, causing excruciating pain, but despite this fact, she fell to the floor. She said that after resting for an hour in the store, she was taken to the home of her mother, Mrs. J. C. Zeigler, 1409 Fairview avenue, where she remained in bed an hour and a half longer before being returned to Columbia.

According to the petition, Mrs. Mecom continued to suffer and on December 22 was brought to Monroe and given an X-ray examination, in which it was determined that her right kidney had been torn loose. On March 27, 1933, she underwent an operation for the purpose of having the kidney anchored.

Mrs. Mecom asked $15,000 for physical injury and the necessity of having an operation, and $5,000 for pain and suffering. Her husband asked $1,530.75 for medical expenses.

THEFT REPORTED

Theft of the extra wheel and tire from his automobile was reported to police headquarters Saturday night by Louis Cosper, 1900 Jackson street.

New Prices!

Effective Today

KENT'S Bes-made ICE CREAM

Factory Prices

Pints 15c Quarts 30c

Quarts Delivered 35c

Available in These Flavors—Vanilla, Chocolate, Strawberry, Pecan Crunch, Black Walnut Banana Nut, Fruit Salad, Tutti Fruitti, French Nougat, Orange-Pineapple, Lemon Custard, Butter Scotch, Peach, English Taffe, Butter-Krumbles.

DOUBLE-DIP ICE CREAM CONES 5c

Drive out and bring the kids.

Excellent Curb Service

DAIRY PRODUCTS CO.

806 South Grand St.

"Home of Kent's Bes-Made Ice Cream"

NRA MEMBER U.S. WE DO OUR PART

MASTER BARBERS

Have Come Under the NRA 100% at a Meeting August 6th

Beginning September 1st the undersigned shops will be running under a code of fair competition approved by the President.

Beginning September 1st, 1933, our prices for hair cut will be Fifty Cents.

Clouatre Barber Shop
Roy Russell Barber Shop
A. C. Saxon, West Monroe
A. O. Russell, West Monroe
A. A. Bell
J. L. Medaries, West Monroe
Alvis Hotel Barber Shop
Anzaione Barber Shop
Johnson Bros. Barber Shop
E. L. Wright, Frances Hotel
J. O. Pilcher Barber Shop
A. B. Hearne
Black Front Barber Shop
F. U. Collie
W. D. Baugh
Spencer Bros.
Dallas Cain
Baldwin and Dongieux
Hotel Kersh Barber Shop
J. B. Glass
J. B. McCov. Hotel Virginia
E. N. Johnson
Cole Barber Shop
J. L. Johnston
C. V. Moudy
S. Russell
Frank Williams

Watch For The Blue Eagle

NEW ROOFS FOR OLD

Why rip off your old shingles, litter up your yard with dirt, or go to a lot of needless expense?

YOU CAN LAY

GENASCO LATITE SHINGLES

over your old wood or asphalt shingles

THEY ARE LOCKED ON

Phone or Write

WEAKS SUPPLY CO., LTD.

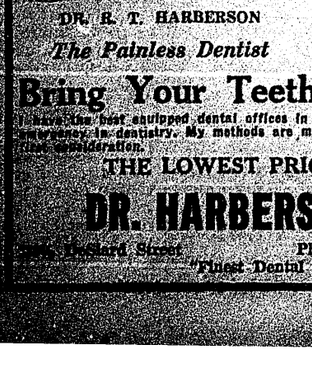
Phone 22 Monroe, La.

Perfect Bridgework

That will last as long as your teeth do and require no attention.

ALSO GOLD CROWNS

$5



DR. R. T. HARBERSON

The Painless Dentist

ROOFLESS PLATE

MY OWN INVENTION

I guarantee this Plate under any and all conditions without reserve

Made without a roof. These plates fit like a kid glove and will not drop or roll. Patients from other states come to me for them. Other dentists would charge you $100 if they could make them.

My Price Only $25

Other Plates 10, 15, $20

Hecolite Plates $30

Bring Your Teeth Troubles to Me

I have the best equipped dental offices in the city and am prepared to meet every emergency in dentistry. My methods are modern and painless. Your feelings are my first consideration.

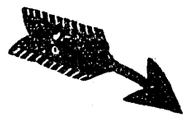
THE LOWEST PRICES IN THE CITY

DR. HARBERSON, DENTIST

Over Leonard Street Phone 1781 Monroe, La.

"Finest Dental Office South"

THIS PARTY WANTS FURNISHED ROOMS



Wanted to Rent 39

WANTED — Three-bedroom furnished home. Also unfurnished home. North side. Reasonable. Write Box W, care News-Star—World.

He Used This Ad

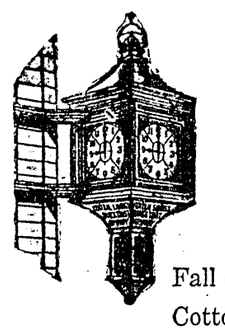
NRA MEMBER U.S. WE DO OUR PART

Why Don't You Reply to His Request Thru the Want Ad Column? . . . .

PHONE 4800

LIST YOUR ROOMS

Make Them Earn Money For You . . . .



As time goes on--

Fall coming on;
Cotton coming in;
N. R. A. coming along;
U. R. C. coming across;
Prosperity coming up;
Unemployment coming down;
So—

How about YOU coming around to build up that old bank balance and those friendly relations again?

We're expecting you.

Central Savings Bank & Trust Co.

NRA MEMBER U.S. WE DO OUR PART

We will be closed Monday account of Labor Day

BASTROP IS READY FOR KIWANIS MEET

City Takes On Gala Appearance On Eve of Convention

BASTROP, La., Sept. 2.—(Special)—Two hundred Kiwanians from Louisiana and Mississippi are expected to attend the fifteenth annual convention of the Louisiana-Mississippi Kiwanis convention which will begin here Sunday and continue through Tuesday. An elaborate program has been arranged for the occasion.

Features of the first day Sunday will be a golf tournament beginning at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the country club, a buffet supper Sunday evening and an inspirational church service and musicale at the Baptist church Sunday night. All ministers in the city will take part in this service, which is to be a union service of all churches in honor of the Kiwanians. Music will be furnished by a united choir of the city and the address of the evening will be delivered by Fred Williamson, president of the Monroe Kiwanis club.

The business sessions will begin Monday morning at 9 o'clock at the Rose theater, with John K. McDowall of Jackson, Miss., district governor, presiding. The address of welcome will be delivered by Mayor J. R. Ludlum and the response will be given by R. B. Roessle of New Orleans. The report of the program committee will be given by Isaac Chapman of Bastrop, general convention chairman.

One of the feature addresses will be delivered by Harold C. Hippler of Eustis, Fla., a trustee of Kiwanis international. Two films, one on underprivileged child work and the other showing the details of the recent International Kiwanis convention at Los Angeles, will be shown at the Monday sessions.

Elaborate entertainment features have been arranged, which will include luncheons Monday and Tuesday, a barbecue Monday evening, visit to the paper mills, a dance, a breakfast bridge for ladies and other entertainment.

Bastrop today began taking on a holiday appearance as the town is being decorated with flags and banners for the convention.

The program for the convention is as follows:

Sunday

11 a.m.—Registration, Louisiana hotel lobby.

1:30 p.m.—Golf tournament, Morehouse Country club.

5 p.m.—Executive committee meeting.

6:30 p.m.—Buffet supper for golfers and other Kiwanians, Morehouse Country club. Awarding of prizes.

8 p.m.—Inspirational service and musicale, Baptist church.

Monday

7:30 a.m.—Breakfast conference for club presidents, vice presidents, lieutenant governors, directors and any other interested Kiwanians, dining room Louisiana hotel, E. Q. Withers, president Columbus, Miss., club, presiding.

7:30 a.m.—Breakfast conference for club secretaries, directors and any other interested Kiwanians, coffee shop Louisiana hotel, H. E. Bush, secretary Brookhaven, Miss., club, presiding.

8 a.m.—Registration, Louisiana hotel lobby. Opening convention session, Governor John K. McDowall, presiding, at Rose theater.

9 a.m.—Singing, led by Kiwanian Alvin H. Doty, Jackson, Miss.

9:10 a.m.—Call to order.

America.

God Save the King.

Invocation—Rev. D. L. O'Neal, Bastrop.

9:15 a.m.—Address of welcome, Kiwanian J. R. Ludlum, mayor of Bastrop. Response, R. B. Roessle, New Orleans, immediate past governor.

9:25 a.m.—Report of program committee, Kiwanian Isaac Chapman, general chairman of the convention committee.

9:35 a.m.—Introduction of district and international officers.

9:45 a.m.—Report of district secretary-treasurer, Geo. B. Power.

9:55—Music.

10 a.m.—Reports of lieutenant governors: Lieut. Governor F. K. Hirsch, North Louisiana division, 10 minutes; Lieut. Governor T. C. Kimbrough, N. Mississippi division, 10 minutes; Lieut. Governor C. E. Klumb, S. Mississippi division, 10 minutes; Lieut. Governor T. B. Dupree, S. Louisiana division, 10 minutes.

10:40 a.m.—Governor's message, John K. McDowall.

11:10 a.m.—"Kiwanis Objectives," by International Trustee C. Harold Hippler, Eustis, Fla.

11:40 a.m.—Singing.

11:45 a.m.—Announcement of committees on resolutions, credentials, elections and any special committees.

12 a.m.—Adjournment.

12:15 p.m.-1:15—Fellowship luncheon Bastrop high school, sponsored by the Oxford, Miss., club, President Dan T. Keel, presiding.

Second convention session Rose theater:

1:30 p.m.—Divisional conferences.

1:45 p.m.—Convention singing, led by Alvin H. Doty.

1:50 p.m.—Report of club presidents, open forum, discussion on club problems.

2:50 p.m.—"Highlights of the Los Angeles Convention," F. K. Hirsch, lieutenant governor N. Louisiana division.

Entertainment.

3:20 p.m.—"Underprivileged Child Work," Dr. John Young, past president Greenville, Miss., club.

3:50 p.m.—Singing.

3:55 p.m.—Announcement of representatives selected by divisions for the conference for recommendations on nominations.

4 p.m.—Adjournment. Sight-seeing tour over city, visit to paper mills, chemical plant and other industries. Cars will be waiting in front of grammar school.

6 p.m.—Barbecue at Sterlington power plant.

9 p.m.—Governor's ball and entertainment, Morehouse Country club.

Tuesday

Final convention session, Rose theater:

9:30 a.m.—Convention singing.

Invocation, Rev. W. R. Harvell, Bastrop.

9:35 a.m.—"Kiwanis—Past, Present and Future," by Dr. C. A. Ives, Baton Rouge, La., past governor.

10 a.m.—In memoriam.

10:05 a.m.—Entertainment.

10 a.m.—"The New Deal a Challenge to Kiwanis," Kiwanian Charles Cameron, Meridian, Miss., a past governor.

10:30 a.m.—Report of committees.

11 a.m.—Election of officers for 1934. Selection of convention city for next year. Introduction of officers elect. Unfinished business. Adjournment.

12:15 p.m.—Fellowship luncheon Bastrop high school, sponsored by Monroe Kiwanis club, President Fred Williamson, presiding.

OZONE WATER

Purity Unexcelled

Under constant supervision of Health Department.

25c Per five gallons delivered to homes and business houses.

OZONE WATER COMPANY

T. B. MIMS, Mgr.

Monroe, La.

Phone 2656

Consumers of Electricity

TAKE NOTICE

SAVE 10%

Note carefully the date printed in green ink on your statement and be sure to pay your bill within 10 days from that date.

DELINQUENT ACCOUNTS NOT ENTITLED TO ABOVE DISCOUNT

CITY OF MONROE

Light and Water Dept.

KIWANIS CLUB PRESIDENT

Sol Snyder, above, is head of the Kiwanis club at Bastrop, where delegates from the Louisiana-Mississippi district will gather today for a three-day convention.

LONG WIELDS BIG STICK IN SCHOOLS

(Continued from First Page)

regime at this time. One one memorable occasion the state superintendent exhibited signs of revolt, but was sobered by second thought and again took his place in the political house built by Senator Long. His department associates are of the same political faith, largely through allegiance to their chief and not from individual choice, it appears. The death or resignation of Mr. Harris would send most of these school workers into the opposition political camp over night.

Mr. Harris is the only state department head to voluntarily cut the expenses of his office, including his own salary. All of the others have raised them. The state board of education fixed Mr. Harris' salary at $7,500 per year, which conformed to law. The superintendent cut it to $6,000 and made a general ten per cent slash in his department costs. Because, as stated, this is the only example of its kind in the history of the Long-Allen regime, it stands out like a lone star on a cloudy night.

Records at Baton Rouge show receipts of $37,055.61 by the state department of education for the quarter ending June 30 last and expenditures of $27,535.21. For some unexplained reason, however, the salary list of the department appears in the disbursements of only one of the months of the quarter. Inquiry made about this omission produced the statement that it was probably due to the bank situation, as the salaries were certainly paid.

Among the disbursements listed is distribution of the John F. Slator fund for negro education, among thirty-seven parish superintendents, as follows: J. M. Barker, $200; H. A. Buie, $75; E. R. Hanchey, $100; E. H. Fisher, $75; R. V. Kerr, $50; John S. Patton, $50; J. S. Burris, $50; S. M. Shows, $100; H. J. Wooldridge, $75; L. G. Porter, $75; L. P. Terrebonne, $75; J. W. Faulk, $100; H. L. Campbell, $75; E. L. Neville, $100; E. D. Shaw, $50; E. A. Lee, $50; E. E. Keebler, $50; G. C. Reeves, $50; W. B. Prescott, $50; L. A. Law, $50; C. C. Pittman, $75; V. C. Rives, $100; F. L. Reed, $50; E. S. Richardson, $100; S. C. Shaw, $120; W. J. Avery, $75; D. E. Sikes, $200; H. W. Wright, $250.

Employes of the state department of education consist largely of supervisory heads and their division associates.

Here is the list:

Name	Monthly salary
Thos. H. Harris	$500.00
Charles P. Trudeau	300.00
W. A. Sizesmore	270.00
John E. Lombard	300.00
A. M. Hopper	300.00
John E. Coxe	270.00
M. S. Robertson	270.00
A. C. Lewis	300.00
S. M. Jackson	300.00
Clyde Mobley	300.00
Lela Thompson	210.00
A. Larriviere	270.00
E. G. Ludke	300.00
S. B. Jones	270.00
Rex Breard	187.50
Mrs. Rex Breard	118.75
Mrs. D. W. Dearing	142.50
Alice Brown	128.75
Mrs. A. C. Hensley	118.75
Frances Irvine	118.75
Annie Ruth Gray	114.00
Helene Stiffe	225.00
Lois F. Shortess	300.00
Landon Blackshear	118.75
*John M. Foote	300.00
Leo M. Favrot	95.00
C. L. Barrow	270.00
Mrs. L. P. Root	123.50
Mrs. W. W. DeGrummond	95.00
Chris Berthelson	80.00

*In charge of text book division.

Mr. Favrot's salary is $300 per month. Of this sum, $95 is paid from the text book fund and the balance from a special educational fund.

The majority of his division heads have been with Mr. Harris through several administrations. There have been some minor changes in the office personnel; but, as far as could be discovered, none was made for political reasons. Naturally, Mr. Harris' aides have invariably followed his political fortunes. When he ran on the anti-Long ticket in 1928, they were anti-Long; when he was placed on the "complete the work" ticket in 1932, they transferred their allegiance to the present regime.

Some of the state superintendent's close political friends explain his pro-Long affiliation as solely one of expediency. He has no natural alliance, they say, with the present regime. Nevertheless, they predict, he will stick.

"Harris wants money for the schools," is the way one close associate explained it, "and if he breaks with Long he won't get it. I firmly believe that when Mr. Harris made his Lake Charles speech in which he attacked manipulation of state school funds by unscrupulous politicians, he had been stung into open resentment by fiscal outrages committed at Baton Rouge. But, when pressed for a more detailed statement, Mr. Harris generalized his charges, making them apply to political and fiscal officers everywhere. The whole state thought the superintendent was speaking of Baton Rouge conditions when he addressed the P. T. A. convention at Lake Charles; indeed, his attack would have been purposeless otherwise. But his subsequent explanation, made in response to a letter of inquiry from a Baton Rouge state representative, did not confirm that impression.

"The fact is that Mr. Harris, viciously fought by Huey Long in 1928, and warmly supported by him in 1932, is a school man. It is his duty to get funds for the public schools wherever he can get them. At this time, they may only be provided by Long and Allen. But, shift the scenes and see what will happen. While the Harris-Long entente is now air tight, it wouldn't last an hour in my opinion if the senior senator lost control of school funds, through a revolt of the legislature or an upheaval of public sentiment."

In short, the general Baton Rouge verdict about the allegiance of Senator Long and Mr. Harris is that it is unnatural and purely self-protective on the part of the state superintendent. Meanwhile, however, through his appointive power and the dual-office holding of the secretary of state, Senator Long appears to have his hand on the throttle in the state board of education.

ALBRITTON TRANSFERRED

Charged in Quitman, Miss., with criminal assault, J. M. Albritton, 55, was released Saturday by members of the sheriff's department here to officers from Quitman. When arrested about a week ago Albritton, after consulting a lawyer, said he would not return without being extradited. Extradition papers were signed Thursday by Gov. O. K. Allen.

Fully 1,000 blue eagles have been distributed from the office of Acting Postmaster J. R. Wooten. He stated Saturday that he is to receive 200 more eagles which he anticipates will be all that will be required for local distribution.

MEETING IS HELD BY SCOUT BOARDS

Review Is Conducted For Various Merit Badges Friday

All troops of the Ouachita parish district, Boy Scouts of America, conducted boards of review at the regular troop meetings Friday night, under the direction of troop committees. Scouts approved by the boards of review were certified to the parish court of honor.

Troop Committeemen L. L. Langford, L. B. Gannaway, V. S. Garnett, Ira Castle, Jr., and H. O. Horton of troop 34, sponsored by the Methodist church of Monroe, conducted the review of 13 scouts for various merit badges and certified them to the awarding court of honor. The meeting was opened with the scouts committing themselves to the scout oath. Scoutmaster C. J. Fleming supervised the scouts not coming before the board of review in a number of scout games.

Troop 29, sponsored by the First Baptist church of Monroe, will have a number of scouts before the court of honor for second class, first class and merit badges and has made plans to complete its board of review Monday night. A portion of the troop meeting program Friday evening was given over to practice on the scout play, "Bill Decides," which will be presented at the court of honor. Assistant Scoutmaster B. H. Myers is directing the play.

Under the leadership of Troop Committeeman R. B. Corn, troop 55, at the Baptist children's home, completed the review of five candidates for the first class rank, two for second class and several for merit badges. This is the first time troop 55 has had scouts prepared to appear before the court of honor for the award of higher ranks and every member of the troop looks forward to the meeting with keen anticipation.

Troop Committeemen S. A. Collins, T. W. Leigh and Charles O. Rodrigues conducted the board of review for troop 31, sponsored by Grace Episcopal church, and approved five scouts for the second class rank and one for first class rank, one scout will also come before the court of honor for various merit badges.

Troop 65, sponsored by the Missouri Pacific Booster club, approved two scouts for the second class rank and one for merit badges. Troop Committeemen J. P. Roquemore and S. A. Moss conducted the board of review. A number of candidates will also be invested with the tenderfoot rank.

Plans were completed for a trip to Hot Springs, Ark., for the entire troop, leaving Sept. 11, and the boys are looking forward to the trip with keen anticipation.

Troop Committeemen Louis Hoffpauir and Myatt McClendon were in charge of the board of review for Troop 51 of West Monroe. This troop is sponsored by the Methodist church. Among other awards to be made at the court of honor will be the award of the eagle badge to Scout Billy Torrey. The eagle rank is the highest rank in scouting. A number of candidates for the tenderfoot rank will be invested at the court of honor.

Troop Committeeman H. B. Miles took charge of the review of scouts of troop 13, sponsored by the First Baptist church of West Monroe, and a number of scouts were certified to the court of honor for the award of various badges. Plans were made to complete certain features of the review which were not completed at the meeting Friday.

Troop No. 27, sponsored by St. Matthew's church, will have two scouts to present to the court for the second class rank and a number for tenderfoot. A part of the Friday evening program was given over to preparation of a demonstration to be presented during the mobilization of scout October 7.

Troop 37 will have five scouts to present to the court of honor for advancement.

The court of honor will be held at the Ouachita parish high school September 8, and every troop in the district will attend. Parents and friends of scouts are especially invited to attend.

RODEO IS STAGED IN WEST MONROE

Professional Riders Join In Show at Major McGuire Park

Professionals from several states participated in the rodeo which opened a three days' engagement at Major McGuire park in West Monroe with a performance last night. There was a good crowd in attendance and the various acts were such as to elicit much applause from the assemblage. There is to be a similar performance held at 3 p.m. today, and the concluding program is slated for 8 p.m. Monday.

The order of events at each of the performances is as follows: grand entry, introduction of judges, introduction of clowns, bronc riding, calf roping, steer riding, horseback square dance, bulldogging, clown acts, wild cow milking, steer races, bareback bronc riding and slick riding.

Among the contestants who are here to participate in the rodeo are Eddie Cameron of Houston, Texas, Mason Romain of Houston, G. W. Wagers of Conroe, Texas, Joe Whitman of Clarksville, Texas, Roy Johnson of Conroe, Texas.

Cameron and Mason will leave here Tuesday for St. Louis to take part in a big rodeo to be staged there, and from there are to go to New York to take part in the rodeo classic that is to be held in Madison Square Garden. They rank among the best of professional talent in their line, it was stated.

Officers of the rodeo association in West Monroe are as follows: President, W. C. Feazel; vice president, R. P. Benson; secretary-treasurer, P. O. Clark

Your Eyesight

Most priceless organ of your anatomy. If you have never been fitted to your satisfaction with proper glasses, call and have

Dr. Friedman

test your eyes. He is the best known optometrist in North Louisiana and his work is always under guarantee. Office at Dr. Ruba Henry's reception room, over D. Masur & Sons. Cor. DeSiard-Grand Sts., Monroe

NOTICE

All painters in Monroe and vicinity are requested to meet at Courthouse Square, at 9 A. M. Monday to participate in Labor Day parade.

LOCAL UNION 901

By L. L. Thompson, Rec. Sec'y.

Ford Motor Company
Dearborn, Mich.

One main purpose through thick and thin

Henry Ford
Dearborn, Mich.

In the last 30 years, 800 makes of cars have come and gone.

Of all the automobile companies that were making cars in 1903, less than a dozen remain. And of these only a few are the original companies. One of these is the Ford.

We mention this because, if you know the other original names, you will recognize that each stands for something definite in the motor car world—not just a car, but a very distinct kind and quality of car.

That is to say, the car that was designed to fill a definite place, to do a certain thing, and that pursued its objective through all the ups and downs of change—that car lived!

If you just make something to sell, you would be better employed doing something else. But if you make something that will do a specific thing and do it well, then you are helping people.

We have had just one main purpose during these years, and that is to give the people transportation of the most dependable quality at the lowest possible cost.

We have followed that purpose through thick and thin. Our car was called "the universal car" 30 years ago, because it fulfilled so many needs; it is "the universal car" today for the same reason.

We have never been greatly excited about yearly models. Whenever we developed and tested an improvement, we added it to the car without delay. The Ford car is in a continuous state of growth. For 15 years we did not introduce a single new model, but the changes and improvements that were constantly made on the model that was current through that period, were equivalent to many new models.

But the changes were made to improve the car, not to persuade people that they ought to buy a new car every year. The car we make does not need to be cast aside every year. At any period a customer buys, he gets the best we have.

Our objective is just—transportation for the people; the best quality at the lowest cost. Nothing but that. Not even the highest sales record—that has always come without seeking. Not even the highest financial return—that, too, has always come, and, we are glad to say, flowed immediately out again for wages, materials and taxes.

But these are not our main quest. Our main purpose—our constant intention—our major ambition is to make a car that will become more and more useful, and more and more easy to obtain, to more and more people.

September 1, 1933

Henry Ford

EDITORIAL PAGE OF THE MORNING WORLD

Monroe Morning World

AND NEWS-STAR

FOUNDED OCTOBER 20, 1929, BY HUBERT EWING

Published Every Morning Except Monday by NEWS-STAR—WORLD PUBLISHING COMPANY
110-114 North Second Street

JOHN D. EWING ..... Publisher
WILSON EWING ..... Associate Publisher
J. M. MYATT ..... General Manager

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

	Daily and Sun. News Star	Daily and Sun. Combination	Daily and Sun. World
Week	20c	30c	20c
1 Month	75c	1.25	75c
3 Months	2.15	3.75	2.15
6 Months	4.00	7.00	4.00
1 Year	7.50	12.00	7.50

THE BRANHAM CO., National Advertising Representative. Offices: New York, Chicago, Atlanta, Dallas, Detroit, St. Louis, Kansas City, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Entered as second-class matter at the Monroe (La.) postoffice December 10, 1929 under the Act of March 3, 1879.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published herein.

HOW TO CALL THE NEWS-STAR or MORNING WORLD
By Telephone

All Departments (daily except Sunday) 4800
After 8 p. m.
Business Office ..... 3253 Mail Room 3253
Editorial Room ..... 3268 or 4723 All day Sunday 3253

The Monroe Morning World is an independent newspaper. It prints the news impartially. It supports what it believes to be right. It opposes what it believes to be wrong without regard to party politics.

Faith Triumphant Over Fear

When President Roosevelt, during his inaugural address last March, declared that "fear is the most dangerous and dominant emotion in America today," he placed his finger on the real difficulty which has confronted the nation in its troublous experiences in recent years. The president enunciated a text which should be kept before the public mind. In estimating the new deal in our political, social and economic affairs, we must remember that unless we can overcome the fear which has gripped the hearts of the people in this country, we are not likely to accomplish anything permanent by way of recovery. The success of the NRA program must be gauged by the extent to which the nation can throw off the restraining and deadening bands of unreasoning and insensate fear.

Fear has been the scourge, the evil, at the root of most of the troubles which have afflicted mankind from the dawn of history. It has gripped man in a vise so vicious and deadly that it has poisoned and warped and thwarted his life. It has stood at the open door of his life where from and whereto rightful and good things are made to pass. It has killed and maimed generous and inherent impulses; it has stifled the natural and true life of man. Abolish fear and there is no limit to the attainments of mankind in the pursuit of liberty and happiness.

The Great Teacher who instructed his disciples on the shores of Galilee enunciated a gospel that was the very antithesis of teachings which previously had prevailed for centuries. Men had been taught that fear was the basis of worship. Constantly the Nazarene stressed the words, "Fear not." He came with a gospel that radically and absolutely denounced the power or the reality of fear in men's lives.

Fear produces the seeds of defeat and destruction. To be afraid in the midst of all the possibilities and opportunities that offer enriching experiences in life is to hamper and discourage the fullness of living. The Master said, "I came that they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly." That is not possible if men's minds and hearts are actuated and controlled by the spirit of fear. There is nothing to fear on the part of the human soul who has implicit trust in the assurance, "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on thee."

It is that assurance which scores of men and women have neglected and forgotten in the trying experiences that have come upon the world. And it can be stated with conviction that it is because mankind has ignored those spiritual concepts of life they have come upon evil times. Fear begets selfishness and self-seeking, the principles which have stimulated men and women to think they could work out their salvation by their own puny efforts. It is selfishness that has made people establish their own idols of wealth and circumstance—gods of ambition, which they vainly imagined would be sources of succor in time of distress. When the time of distress came, and human beings, inspired by fear, sought aid from their gods of selfish materialism, they found that the idols were only unstable creations of clay—not the silver and gold and precious stones of righteousness and character and spiritual understanding of the immutable laws of the Almighty.

Faith, the opposite of fear, is the saving grace that affords hope for mankind in every experience. In order not to fear we must have faith that "with God all things are possible," and that "if ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say to this mountain, 'Remove hence to yonder place,' and it shall remove, and nothing shall be impossible to you." The mountains of difficulty which men have created in their own minds through the exercise of fear are responsible for the distress that afflicts mankind today. Only through faith and the overcoming of fear can those mountains be removed.

What our great president is doing today is to instil into the hearts of the people of America a faith in his integrity, fearlessness and courage in carrying out his program for the national recovery. After that we must know that freedom, the absence of fear, is an individual matter. As each individual grows, as his concept of the reality of life becomes formed through a process of self-realization—an understanding of the spiritual forces within him that are part of the divine—he will lose all sense of fear. He will become invincible in triumphing over the adversities of life. Only through faith, not fear, can he come to "the fullness of the stature of a man."

More Truth Than Poetry

By JAMES A. MONTAGUE

A NOTE OF ALARM

Skeeter on the window pane,
Weevil gnawing at the wheat,
Fly with microscopic brain,
Microbe swarming on the street.
You were made without a mind
You've been useless from your birth,
But some day perhaps we'll find
That you'll drive us off the earth.

Through time's immemorial flight
No advantages you've had;
You can neither read nor write,
You cannot subtract nor add;
But, despite your lack of wit,
While the centuries passed by,
One in fairness must admit
You knew how to multiply.

Man has sought, since Adam's day,
Planning early, toiling late,
While you calmly took your way,
Your vast ranks to decimate.
Traps and poisons, lethal drugs
In your pathway he has set,
Yet the swarming horde of bugs
Triumphs, undefeated, yet.

Man can reason, man can think;
He has mastered mighty tools;
He invented printer's ink,
He has built a million schools,
But the race is to the strong
And it seems to me quite clear
That before so very long
You will drive us off the sphere.

THE CLEAN-UP BOY

And still the record for getting where he started without any fuss or trouble belongs to Charlie Lindbergh.

LABOR OF HERCULES

One of the big jobs of the suburbanite is borrowing back from the neighbors the garden tools the neighbors have borrowed from him.

ADD TO THINGS YOU NEVER HEAR

"Hurrah," shouted the ten-year-old, "I'll soon be able to go back to school again."

(Copyright, 1933, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Hungry Man Robs

By BRUCE CATTON

There are times when fixing the blame for human actions is a task almost too complicated for human knowledge.

Consider, for example, this little story from Cleveland, Ohio.

In that city there lived an unemployed man who had a wife and five small children. He couldn't get a job and he had no money, and the food supplies that were furnished him by an over-taxed city welfare department didn't provide his youngsters with the sort of diet children ought to have.

So, in his back yard, he started a vegetable garden. Since he couldn't find a job he could put in all his time on this garden, and he developed a pretty good one. He developed a lot of fine tomato plants, which was a good thing because his children needed tomatoes.

* * *

Then he began to notice that marauders were visiting his garden at night and looting it. His tomato plants got torn up. The green stuffs that were to make his children strong and healthy vanished.

The gardener stayed up nights to watch. One dark night he saw a prowler crawling through his fence. He raised a stick he had and clubbed the prowler on the head with all his strength. The prowler collapsed, was taken to a hospital; a little later he died, and the man who had tried to defend his garden was put in jail.

And it developed that the prowler was himself a jobless man who had been driven almost frantic by his need for food.

* * *

Now how are you going to weight out the blame in a case like that?

Technically, the man who owned the garden committed manslaughter, at the very least.

Technically, the man who lost his life was a sneak thief of the meanest variety.

But the man who wielded the club was simply trying to defend the right of his children to get the food they needed; and the man who tried to steal was simply obeying the demands of an empty stomach—which are about the most imperious demands any mortal ever hears.

Assessing the rightful portions of blame in a case like this seems to call for more wisdom and understanding than most of us will ever possess.

So They Say

We have entirely too many governments in the United States. Nobody knows exactly how many there are, but counting the federal, state, county and city governments, the school districts, the moth and mosquito districts, and whatnot, we have a total of between 250,000 and 500,000 governments.—Prof. S. E. Leland, University of Chicago.

* * *

The battlefield is for man what motherhood is for a woman. Mothers must give themselves to the bearing of children and fathers must fall on the battlefield to assure a future for their sons.—Franz von Papen of Germany.

* * *

Dogs are the most affectionate of animals—the only animals that prefer the company of man to their own kind. Cats can't be trusted a second.—Dr. Glenn Adams, Cincinnati dog fancier.

* * *

However good a dictatorship may be, however, constructive and convenient, it always compromises the future because it leaves as a legacy, disorder.—Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles of Mexico.

* * *

Only men of indubitable courage dare to be economists in this year of 1933.—Chancellor Elmer Brown, New York university.

BARBS

Notre Dame opens the football season this fall at Kansas university on October 7, which happens to be Boy Scout day. Halfbacks will be inspired to do a good turn on every spinner play.

* * *

France, the nation that vociferously defends the gold standard, would like to pay the interest on her war debt but cannot because she needs the gold.

* * *

That expression of frozen horror slowly extending over the map of Europe is caused by the realization that Uncle Sam is a sucker no longer.

* * *

President Roosevelt insisted that economic conferences stick to economics so Europe had to recall her politicians.

* * *

Gold standard ideas of the fro—French—would be more attractive if the frogs weren't the biggest welchers of all.

How About Everything

By E. W. HOWE

Slouches everywhere who neglect their work have it in them to do about as well as anybody.

There ae millions of slouches in this country now who might beat the present champion, The Depression, if they would try. Men will cease to be slouches, loafers, bandits, drunkards, killers, when they learn these habits do not pay. That these habits cannot be made to pay is the surest thing in the world. Whether we shall ever be able to learn this truth, I do not know; in fact, I am rather discouraged.

I have traveled many wrong roads, and been compelled to turn back. Early men found a world without ruts, and were compelled to venture more with less experience. Their venturing discovered and established the present easier highways we call beaten paths. . . . I have profound respect for beaten paths, as entries in a guide book. If a beaten path has difficulties, travelers soon encounter a plain sign so declaring, with a finger pointing out the best detour.

I have long been interested in a man I see at intervals of four or five months. (As a matter of fact, he is my son, now more than forty-five years old). I wish to pay him the highest compliment one man may pay another. Being my son, he has many weaknesses, but every time I see him I am able to remark that he has decreased the number a little, or more carefully hidden them. His general average in intelligence is a little better; his conversation a little less tiresome His general attitude toward me is a little better, and I am a little better satisfied with him.

A little improvement, persisted in, is enough. Knowing myself and others, I do not expect too much, and cheer a reasonable average.

When I meet a man on road, street, farm, in shop or office, I can usually understand him, but if I meet him in a book, or when he is speaking in public, I have found, as a general rule, he uses bigger words and expressions than I have been accustomed to. In trying to understand him, I finally become indifferent, and do not care much what he says. . . . I am able to understand only the natural, simple things I have long been accustomed to; it is the way I have learned, and can do no better And I do not apologize much, believing the apology should come from the other man.

The first thing I remember is that ours was a farm family called Howe, and that I was called Ed. to distinguish me from a brother Jim, who arrived earlier. Next I heard of a school and a church in the neighborhood which we all attended with some reluctance. Probably a little later I first heard the neighbors talk about a town a considerable distance away, and which they liked to visit, that they might tell tales of its wonders. (An elaboration of this talk about the town included occasional references to a place called the city, which most of the neighbors themselves had only heard of.)

I estimate I was around five years old at that time, and at six began hearing of a still greater thing, still further away and more mysterious than the town or the city. The neighbors called it The World.

Since the old Sugar Creek days, now seventy-five years in the past, I have visited the town, the city and the world, but the facts have not much changed. There has been elaboration, but Sugar Creek facts merged naturally into town facts, town facts into city facts, and city facts into world facts.

Life has never been a very great wonder to me; its mysteries have soon explained themselves. The Sugar Creek neighborhood is still there, with its old facts; so is the town and the city and the world still performs in its usual way. It is I who have worn out, in discussing old things with Sugar Creek men, town men, and world travelers. I might have done better, and with less trouble, had I behaved better, worked harder, and acquired more of the sound education and common sense offered daily in my journey from Sugar Creek to Mandalay.

When I was a boy we all attended church a good deal. (That was about all we did, except work, and snarl at each other.) The preacher who led the service was always saying to us: "Make a full confession!" I did not make mine then, but do now:

I'm an old man (born May 3, 1853) and have been whipped a lot. Usually I deserved the whippings, and they taught me the little sense and respectability I am credited with; but I have had more charitable and helpful friends than vicious or indifferent enemies. I have found more good than bad in every situation: I feel more gratitude than resentment, I love more than I hate; have oftener been a free man than slave; more opportunities have been offered me than I have accepted; I have abused myself oftener than others have abused me. And I am not writing this to adorn a page but to tell the truth, and express appreciation before moving to a new neighborhood. If anyone sees fit to pin this on my shroud. it will be all right with me.

(This is the way I feel when I behave myself and my machinery is running well; on my occasional bad days I am not quite so genial.)

Every day around noon a bell rings, and I know another temptation is beckoning: dinner. As I march down stairs to it, I utter this silent prayer; "O, Lord, grant me strength in the ordeal I am about to encounter, that I may not eat too fast, or too much, and select the most suitable food offered, Amen." (In my appeal to the Lord, I mean such intelligence and experience as I am capable of.)

The dinner usually is so good I soon forget my prayer, and violate my scripture. I am one of the great army of which we say of the soldiers: "He means well;"

A compliment, possibly, but indicating a poor devil who does not do very well.

(Copyright, 1933, Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

BELIEVE IT OR NOT BY RIPLEY

SOLON
ORIGINATED LABOR DAY 25 CENTURIES AGO!
HE DEDICATED IT TO THE MOON (MONDAY) - THE 2nd DAY OF THE FIRST "WEEK" OF "SEPTEMBER."
THE ROUND HOUSE - BUILT TO TEMPER THE ELEMENTS BY SETH SMITH
Northampton, Mass.
Rip' 9-4
MAXIE LONG
HELD THE 440-YARD RECORD FOR 32 YEARS BEFORE IT WAS BROKEN BY BEN EASTMAN (Time 46.4 Sec)
9 MATCHES ARRANGED TO FORM 10 EQUILATERAL TRIANGLES, 9 PARALLELOGRAMS AND ONE HEXAGON
MOTTO BY SOLON
EMBLEM OF THE "KNIGHTS of LABOR" WHO CREATED LABOR DAY IN U.S.A., 1882

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE U. S. DIAMOND MINE—Periodotite (diamond-bearing rock) was first discovered by Dr. Branner, the state geologist, near Murfreesboro, Pike county, Arkansas, in 1889. Seventeen years later, in August, 1906, a farmer found two unusual pieces of mineral which upon investigation were found to be genuine diamonds. This led to mining operations in the vicinity, lasting several years and netting many thousands of diamonds, among them a canary Octahedron weighing 17 carats, and one of 40.23 carats, which is the largest stone ever mined in the United States.

TODAY'S RADIO PROGRAM

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 3 (Central and Eastern Standard Time)

Note—All programs to key and basic chains or groups thereof unless specified; coast to coast (c to c) designation includes all available stations.

Programs subject to change. P. M. (Daylight Time One Hour Later)

NBC-WEAF NETWORK

BASIC — East: weaf wlw weei wtic wjar wtag wesh wfi wlit wibr wrc wgy when wcae wtam wwj wsai; Midwest: wmaq wcfl ksd woc-who wcsy wdaf
NORTHWEST & CANADIAN — wtmj wiba kstp webc wday kfyr crct cfcf
SOUTH — wrva wptf wwnc wis wjax wfla-wsun wiod wsm wmc wsb wapi wjdx wsmb kvoo wky wfaa wbap kprc woai ktbs kths
MOUNTAIN—koa kdyl kgir kghl
PACIFIC COAST — kgo kfi kgw komo khq kfsd ktar kgu

Cent.	East.
3:00—	4:00—	Paul Ash and Orchestra
3:30—	4:30—	Dale Carnegie Talk—east
4:00—	5:00—	Catholic Program—c to c
4:30—	5:30—	Polikoff Ensem.—also cst
5:00—	6:00—	Countess Albani, Soprano
5:15—	6:15—	Horse Sense Philosophy
5:30—	6:30—	Russian Symphonic Choir
6:00—	7:00—	Bert Lahr's Show—c to c
7:00—	8:00—	Merry Go 'Round—also c
7:30—	8:30—	Familiar Music—c to cst
8:00—	9:00—	To Be Announced
8:15—	9:15—	Music of Italy—also coast
8:45—	9:45—	At Seth Parker's—also c
9:15—	10:15—	Talk About NRA—c to c
9:30—	10:30—	Orchestral Gems—also c
10:00—	11:00—	Wm. Scotti & Orchestra
10:30—	11:30—	Bud Shay and Orchestra

CBS-WABC NETWORK

BASIC—East: wabc wade wkbo wcao waab wnac wgr wkbw wkrc whk ckiw wdrc wcau wip wjas wean wfbl wspd wjsv; Midwest: wbbm wgn wfbm kmbc knox wowo whas
EAST & CANADA — wpg whp wibw whec wlbz wfea wore wicc cfrb ckac
DIXIE — wgst wafa wbrc wqam wdod klra wree wlac wdsn wtoc krld wrr ktrh ktsa waco koma wdbo wodx wbt wdae wbig wtar wdbj wwva wnsbg wsjs
MIDWEST — wcah wgl wmt wmbd wtaq wisn wibw kfh kfab wkbn weco wsbt
MOUNTAIN—kvor klz koh ksl
COAST—khj koin kgb kfrc kol kfpy kvi kfbk kmj kwg kern kdb kgmb

Cent.	East.
2:00—	3:00—	Cathedral Hour—c to cst
3:00—	4:00—	Syncopated Sermons—to c
3:15—	4:15—	Vera Van, Songs—also c
3:30—	4:30—	Crumit-Sanderson—basic
4:00—	5:00—	Ed Duchin Or.—also cst
4:30—	5:30—	Chicago Knights—c to c
5:00—	6:00—	Bright Interlude—also cst
5:15—	6:15—	Modern Male Chor.—to c
5:30—	6:30—	Black River Giant—c to c
5:45—	6:45—	Chicago Variety—also cst
6:15—	7:15—	Black River Giant—c to c
6:30—	7:30—	In Modern Manner—to cst
7:00—	8:00—	Bar X Ranch—also coast
7:30—	8:30—	The Gauchos—also coast
8:00—	9:00—	Freddie Rich Prog.—to c
8:30—	9:30—	Quiet Harmonies—also c
9:00—	10:00—	Lombardo Orches.—also c
9:30—	10:30—	Freeman's Orch.—c to c
10:00—	11:00—	Isham Jones Orch.—c to c
10:30—	11:30—	Ted Lewis & Orch.—to c

NBC-WJZ NETWORK

BASIC — East: wjz wbz-wbza wbal wham kdka wgar wjr wlw wsyr wmal; Midwest: wcky kyw wenr wls kwk kwcr kstl wren wmaq ksoo
NORTHWEST & CANADIAN — wtmj wiba kstp webc wday kfyr crct cfcf
SOUTH — wrva wptf wwnc wis wjax wfla-wsun wiod wsm wmc wsb wapi wjdx wsmb kvoo wky wfaa wbap kprc woai ktbs kths
MOUNTAIN—koa kdyl kgir kghl
PACIFIC COAST — kgo kfi kgw komo khq kfsd ktar

Cent.	East.
3:00—	4:00—	The Friendly Hour—c to c
3:30—	4:30—	Eva Jessye Choir—c to c
4:00—	5:00—	Phil Boutelje Orchestra
4:30—	5:30—	Trio Romantique, Vocal
4:45—	5:45—	Henri Deering, Pianist
5:00—	6:00—	Jules Lande, Violin—to c
5:30—	6:30—	Foreign Legion—also cst
6:00—	7:00—	Hour of Light Opera
7:00—	8:00—	Geo. M. Cohan & Orches.
7:30—	8:30—	Walter Winchell—basic
7:45—	8:45—	To Be Announced
8:00—	9:00—	Mountain Music, Orches.
8:15—	9:15—	Anton Dauns, Mandolin —east; Lopez Orchestra—midwest
8:30—	9:30—	Green Bros. Novelties
9:00—	10:00—	Bertie and Bettie, Sketch
9:15—	10:15—	Four Horsemen — basic; Floyd Gibbons—midwest repeat
9:30—	10:30—	Dick Messner Orchestra
10:00—	11:00—	Winnipeg Citadel Band
10:30—	11:30—	Carlos Molina's Orchestra

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

By J. P. Alley

Lights of New York

By Julia Blanshard

NEW YORK.—Legitimate actors, the vaudeville people, and even the circus folk are all working on codes for adoption by their branches of the entertainment industry. And now even the Coney Island freaks are getting together after hours and going into minimum-wage and 40-hour week problems.

It turns out that most of the freaks do from 12 to 14 hours a day, seven days a week, averaging only $15 to $20 a week, depending on the sales of their postcards. . . . Their idea is that there are plenty of fat, tattooed and bearded ladies, and an abundance of rubber-necked, armless-wonder and sword-swallowing men to run double shifts. Eko and Iko, the flaxen-haired men from Mars, could take turns posing on the platform. (And so, for that matter, could the individual members of a pair of so-called Siamese twins) . . .

There are a few recalcitrants though, who are holding up an agreement. Susie, the Elephant-skinned Girl, says she's absolutely the only one of her kind. And there's a buxom snake-charmer who has flatly turned down the idea of anybody spelling her with the serpents. Declares she won't let her darlings work a minute longer than she has to herself. . . . One freak who isn't worrying about the NRA code, or anything else right now, is Lyda Graf, the midget who was plopped into the lap of J. P. Morgan during the hearing at Washington, Lyda's a show by herself, charging 25 cents to hear her tell how it all happened.

* * *

George Gershwin has done a Rhapsody in Gray with his new apartment. It's gray paneled, gray carpeted, gray curtained. Two of the walls are nothing but windows, and there are his two pianos and a lot of modern art about. Gershwin does some painting himself. Hasn't hung any of them, though, except a portrait of his grandfather, long dead.

Speaking of residences, the socialite Oliver P. Jenningses have a secret passageway and a "chamber of horrors" in their summer home. The chamber is a room done in minute detail with the atrocities of the Gay Nineties, complete from what-not and plush, album to wax flowers under glass. The passage-way was just a builder's whim, now used only by the servants . . .

Roland Harriman's house, perched atop a steep hill at Arden, N. Y., has a funicular railway running up to it. The mansion was built by Edward Henry Hariman, the railroad magnate, who even had a toy train running around the dining room table. . . .

* * *

Dwight Fiske, a Providence, R. I., boy who made good in several different ways, is Hollywood-bound to write the dialogue for the next Mae West picture. Not long ago he was enroute to a career as a concert pianist when, in Paris, Marie Dressler asked him to play at one of her parties. Sitting there drumming idly and waiting for some guests to arrive, he played some pieces he had written, with words about prominent people. Miss Dressler made him repeat them for the other folks. . . . So he became a society pianologue entertainer in snooty night clubs, and last season at the Mayfair Yacht club his stuff amused enough people, so that business was very good indeed. . . . Recently he did a book, called "Without Music," full of blank verse fantasies aimed at assorted celebrities. For instance, there was the one about "America's greatest autumn flower, the Astor, waving slightly on her tired stem . . ." Also (from the days of Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, no doubt) "the Biggest Fish in the world, ready to annihilate every little nouveau minnow . . ."

Cooking School at Ward's Will Be Opened Tuesday

All housewives and others interested are invited to attend the free cooking and canning school to be held at Montgomery Ward's beginning Tuesday and continuing through the week. Sessions will be held at 3 o'clock daily, and it will be demonstrated how a busy housekeeper can prepare a full, well balanced meal in a minimum of time. Each afternoon a different menu will be prepared, as a nationally known expert illustrates the use of Ward's pressure cookers. Included will be such foods as pork chops, potatoes, onions, apple sauce and custard, all cooked in the same cooker at the same time. Fresh vegetables and fruits will be used in the canning demonstrations.

It is expected the afternoon cooking sessions will claim much interest on the part of women of Monroe and the surrounding area.

DE PINEDO KILLED AS PLANE STRIKES FENCE AT AIRPORT

(Continued from First Page)

an hour, got the craft back to the concrete again, but a moment later it swerved again and dashed toward the fence as De Pinedo applied his screeching brakes.

A crowd of 200 people who had got up in the middle of the night to see the take-off and who had cheered De Pinedo as he stepped carefree into the plane stood whitefaced as the charred body was carried to the navy's sick bay at the field.

The plane had been groomed for weeks by the flier with the help of his technical adviser and backer, Ugo D'Annunzio, son of the famous poet, Gabriel D'Annunzio.

With a smile the flier, who had followed the skyways to thousands on thousands of miles to far corners of the earth, told of his "gadgets" shortly before the take-off. He had equipped the cockpit with a device which would sound a siren and slap water into his face if the plane got off its course while he was snatching 40 winks high above the Atlantic.

He also had five balloon kites with which to signal to ships if the craft was forced down at sea, but his confident manner as he started the take-off indicated that bad luck was far from his mind.

D'Annunzio, speaking with white face and tears in his eyes, said after the crash:

"Of course, when you start to sway in a plane everyone knows that the farther you go the worse it gets. I thought sure he would cut the switch, but he had been here so long, he was determined to go.

"I think he still thought he could lift the load even though he had got off the runway."

ROME, Sept. 2.—(AP)—General Francesco de Pinedo, Italian airman killed today attempting to take off from New York on a projected flight to Baghdad, had been in eclipse for four years. Two hypotheses, one involving money and the other a princess, were advanced to explain his loss of the limelight.

According to one theory, De Pinedo dared pay attention to Princess Giovanna, now the Bulgarian queen, and King Victor Emmanuel requested that he be transferred out side of Italy.

The other hypothesis revolves around the fact that De Pinedo neglected to make reports to General Italo Balbo on the money American Italians contributed after his plane burned in Arizona in 1929.

When Balbo demanded an accounting, De Pinedo impulsively turned the money over to a fund for aviators' orphans. He did this without asking General Balbo's permission, and thereafter, it was said, coolness developed between the two men. De Pinedo had served as General Balbo's chief of staff.

Rome learned of De Pinedo's death with great regret. The air ministry communicated the news to General Balbo, who is on vacation after his mass flight to Chicago and back.

Although De Pinedo had practically disappeared from public view, he still was regarded in air circles as a most competent flier. It was believed that the body would be brought to Italy and given funeral honors.

The period of the general's obscurity dated from 1929 when he was sent to Buenos Aires as air attache.

FOR THE hair MOROLINE WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY LARGE JARS 5c AND 10c

'DOUBLE HARNESS'

She led him to the altar with a trick. Then she learned only too late that love cannot be tied with bonds of matrimony. Ann Harding and William Powell at the Paramount theater Monday and Tuesday.

AIR RACER KILLED WHEN SHIP FALLS

(Continued from First Page)

brushed against a tree, and "pancaked" to a landing.

Moss and his five passengers were injured seriously, and the plane was badly damaged.

S. J. Wittman, Oshkosh, Wis., flier, won the first of the international air race events—a 20-mile event—with a speed of 106.55 miles per hour. Lyman Woelpel of Bloomington, Ill., placed second with E. F. Gallagher, Niles, Mich., third.

Art Chester of Joliet, Ill., won the thirty-mile South Bend trophy race for planes of not more than 375 inch piston displacement. He pushed his speed creation through rough air at an average of 176.25 miles. Leland S. Miles and George O. Hague, both of Los Angeles, Cal., were second and third.

SHOWDOWN WITH FORD IS LOOMING

(Continued from First Page)

houses to join the NRA march was ready tonight for President Roosevelt upon his return next week to the capital.

The move to stimulate the recovery program of higher wages and more employes—developed at the behest of the chief executive—was discussed in administration circles as Hugh S. Johnson ended abruptly a projected week-end of rest to seek a break in the jam blocking a bituminous coal code agreement.

The plan to have a charter for the long-disturbed industry ready for Mr. Roosevelt when he returns was reliably reported near complete disruption before the administrator hurried from his apartment to NRA headquarters. There he began conferences immediately with the non-union operators and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

So wedged about has Johnson become with labor problems involving the collective bargaining sections of the recovery act that he said he was considering seeking from Attorney General Cummings an interpretation. The particular point of dispute now is the belief of the mine operators—in which Johnson joins—that contracts being drawn, by which all mine employes recognize the Lewis union, shall not constitute a closed shop to which other unions, or workers not belonging to any labor organization would be barred.

Johnson said informally that this would be as much a violation of the law guaranteeing collective bargaining of the workers' own choosing as a closed shop that barred unions entirely.

It was this question that brought the new flare up between the conferees, but Johnson still expressed confidence that an agreement would be worked out.

He pointed out that a code could be agreed upon within a matter of hours but that he was seeking to have all basic disputes ironed out beforehand to bring peace in the soft coal fields.

The administrator still was without recent word from Henry Ford as to his attitude on the automobile code for the industry, but the Detroit manufacturer has until Tuesday—the day the code becomes effective—to affiliate himself with it.

Should he not do so, it was understood in authoritative sources, no immediate and positive action is intended by the administration.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—(AP)—A thorough test of the effect on prices of bringing America's oil production in accord with market needs was called for today by Secretary Ickes as the first move in federal supervision of the petroleum industry under its NRA trade code.

For the time being, Ickes vetoed the appeals of a wide section of the $12,000,000,000 business and suggestions from members of its own planning and coordination committee that the government embark upon full price regulation promptly.

This decision made, the interior secretary, who also is oil administrator, set the national daily production at 2,409,700 barrels, prohibiting net withdrawals from storage except with his consent, and limiting imports to about 80,000 barrels daily.

With these steps, the code became formally effective, but numerous revisions still were pending on Ickes' desk for final determination. The code affects an estimated 1,200,000 workers and leaders have said these would be increased by 250,000 in the next few weeks.

Soon after Ickes made known his decision to the oil committee, he announced to newspapermen that on price regulation "I see no occasion to exercise a power which I don't have to exercise," adding:

"The prices were not fixed with the code's becoming effective because I don't know that will be necessary. I want to see the effect of balancing supply and demand."

If the rigid control over production does not take care of prices, Ickes said, he will consider "raising prices" by fiat, explaining "No door is closed" by his present decision.

Informed of recent price hikes by major oil companies and others, in advance of the code, becoming effective, Ickes said no "gouging of the consumer" would be tolerated by the administration.

"We are going to watch very carefully the retail price of gasoline," he said. "I hope it won't get out of a fair and proper relationship to the price of crude oil."

If and when it should be held necessary to fix prices, he indicated, every precaution would be taken to protect the motorist. The costs, however, will rise some through the necessity of the industry to meet increased labor costs under wage-raising and hour shortening provisions of the code.

Pending the working out of the production control sections, a provision in the code to permit holding the price of crude oil in the ratio of 18.5 to gasoline, remains inoperative, along with a provision giving President Roosevelt wide discretionary power to regulate prices from the field to the filling station.

AT THE STRAND

Warner Baxter, star in "Forty-Second Street," at the Strand theater in West Monroe Sunday and Monday.

City Briefs

Officials of the Missouri Pacific railroad from St. Louis are scheduled to pass through this city southbound late this afternoon on a trip of inspection. Their destination is to be Alexandria and they are to return to Monroe early Monday morning. While not definitely determined, it is believed that President L. W. Baldwin will be included in the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Oliver are to leave for Chicago and the World's Fair tonight over the Missouri Pacific railroad. A number of others from this section of the state are also to make the trip at the same time. There are to be in all nearly 20 people from Rayville, Girard and Monroe.

C. E. Slagle and George Weaks are leaving tonight over the Missouri Pacific for New York City on a business trip.

Plans are being formulated for the entertainment of 100 to 150 members of the Hotel Greeters association, at Hotel Frances next Saturday and Sunday. Representation from both Mississippi and Louisiana groups will be present Business meetings, sightseeing trips and a ball are among the plans for the entertainment.

Samuel W. McClary, son of S. H. McClary, secretary of the Monroe Chamber of Commerce, has left for Fremont, Neb., to attend Midland college.

M. R. Jackson, manager of Hotel Frances, is in Atlanta, Ga., where he is attending the Southern Hotel association's convention.

Miss Bertha Marie Masur, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sig Masur, is a patient at the Wright, Bendel and Vaughan clinic, where she was admitted Friday. She was said to be resting easily Saturday night.

H. H. Land, local architect, with his son, Herbert, and M. L. Padgett, are in Chicago attending the World's Fair.

The new building of the Harvester company, at DeSiard and Ninth streets, will be completed and ready for occupancy shortly after September 10, stated W. C. Salley, contractor.

Clarks

Georgie Francis Frickie and Frank Frickie, III, celebrated their second and fourth birthday respectively in the home of their grandmother, Mrs. Frank Frickie, Sr., of Clarks. Their little friends who helped them celebrate the occasion were: John Lewis Green, Rose Marie Green, Willie Aliene Gunter, Woodrow Patton, Charles Riser, E. P. Chapman, Jr., Harold Cobb, Harrietta Cobb, Muriel Cobb, Mercedes Mitchell, Edward Stringer, J. Lee Stringer, Fred Cameron Jackson, Laverne Meeks, Mackie Sue Delcore, Junior Antley, R. Ellis Antley, Bobby Ray Delcour, Bettie Louise Thomas, Willoughby Thomas, Hazeldean Patton, Bobbie Jean Smith, Martha Mae Bolton, Dwight Lee Bolton, Jr., Theresa Mae Bolton, Sonny Watson, Mildred Patton, Charles Patton, Jr., and other guests were, Mrs. W. K. Bush, Mrs. L. L. Jackson, Mrs. Dwight Bolton, Mrs. David Bolton, Mrs. Essie Riser, Mrs. E. P. Chapman, Sr., Mrs. John Gunter, Mrs. W. H. Thomas, Mrs. Frank Frickie, Jr., Mrs. Beulah Cobb, Mrs. Albert Smith.

Games were played and delightful refreshments of cake and ice cream were served.

RIVERS DAILY STAGES

Stations	Flood Stage	Present Stage	24-Hour Change
MISSISSIPPI—
St. Louis	30	1.3	0.8 Rise
Helena	44	6.7	0.5 Rise
Vicksburg	45	6.8	0.1 Rise
Natchez	46	8.9	0.1 Fall
Baton Rouge	35	5.4	0.1 Fall
Reserve	22	2.4	0.2 Fall
New Orleans	17	2.4	0.2 Fall
ATCHAFALAYA—
Melville	37	11.2	0.3 Fall
Morgan City	8	4.4	0.1 Rise
OUACHITA—
Camden	26	4.4	0.5 Rise
Monroe	40	13.9	0.0
OHIO—
Pittsburgh	25	10.2	0.0
Cincinnati	52	12.2	0.1 Fall
Cairo	45	9.7	0.1 Rise
TENNESSEE—
Chattanooga	30	10.7	0.0
CUMBERLAND—
Nashville	40	10.9	0.5 Fall
ARKANSAS—
Fort Smith	22	13.3	0.9 Fall
Little Rock	23	8.0	0.0
RED—
Shreveport	39	7.5	1.4 Rise
Alexandria	32	9.2	0.3 Fall

Attending the movies is about the only recreation Gov. Dave Sholtz of Florida has been able to fit into his busy life.

$12,000 Collected On Crop Production Loans

Approximately $12,000 has already been collected in Louisiana this year on crop production loans, D. R. Morrow, loan supervisor for the state, said Saturday. Practically all loans in this state are paid with money received from cotton.

Mr. Morrow is of the opinion that collections will begin coming in rapidly this week, as cotton is now being picked and ginned at a rapid rate. Due to the fact that the price of cotton has been better this year than for several years, the disposition of the farmers seems to be to move the crop immediately and to pay off the loans, Mr. Morrow said.

Most of the payments thus far have been made in parishes in the southern part of the state, but a few payments have been made in Ouachita parish. It is expected that there will be a decided increase in payments in this parish during the coming week.

TODAY'S AMUSEMENTS

AT THE PARAMOUNT—Ann Harding is not only a self-made star, but an almost accidentally self-made one.

Miss Harding started on a business career, working successively in an insurance office and as a movie scenario reader. She was introduced to the Provincetown Players, whose leading player she soon became. At the close of their season, she accepted a role in "Like the King," a play which quietly died.

Miss Harding won her first marked achievement with the Hedgerow Players in Philadelphia. Soon after that the ash blonde star became the outstanding sensation of Broadway in the leading role in "Tarnish." The following year she repeated her success in "Stolen Fruit." The title role in "The Woman Disputed" was another stepping stone to success which she clinched with her sensational triumph in "The Trial of Mary Dugan."

The motion picture feminine lead in "Paris Bound" followed. Her greatest screen triumph was "Holiday," after which she appeared in "East Lynne," "Devotion," "Prestige," "Westward Passage," "The Animal Kingdom" and "The Conquerors" Her latest RKO production is "Double Harness," in which she co-stars with William Powell at the Paramount theater Monday and Tuesday.

Miss Harding is a beauty of rare order. About five feet two in height, she is slender, magnetic and vibrant. Her wealth of long hair is always dressed in simple fashion. Her eyes are blue-gray and are peculiarly expressive. She weighs about 106 pounds, and embodies an abundance of allure which has won millions of screen fans, and the approval of all Hollywood.

On Monday a stage show will be given under the direction of Mrs Harry Rice, "Varieties of 1933."

The performance today will be that of "The Stranger's Return," featuring Lionel Barrymore and Miriam Hopkins.

AT THE CAPITOL—Gloria Stuart is beautiful. Gloria Stuart can act. Gloria Stuart can paint. Few people know that she can sing.

It is a strange thing that in the first picture in which this beautiful actress has had an opportunity to play the piano and sing, that it should be the prelude to a man's death. This incongruous action takes place in "The Secret of the Blue Room," which is showing at the Capitol theater Sunday only.

It is a mystery melodrama with thrills in every foot and chills around every corner. It was adapted by William Hurlbut from a foreign story by Erich Phillipi and has been given a gorgeously creepy production by Universal. Kurt Neumann, who directed, has assembled a cast including Lionel Atwill, Paul Lucas, Gloria Stuart, Onslow Stevens, Muriel Kirkland, Edward Arnold, William Janney, Russell Hopton, Elizabeth Patterson and James Durkin. Charles Stumar, the master of creepy shadow, who photographed it, took full advantage of a remarkable castle especially built at Universal City.

This castle includes among its rooms, a guest chamber known as the "blue room" in which three murders have been committed. As a consequence, the room has been supposedly closed for twenty years until one night the beautiful daughter of the house sang a song, then things begin to happen which make one of the weirdest tales ever put on the screen.

AT THE STRAND—Nearly two hundred whole white fox skins were used in costumes for a single scene of "42nd Street," the Warner Bros. dramatic epic of the theater which is now showing at the Strand theater in West Monroe.

The scene, a dance number from the musical show "Pretty Lady," around the production of which the plot revolves, is one of the most beautiful and striking of any yet brought to the talking screen. Thirty-two chorus girls and sixteen show girls, going through their intricate routine, were dressed solely in the pelts of the white fox, four to each, while on their heads tiny white hats with veils were each adorned with a fox head posed at the front.

Warner Baxter, Bebe Daniels, Ginger Rogers, Ruby Keeler, Una Merkel, George Brent, Ned Sparks, Dick Powell, Allen Jenkins and Guy Kibbee have the principal roles in "42nd Street," which was directed by Lloyd Bacon.

JOSEPH RANSDELL TO RETURN HOME

(Continued from First Page)

never again be a candidate for an elective office. He said that he would not, but that he proposed to take active interest in public affairs and to assist in securing proper men for public office. Senator Ransdell was honored by the people of Louisiana with the longest continuous service in congress in the history of the state—32 years—14 years in the senate and 18 years in the house of representatives.

One of his last acts in Washington was to issue a statement praising President Roosevelt. Expressing his strong faith in the present chief executive, Ransdell said he believes "he will soon restore prosperity and happiness to our country."

Widespread interest was occasioned some months ago, when Senator Ransdell sought the assistance of former colleagues in the senate as a candidate for appointive office under the Democratic administration. It was suggested by Postmaster General Farley that he ascertain if his confirmation would be opposed by the senators from Louisiana. His efforts to comply with that suggestion led to an erroneous report that he had reached an understanding with Huey Long in political matters. Senator Ransdell met that report with a statement that there was no ground whatever for that report and his attitude toward Senator Long remained exactly what it was at the time that they were rival candidates in the campaign of 1930.

AT THE CAPITOL

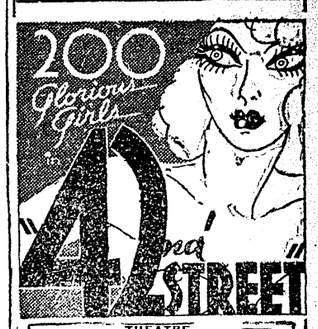
Universal producing company have selected an imposing array of screen stars to portray the leading roles in a grand mystery drama, "The Secret of the Blue Room," playing at the Capitol theater Sunday only. Lovely Gloria Stuart, pictured above, and probably one of the busiest of the feminine stars of Hollywood, plays the romantic lead with Paul Lukas. Other stars in this ten-star drama include Lionel Atwill, Edward Arnold, Onslow Stevens, William Janney, Elizabeth Patterson, Muriel Kirkland, and James Durkin. In conjunction with this mystery drama, Miss Lillian Stovall offers on the stage, in person, such personalities as Dwight Laughlin, and Mildred Johnson, singing songs you will like, and Byron Tooley, the boy with rhythm in his feet who scored such a marked hit with audiences last week. The stage units fill the needs demanded by audience for rhythm, songs, and dancing, and appear for three performances.

MRS. TOLBERT IMPROVES

Word was received here Saturday from Shreveport that the condition of Mrs. H. L. Tolbert is slightly improved. Mrs. Tolbert is the wife of Deputy Sheriff Tolbert and lives at 302 Layton street, but has been at the home of her mother in Shreveport for a number of weeks.

REVIVAL MEETING

A revival meeting will begin this morning at the New Light Baptist church on the Prairie road. Rev. G. C. Dennis will do the preaching assisted by Evangelist Singer R. L. Mercer of West Monroe. The community is invited.



THEATRE STRAND WEST MONROE
Sunday and Monday
Admission 10c and 20c

LAST TIMES TODAY
A Comedy Drama of Real People
LIONEL BARRYMORE
MIRIAM HOPKINS
FRANCHOT TONE
STUART ERWIN
THE STRANGER'S RETURN
From the novel by Phil Stong author of "State Fair."
— Added Units —
ZASU PITTS—THELMA TODD
"BARGAIN OF THE CENTURY"
PICTORIAL LATE NEWS
25c Till 6 P. M.

Monday-Tuesday
A LABOR DAY SPECIAL
She might as well have used a shotgun!
She led him to the altar with a trick--and learned too late that love cannot be tied with bonds of matrimony.

— Added Units —
"Wreckty Wreck"
Screen Song Sportlight
— On the Stage —
MONDAY ONLY
MRS. HARRY W. RICE
Presents
"VARIETIES OF 1933"
Also
"THE EMBASSADORS"
STAGE BAND
You gave them a name over KMLB. Now see and hear them in person.
Delightfully Cool
Paramount

MRS. HARRY W. RICE
—AND—
JAMES CAVANESS
Announce the Opening of Their SCHOOL OF THE DANCE
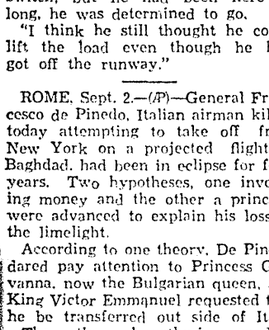
TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 5th
Every type of advance work taught. Children's work a special feature. Teaching grace, poise and personality in the development of the child.
NIGHT CLASSES FOR WORKING GIRLS
Body building, stretching, limbering, dancing and reducing. It is especially recommended for those who want to build up a supple and well balanced body or reduce superfluous flesh.
Studio Located in the W. O. W. Hall, Jackson and Harrison Streets
Enrollment and Classes Start Tuesday Afternoon Between Hours of 1 P. M. and 6 P. M.
Special Class Rates If You Enroll Before Sept. 8th
INFORMATION CONCERNING ALL CLASSES WILL BE GLADLY GIVEN
RESIDENCE PHONE 3783-W OR CALL 1567

RADIO SALE



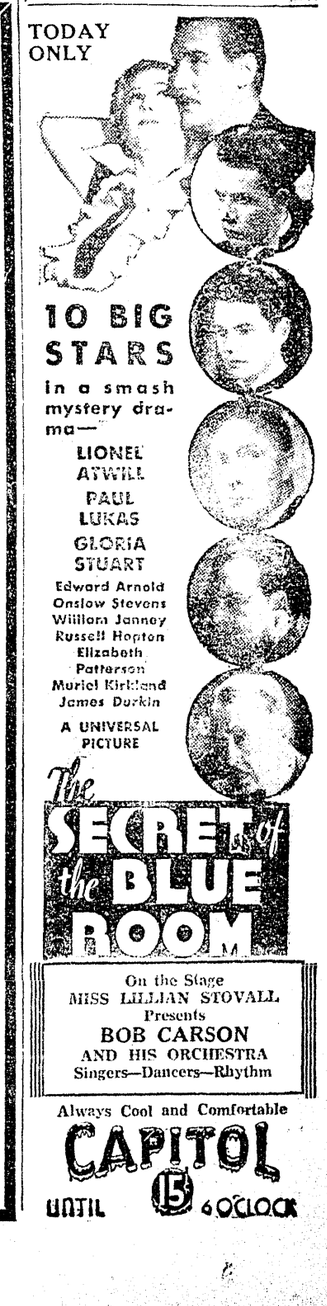
ONLY 25 LEFT
All Radios Will Advance in Price in Next Few Days
This Is Your Last Chance to Buy a Really Fine Radio
AT ACTUAL
GIVE-AWAY PRICES
R. C. A. Victor Radios
Some As Low As $14.95
Some large Cabinet Radios As Low As $24.95
DON'T DELAY A MOMENT IF YOU WANT ONE
CULP MUSIC SHOP
124 South Grand Street Phone 4719

NOW IS YOUR CHANCE MORE FOR YOUR MONEY
Dixie Furniture offers you a week of specials at prices that cannot be duplicated.
Shop our windows before buying elsewhere
Special
Brass stand, cellophane shades. Junior or bridge
$4.25

Special
Brass stand, silk shade junior or bridge—
$5.95
A riot of beautiful, colorful lamps as new as tomorrow.
Fine silk and cellophane shades purchased by our buyer at the Century of Progress market and just unpacked.
A complete showing of solid Walnut coffee, end, lamp, occasional Tables.
Terms Arranged for Your Convenience
NRA MEMBER U.S. WE DO OUR PART
RETAIL WHOLESALE
DIXIE BEDDING AND FURNITURE CO.
NINTH AND WASHINGTON STS.

NRA WE DO OUR PART
Would You?
You wouldn't buy a cheap, mongrel grade of gasoline for your new, expensive car.
You wouldn't start on a long hike in uncomfortable shoes.
You wouldn't load your gun with blank cartridges for a long-anticipated duck hunt.
You wouldn't buy a favorite set of books in common, paper covers.
Of course not! For there's a better way to do these thnigs.
And you wouldn't send out printed matter that was cheap and unattractive when we can print it artistically and reasonably, so that it commands attention and respect!
Would you?
Monroe Printing Co.
JACK BOYER, Manager
Phone 4800

TODAY ONLY



On the Stage
MISS LILLIAN STOVALL
Presents
BOB CARSON
AND HIS ORCHESTRA
Singers—Dancers—Rhythm
Always Cool and Comfortable
CAPITOL
UNTIL 6 O'CLOCK

SOCIETY

BY EVE BRADFORD

In the Pictures

Miss Lucille Smith, lovely daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Smith, who is leaving tomorrow for Whitworth college, Brookhaven, Miss., where she will enter upon her first year of college life. Miss Smith is seen here in the frock she wore on the night of graduation from the Ouachita parish high school in June. (Left).

Miss Emma Lou Biedenharn, beautiful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Biedenharn, who is leaving this evening for New York city, and will sail on the twenty-seventh of September for Germany, where she will start on a concert tour in that country. (Center).

—Portrait by Adrian Brewer.

Miss Frances Love, talented visitor last week in the home of Mrs. M. P. Hayes on Morris drive. Miss Love is a brilliant pianist, and delighted friends with her music during her stay in this city. (Right).

GOOD MORNING! A haze on the far horizon and the glow of the goldenrod reminds us that summer has waned . . . every highway and incoming train is bringing back vacationists . . . Speaking of vacations, we hope you had a restful one, and now prepared to join the vast army of NRA members . . . Our vacation was spent in the Ozarks, where the paths of the voyageurs and the Indians are still undimmed upon the hillsides . . . England has her Westmoreland, Ireland her Killarney, California her snow-capped Sierras and golden valleys, but just around the corner from us we have the Ozarks . . . a beautiful land still primitive in its solitude and traditions . . . Nothing can soothe the groove-traveling mind of the average pent-up city dweller like the sweet content that comes with unaccustomed languor or the balm that is found in the sanctuaries of "God's first temples." . . . If you have ever spent a vacation in the Ozarks then you will agree that there is always something left unsaid . . . something left that cannot be fashioned in mere words, to express the memories of the glorious sunsets and the dawn that "comes up like thunder" . . . the moonlight and the romance of the sun-kissed hills . . . the peace that descends like a benediction and more than all else the blessed solitude. . . . Like Jesus of Nazareth you "lift your eyes unto the hills from whence cometh your strength." . . . What more can a spot of earth, however celebrated, contribute to the seeker of mental rest and spiritual peace? . . .

Yes, vacations are wonderful, but with the approach of the "melancholy days" the mind just naturally turns to thoughts of home. . . . Vacationists who spend the entire summer away from home reach the saturation point along about the first of September. . . . When a woman can gaze at a pine-clad hillside and think of the enameled gas range . . . the painted cupboards and the checkered linoleum in her kitchen at home. . . . When she can stare into a limpid pool and think of her Oriental rug, bronze lamp and the bridge lamp in her living room at home, then she is saturated with vacation. . . . Johnnie Cox has not reached the point of saturation even though she has spent the entire summer in Chicago . . . and no wonder, she is running around with celebritites, dancing to the melody of Ben Bernie's orchestra, and accepting with all the grace of the true southern girl, the many courtesies extended. . . . No less a personage than Carrie Jacobs Bonds was charmed with this little friend of ours. . . . Johnnie is such a lovely, young thing, so sweet and unaffected, we can readily see where such women as Carrie Jacobs Bond would be attracted to her. . . . We saw a sweet, young thing, Nellie Breard, at the opening production of the Little Theatre Tuesday night . . . she was a picture in a white frock with scarlet hat and jacket. . . . Emily Wright walked down the aisle in one of those new black capes, reminiscent of attic chests whose contents were laid years ago in sachets of verbena. . . . Mrs. A. R. Holloway, home from her vacation, was there looking as fresh and as youthful as a young [illegible] Eileen wore ful and lovely in white . . . she is just back from Chicago and brought such interesting news of Roberta, who has accepted, for the time being, one of the many flattering offers from theatrical managers. . . . We trust that recognition of her skill as a dancer by producers and managers who are constantly on the lookout for talent, will not prevent her from returning home, where she is so much sought after. . . . Don't you like the quality of Ben Dawkin's voice? . . . Until we heard him in "Dulcy" we never realized how really romantic a voice could be. . . . This was not Ben's first appearance in theatricals by any means. . . . You might be interested in knowing that he appeared in several workshop productions at L. S. U. and in "Berkely Square" a fantasy presented by the Louisiana Players Guild. . . . It might also interest you to know that Ben was in a measure responsible for the attractive setting for "Dulcy." . . . He worked until the eleventh hour and then dashed back to the auditorium just in time for a breathless pause before the rise of the curtain . . . Ben is so substantial, so reliable and trustworthy, we find ourself expecting great things of him . . . Quite the busiest young things in town last week were the Delta Beta Sigmas, who were deep in the throes of "rushing." . . . They are without a doubt the loveliest young girls in all the world. . . . Roberta Neel, for instance, . . . just yesterday it seems, she was in pinafores and today we find her grown to charming young womanhood. . . . Alice Cobb, all wrapped up in white satin, was quite the loveliest thing imaginable at the D. B. S. dance at Riverside, Friday night. . . . She has been selected sponsor, you know. . . .

Really, we have so many things of interest for this column we can not even attempt to give it all to you today. . . . We must, however, drop a hint about the first marriage to take place among the Military Mollies . . . yes, one of the members will soon walk down the aisle to the tune of Lohengrin. . . . We will save this delectable piece of news for next Sunday. . . . There is still another romance brewing . . . it involves two of the most popular members of the younger set . . . theirs, we hear, will be an autumnal wedding. . . . Going from the sublime to the more unromantic side of life we hear rumors of women in politics. . . . When the next city and state election takes place two women will seek to wield the gavel. . . . And why not? . . . Women have an interest in politics which has survived from the old days when they were fighting for the vote men share . . . they have the time to devote to the service of society which business men cannot afford. . . . Why, then, have they been largely overlooked when public offices are handed out? . . . Men have not done so conspicuously good a job at running their cities and their states that they can scoff at the idea of giving a woman a look-in. . . . At any rate when election time rolls around it will prove mighty interesting to have a woman in the race. . . .

The meeting Thursday morning of enthusiastic women, eager to comply with the new NRA code reminds us that loyalty is now the watchword. . . . Time now proclaims the brotherhood of man, bringing with it, new hopes, new dreams, new worlds to scan.

The autumnal days will find many changes among householders. . . . The E. T. Lamkins and their handsome children, for instance, will desert the comfortable environs of the Speed home for their own charming little home on Bright avenue, around which memories of those first honeymoon days still linger. . . . Katherine Pegram will cast her lot with Anna Speed this winter, enjoying the many comforts her hospitable home affords. . . . Frederick and Lillian Williamson have said goodbye to the "Robin's Roost" and are established for the winter in an apartment at 2000 Riverside. . . . With the passing of the T. E. Flournoy home into other hands, it will no more be the rendezvous for extensive family connections. . . . This home was considered one of the most hospitable in all the city and the meeting place for old and young.

And so goodbye until next week at which time we will have exciting news for you.

After successfully launching the first Little Theater production of the fall season, Mrs. Emma Alexander, is now engaged in directing a clever three-act farce, "The Beantown Choir" for the benefit of the Woman's Benefit association number eleven.

Mrs. Alexander will appear in the leading role with a cast made up of W. B. A. members and other local talent.

The play deals with the Widow Wood, her step-daughter, Beth, her hired boy, Hezekiah, and the members of the Beantown choir. You will recognize in Mrs. Scales the director, a familiar type of character as well as Tess Tombs, Sallie Etta Pickle, Belinda Snix, Birdie Cackle. Mandy Hamslinger, Grandma Howler, her grand daughter, Samantha Sniggins, Bill Boomer and others. The plot begins to thicken when the widow unveils an enlarged picture, a memorial to the memory of her brother who was the director of the Beantown choir for over twenty years.

Misses Margaret Poag and Lucille Smith will leave tomorrow for Brook-

Members of the Younger Set Attend Dancing Party At Riverside Country Club

Members of the Delta Beta Sigma sorority, in exquisite evening frocks welcomed a gay company of guests at Riverside Country Club Friday night when they entertained with a backward dance in honor of their "rushees" who comprised a group of lovely girls who have been rushed from one delightful social affair to another during the past week.

Following the grand march, with Red Guy and his company of "peppy" musicians supplying the music, Miss Eloise Goyne, next year's president, stood on the bamboo entwined balcony and presented the new sponsors, Mr. Billy Herring, member of Phi Kappa fraternity. Mr. Joseph Williams, member of Delta Sigma, and Mr. Robert Calvert, member of S. P. O. fraternity. The rushees were also introduced as follows: Misses Mary Ann Dixon, Virginia Faulk, Eleanor Colbert, Sara Cole Morrison, Jane Burgess, Diana Powers, Eleanor True, Doris Reid, Edith Haynes, Alice Thompson, Ruth Harvey, Alma McGee. Among the dancers were noted: Elaine Rester and Thomas Hodge, Lib Williams and Morris Haas, Louise Gray and Roy Hale, Maudame Carroll and Buster Baur, Gretchen Talbert and James Ansley, Corre Mae Calder and Bob Dunaway, Mary Trousdale and Edward Ansley, Frances Browning and Harold Miles, Virginia Buckner and "Pug" Pierce, Marie Deas and W. A. McIntyre, Jr., Precilla Hodge and Henry Florsheim, Roberta Neel and Thomas Downes, Dot Calvert and Pete Godwin. Red Stroud and Bishop Johnston, Beverly Russell and Cramer Haas, Georgine Cole and John Holmes, Margaret Poag and James Cox, Jane Dawkins and Bill Johnson. Boyce Leigh Sadler and Allen Turpin, Doris Beaman and John Strahan, Elizabeth Cosper and Harry Bailey, Sara Talbert and Art Surguine, Nancy Terzia and Douglas Miles, Alyce Florsheim and Fred Vaughan. Stags: Mary Virginia Watts, Irene Stroud, Johnnie Meyers, Dorothy Williamson, Doris Fleming, Mildred Breard, Jane Terzia, Ann Hardie, Joy Griffing. Virginia Scheen, Ella Pearl Sutton, Ella Rose Crawford, "Toots" Murphy, Dot Bennett, Diana Powers, Norma Lee Scoggins, Eloise Henry, Edith Nell Haynes, Marshall Russell, Ann Molaison, Alice Daimwood, Jane Gregory, Hazel Gregory, Martha Garrison, Flora Yarbrough, Margaret Chase, Peggy Bubb, Sara Moffett, Eleanor Colbert, Charlotte Box, Marjorie Chambers, Myrta Stewart, Louise Cook, Polly Nenneym, Eleanor True, Elithia Edwards, Annie Mae Smith, Eloise Goyne, Molly Hill, June Hodge, Georgine Murphy, Peggy O'Toole. Chaperones were: Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. Allen. Mrs. Roy Hale, Mrs. Theodore Terzia, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. James Phelps, Mrs. Stovall, Mrs. R. R. Beaman, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. E. Deas, Mrs. Frank Watts.

Adrian Brewer Completes Notable Portrait Work in This City and Evokes Praise

A series of charming portrait studies of Monroe women, done by Mr. Adrian Brewer, who has been spending the last two months in Monroe, affords a climax to this distinguished artist's work in this city. All of these portraits create a noteworthy group of such pictures because they represent a high quality of merit and emphasize the appreciation of Monroe people for the richer

A photographic reproduction of one of these paintings appears in the group of pictures on the society page today, that of Miss Emmy Lou Biedenharn, the famous contralto, who is leaving tonight for New York, whence she will take steamer on September 27 for Europe to continue her musical activities on the continent. Miss Biedenharn will make a concert tour

Bride, Groom Honor Guests At Supper Party

Mrs. Addie Sue Dunn entertained with a supper party Wednesday night at her home on Jackson street in honor of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss Dunn, upon their return from their honeymoon in Hot Springs, Ark. Mrs. Dunn, before her marriage last Sunday, was Miss Louise Collicott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Collicott of Bastrop, La.

Beautiful crimson roses in garden baskets were placed in the background of the living room where Mrs. Dunn received her guests and introduced her guests of honor.

The supper table in the dining room was overlaid with handsome lace and centered with a beautiful wedding cake embossed in pink, with pink tapers in silver candlesticks placed at the four corners. A buffet supper, reflecting a pink and green color theme, was served to the honor guests and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hanna, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Dickerson, Mrs. Fred May, Mrs. R. B. Arant, Miss Hattie Haddock, Miss Annie Louise Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Barham of Ruston, Mr. Joseph Westmoreland.

Covers were laid for members of Delta Beta Sigma sorority around the beautifully appointed dinner table at the Frances hotel Friday night when they met for their annual banquet with the president, Miss Sara Talbert, presiding with customary graciousness.

The sorority colors, black and gold, predominated in all the details with a spray of beautiful golden blossoms overflowing from a classic shaped urn of black centering the table. The flowers were a gift from the two sponsors, James Crow and John Strahan. Exquisite corsages placed at each cover created a splash of vivid coloring around the board. An arm bouquet of beautiful rose colored carnations was presented to Miss Sara Talbert, retiring president.

Following the serving of the delectable five course dinner the guests motored to Riverside Country club where they were hostesses at their annual summer backward dance in honor of the "rushees."

Miss Lucille Smith and Miss Margaret Poag will leave Monday for Whitworth college, Bellhaven, Miss.,

Enthusiastic Gathering of Women on Virginia Roof for The Initial NRA Meeting

A most enthusiastic group of women, presided over by Mrs. Fagan Cox, met on the roof of the Virginia hotel, Thursday morning, August 31, to perfect the organization of the woman's committee of the NRA. Representatives from thirty-nine active women's clubs of Monroe eagerly responded to the call and bespoke for their organizations a wholesome endorsement of the president's program to end unemployment and recover prosperity in America.

Mr. A. V. Miller, NRA chairman of Ouachita parish, in explaining the purpose of the NRA declared that women as purchasers of 85 per cent of all articles sold could organize as a consumers' league and by the united voice of public opinion through a dual campaign of education and cooperation could force all merchants under the sign of the blue eagle. He spoke of the necessity for immediate action on the part of everyone and urged all present to pledge their support towards an effective mass meeting to be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Ouachita parish high school auditorium.

Mr. S. H. McClary, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, distributed pledge cards, buttons and consumers' stickers and announced that additional supplies of these were available for the entire membership of the various clubs of the city. He also urged the clubs to take advantage of the literature which he has for distribution in order that everyone may become familiar with the NRA movement and have a clearer understanding of the wide scope of the work to be accomplished.

Mrs. Fagan Cox, Miss Julia Wossman, and Mrs. Harry Oliver, directors of women's work, gave all possible encouragement to every phase of the program outlined at the meeting.

The clubs of Monroe were represented by the following women: Business and Professional Women's club, Mrs. R. N. Slator; Y. W. C. A. board, Mrs. Fagan Cox; Methodist Missionary society, Mrs. A. R. Holloway; Methodist Young Woman's auxiliary, Mrs. J. C. Sadler; Baptist Missionary society, Mrs. Walter Rhodes; Presbyterian Woman's auxiliary, Miss Katie Altar society, Mrs. Burgoyne; Catholic Daughters of America, Mrs. Tarver; Temple Sisterhood, Mrs. Henry Haas; Neville High Parent-Teacher association, Mrs. L. J. Hart; Ouachita Parish High Parent-Teacher association, Mrs. Leon McHenry; St. Matthew's Parochial school Parent Teacher association, Mrs. John Guerriero; Barkdull Faulk Parent-Teacher association, Mrs. H. K. Touchstone; Georgia Tucker Parent-Teacher association, Mrs. George Lester; Lida Benton Parent-Teacher association, Mrs. Bennett; Central Grammar school Parent-Teacher association, Sherrouse Parent-Teacher association, Mrs. W. S. Vincent; the Book club, Mrs. C. E. Woolman; the Twentieth Century Book club, Mrs. Sidney Stroud; the Study club, Mrs. David Garrett; the Review club, Mrs. Fred Fudickar; the Welcome Branch Twentieth Century Book club, Mrs. C. C. Colvert; the Literary Guild, Mrs. Herbert Dickard; the Delphian society, Mrs. J. T. Pugh; the Dilettantes, Miss Aimee de Graffenried; Pan-Hellenic association, Miss Marie Collens; Junior Charity league, Mrs. Ronald Lee Davis; the Musical Coterie, Mrs. Grayson Guthrie, Jr.; D. A. R., Mrs. C. E. Faulk; Ouachita Parish Medical auxiliary, Mrs. A. G. McHenry; American Legion auxiliary, Mrs. Mitchell; Louise McGuire chapter, Eastern Star, Mrs. Mulherin; Dixie chapter, Eastern Star, Mrs. Simpson; Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Mrs. Burnell; Missouri Pacific Woman's club, Mrs. S. A. Moss; Guardians association Camp Fire Girls, Mrs. Neeley; Women's Benefit association, Mrs. Nettles; Mrs. Eugene Courtney, department president of United Spanish American War veterans' auxiliary.

Misses Helen Wallace and Gayle Dean entertained a few of their friends Wednesday evening in the home of Miss Wallace. After enjoying many delightful games, delicious refreshments were served by the lovely hostesses to Misses Louise Thurmon Johnette Register, Dorothy Henry Nita Johnson, Octave Register, Doris Dierks, Lillian Gillian, and Messrs. Walter Dean, Fred Waites, Leon Nall

SOCIETY

Flower Show in October Now Engaging the Interest of All Garden Club Members

Plans are already being whipped into shape and detail work completed for the Garden club's fall flower show to be held on the roof of the Virginia hotel the latter part of October. Mrs. Elmer Richards, exhibit chairman makes the following announcements:

Members expecting to enter exhibits must communicate with the chairman of the proper committee at least four days before the show and determine the classification of their exhibits. An exhibitor is allowed only one entry in each class.

Class I—Dahlias:
Chairman—Mrs. L. V. Tarver (1635).
(a) Best collection of different varieties.
(b) Best speciment of red dahlia.
(c) Best speciment of yellow dahlia.
(d) Best specimen of pink dahlia.
(e) Best speciment of any variety.
(f) Most artistic arrangement of dahlias.

Class II—Chrysanthemums:
Com. chairman—Mrs. F. A. Reynolds.
(a) Best speciment bloom.
(b) Best 3 blooms of one variety.
(c) Best collection of different varieties.
(d) Best potted plant.
(e) Best collection of pompons.
(f) Most artistic arrangement of garden variety.

Class III—Gladiolus:
Com. chairman—Mrs. H. N. Black.
(a) Best specimen stalk.
(b) Best five stalks of one variety.
(c) Best collection of different varieties.

Class IV—Roses:
Com. chairman—Mrs. John Breard.
(a) Best specimen of yellow rose.
(b) Best specimen of pink rose.
(c) Best specimen of Radiance.
(d) Best speciment of white rose.
(e) Best 5 blooms of any variety.
(f) Most artistic arrangement of roses.
(g) Largest collection of named roses.

Class V—Annuals and Perrennials:
Com. chairman—Mrs. Gladys Sperry (302).
(A) (a) Zinnias (giants and lilliputs).
(b) Marigolds.
(c) Salvia.
(d) Ageratum.
(e) Snap dragons.
(f) Cosmos.
(g) Stocks.
(B) (a) Best mixed variety of annuals and perrennials.
(C) (a) Any flowers not mentioned.
(D) (a) Most artistic bouquet.

Class VI—Wild flowers:
Com. chairman—Mrs. T. C. Rowland.
(a) Best arrangement.
(b) Most interesting exhibit.
(c) Most beautiful specimen.
(d) Most rare wild flower.
(e) Largest variety.

Class VII—Potted plants:
Com. chairman—Mrs. Fensky Terzia.
(a) Best flowering plant.
(b) Best fern.
(c) Most unusual plant of any variety.
(d) Best variety.

Class VIII—Unusual flowers.
Com. Chairman—Mrs. Malcolm Biedenharn.
(a) New or rare flowers.
(b) Unusual flowers for the season.

Class IX—Table arrangement.
Com. Chairman—Mrs. Clarenece E. Slagle.
Best arrangement, lunch, dinner, or tea table.
Any style permitted. Table and accessories to be furnished by exhibitor. No flat silver. Informal or formal.

Class X—Artistic arrangement of flowers on trays.
Com. Chairman—Mrs. C. E. Faulk.
(a) Of one variety.
(b) Of different varieties.

Class XI—Sweepstakes.
Chairman—Mrs. McQuiller.
(a) Best one specimen bloom selected by judges from entries in all the classes.
(b) The greatest number of first prizes.

Class XII—Commercial growers.
To be decided and planned by them to harmonize with flower show exhibit committee.

The Syrian Frolic club held an enthusiastic meeting Wednesday night at their attractive club rooms on DeSiard street. Jimmie Tonore, president- presided. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and accepted and letters of communication were discussed.

The main topic of the evening was the convention of the Southern Federation of Syrian clubs to be held in New Orleans September 3 and 4. Members of the club who motored to New Orleans for the convention yesterday were Messrs. Jimmy Tenore, Joe Haddad, F. Cannon and Zeak Haddad.

This is the second annual convention held by the Southern Federation of Syrian clubs Their purpose is to create and sustain the work of various clubs through the companionship of its members in unified effort, by upholding Syrian institutions, cherishing and preserving their ideals and traditions and taking an active part in all projects for the mutual benefit of Syrian Americans A percentage of the funds goes to charity The New Orleans club has made elaborate preparations for the entertainment of delegates The outstanding speaker will be Honorable Rene Deluze, consul general of France

---

Mrs. A. L. Peters, Miss Sadye Lou Peters, Mr. A. L. Peters, Jr., Miss Ella Rose Crawford and Mr. Henry Crawford will form a congenial party leaving Monday for Chicago, Ill., where they will attend the Century of Progress exposition.

Get Acquainted With This Wonderful Wave—

PERMANENT
1c WAVES 1c
ONE CENT
This Week Only

Buy one of our $5 waves, bring a friend and we will give the friend a $5 wave for one cent.

New Fall Coiffures Styled

CEIL
(YOUR) Hair Dresser
413 Calypso St. Phone 3687-J.
Cassyle, Brothers, Ringo Mgr.

Have You Tried the Miracle Mask?

Something Brand New

Removes Pimples and Blackheads

Only introduced to Monroe women last week, and it has been far more successful than any facial beauty aid we have ever used. Women from all parts of Monroe came and were delighted with the marvelous results obtained. What is the use of a muddy complexion when the Miracle Mask can relieve you almost immediately.

Phone 2070
For Appointment

Secured only at

EUNICE LEE BEAUTY SHOP

Over Morgan & Lindsey

Use Your Credit

Beautiful Eyes—Beautiful Hair —Beautiful Complexion—and now Beautiful Teeth

Thanks to Dr. Smith's Low Prices and Easy Credit

No matter how perfect in other respects—If your teeth are bad you are disfigured—AND WHY?—You can come here anytime and I will complete your work and you can pay me later.

Featherweight Plates	$17.50
Trubyte Plates	$25.00
Hecolite Plates	$30.00
Other Plates	$10, $15 and $20
Cleaning, Filling, Extracting	$1.00
Crowns and Bridgework	$5 up

Cash or Credit, Building Loan Stock or School Scrip Accepted

Dr. W. E. Smith
Over Woolworth's Store Phone 767

Silver Wedding Anniversary at Fennell Home

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fennell were the guests of honor at a charmingly planned affair at their Colonial home "Ingleside" on the eve of their silver wedding anniversary, planned by their three charming daughters, who welcomed the guests in the spacious living room banked with beautiful flowers for this auspicious occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Fennell, who dined with friends that evening, returned home to find their most cherished friends assembled in their home.

A distinct feature of the evening was the presentation of handsome gifts to the happy couple. Their granddaughters, Roberta Jean and Marianna Bower, were privileged to bestow the gifts of silver.

Refreshments were served in the dining room where the table overlaid with handsome lavendar damask was appointed with silver, exclusively. Tall tapers in silver candelabrum cast a mellow glow along the board centered with a handsome wedding cake embossed in white and surmounted with a miniature bride and groom. Silver ribbons, attached to pieces of silver, concealed underneath the cake, were pulled by the guests present, who accepted the gifts as favors.

Individual cakes and ices in pink and lavendar were served. Silver compotes held pink mints and bon bons.

Present to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Fennell and to wish for them long years of continued happiness were: Mr. and Mrs. George Guerriero, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Bower, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Bower, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Huenefeld, Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. John Lynch, Mr. Joe Guerriero, Mr. I. E. Lucas, Miss Lois Lucas, Miss Dorothy Lucas, Mrs. F. T. Smith, Miss Annie Mae Smith, Mrs. Frank Edney, Mrs. Roy Welch, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Guess, Mrs. W. B. Norsworthy, Mr. and Mrs. Boatner McQuiller, Mrs. E. W. Earl, Mrs. Wayne McDonald.

Misses Evelyn Hill and Sara Hammons entertained Wednesday evening with a charmingly-planned bridge affair in the Hammons home, honoring Miss Addie Ulmer, a bride of this week.

Golden glow and fern, overflowed from baskets placed at vantage points in the living room, forming a beautiful background for the guests who occupied the bridge tables.

Miss Ulmer wore a lovely pink crepe chiffon model. Miss Hammons' gown was of cream lace, and Miss Hill wore a lovely model of green net. Miss Mary Grace Lawn received for high bridge score a mirrored powder box. Miss Hill's and Miss Hammons' gift to the bride was a lovely lace handkerchief.

Following the bridge games Miss Ulmer was presented with a basket containing beautiful handkerchiefs from the guests presents.

A luscious salad course was served, which carried out the color scheme of green and yellow, to: Misses Addie Ulmer, May Reed, Era Madden, Maida McClendon, Sue Kilgore, Gladys Grant, Irene Clark, Helen Grant, Mary Grace Lawn, Carrie Dee Drew, Edwina Ives, Doris and Audrey Bess Hoffpauir, Juanita Hogge, Elizabeth Drew, Evelyn Hill and Sara Hammons.

Cobra Patrol, Troop 31 of Boy Scouts of America have just returned from an outing at Lake Bruin sponsored by Mayor Arnold Bernstein, Mr. I. Neel and Mr. Hall Allen of Tallulah.

The outing climaxed the two months' contest to determine the best all around patrol in the troop. The Cobras won by a narrow margin.

While on the trip various Scouting contests were held to determine the best Scout in the patrol and prizes were given to the winners. First prize, a Scout axe, was given to J. H. McClendon. Second prize, a Scout knife, was won by Jack Neel.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Neel, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Ashcraft, Patrol Leader Barry Stubbs and Assistant Patrol Leader George McLaughlin, Jack Neel, J. H. McClendon, Bob Hanna, Pat McHenry, P. A. Poag, Jr., and James Brothers.

Messrs. Jimmie Tonore, Joe Haddad, F. Cannon, Zeak Haddad, Julius Haddad left yesterday for New Orleans to attend the Southern Federation of Syrian clubs. En route home, they will attend a dance in Jackson, Miss., at the Edwards hotel, given by the Sigma Beta Gamma club of that city.

Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Vaughan and niece, Betty Reily, returned home last night from a two weeks- visit in Chicago, where they attended the Century of Progress exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Blankenship of Wichita Falls, Texas, are enjoying a visit in the home of their mother, Mrs. H. E. Blankenship, 308 Arkansas avenue.

Miss Lillian Daniels Pierce has returned from a visit with her parents in Lone Rock, Iowa, and a visit to the World's Fair in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Algernon Flournoy completed a six weeks' visit in this city with their mother, Mrs. Thomas E. Flournoy, and returned to their home in Washington, D. C., Friday morning.

Friends of Mr. W. C. Faulk will be glad to know that he is convalescing at his home on North Second street from an operation performed at St. Francis sanitarium.

PERMANENTS!
PERMANENTS!

Shampoo and Wave Set 40c

$1.95 Complete

Phone 1296

Monroe Beauty School

Mrs. Morris M. LaCroix, of Baton Rouge, La., a charming visitor in the city last week, in the home of her sister Mrs. Alfred Reid. Mrs. LaCroix was introduced to a few intimates at a beautifully planned affair on the Virginia roof garden with Mrs. Reid the gracious hostess. Several other affairs, equally charming, were planned in honor of Mrs. LaCroix.

Mrs. Harper Hostess At Bridge Affair

Mrs. Edward Harper, Jr., entertained members of her bridge club Thursday afternoon with Miss Flonnie Barfield of Shreveport, the guest of honor, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Stanley Reid, of the West Side.

Mrs. Harper employed a green and yellow color theme in all the details with beautiful yellow blossoms banking the living room where the tables were grouped for bridge. The score cards were clever little conceits of green and yellow. The high score gift was claimed by Mrs. J. F. Swayze and the low score gift awarded to Mrs. Tex Bender.

The refreshments, reflecting the green and yellow color theme, were served at the card tables covered with green linen bordered with yellow. A salad course with green ices and delicious sandwiches tinted yellow and green was served to Miss Barfield, Mrs. Smith Colvin, Mrs. Ira LeGuin, Mrs. Tex Bender, Mrs. J. F. Swayze, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Louie Rinehart, Miss Helen McCormick, Miss Maida McClendon, Mrs. A. M. Daehla, Mrs. Clifford Benson.

Friends of Mr. Fred E. Doueiere of Rayville will be glad to know he is much improved from a serious illness. He is still a patient at St. Francis sanitarium.

Mrs. Dick Boyce and Mrs. Aucie Beckham motored to New Orleans this week end to enjoy a visit with friends.

Misses Lillian and Dorothy Lee Stodghill of Rayville are the guests of Miss Mary Wilba McKee.

Miss Grace Dawkins, lovely daughter of Commissioner T. C. Dawkins of Shreveport was the guest last week of Miss Alma Dell McKee.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Oliver left last night for Chicago where Mr. Oliver will attend a meeting of the National Banker's association, and with Mrs. Oliver enjoy a visit to the world's fair.

Mrs. Blanche Oliver has returned from Chicago where she has been spending the past ten days visiting the Century of Progress exposition.

Mrs. George Moffett and daughter, Miss Sara Elizabeth Moffett, accompanied by Miss Catherine Averett and Miss Hazel Stovall, have returned from New Orleans, where they have been visiting for the past few weeks.

Mrs. J. L. Cummins and Mr. Albert Cummins have returned from an interesting motor trip in Florida, Mississippi and Tennessee, where they were delightfully entertained by friends and relatives.

Mrs. Blanche Lee is spending the week-end with her mother in Little Rock and will be accompanied home by her little daughter, Marjorie Sue, who spent the summer with her grandmother.

Textbooks Are Received By Schools In Ouachita

Between 2,000 and 3,000 textbooks have arrived from the office of Supt. of Education T. H. Harris for the use of the high schools and grades. One consignment came to the local parish schools while another was received by the city schools.

This year all pupils in the Ouachita Parish high school will receive new books throughout. The grades will be supplied with new books only in part, as a year ago they were supplied with all new textbooks, it was stated at the office of T. O. Brown, superintendent of parish schools.

The various city and parish school buildings are being made ready for the opening of the fall term and will be in the best of condition by September 18.

Saint Matthew's parochial school is to open earlier than the public schools, date for the fall term having been set for September 11.

Superintendents of schools predict that enrollments will be even larger this fall than has been the case in years past.

The Bachelor's Button, a domestic flower, is a native of India. It was home here some time in mid-winter.

Adrian Brewer Completes Notable Portrait Work

(Continued from Sixth Page)

The Brewer painting of Miss Biedenharn represents the young artist in a delightfully informal pose. The charm of her personality is emphasized in the luminous treatment of her expressive eyes, and the quiet firmness of the mobile mouth suggests the strength of character that is notably dominant in the face. The portrait painter has brought out latent qualities which stress the vivid charm of the singer. The vivacity, which is one of her characteristic features, is only subtly suggested. The flesh-tones are done with a fidelity and a liveliness that make the portrait a significant work of art.

Mr. Brewer, who came to Monroe early in the summer to conduct classes under the auspices of the Sketch club, has also done a delightful character study of Mrs. H. M. James, president of the club, as well as a portrait of Mrs. H. R. Speed, who is known as one of Monroe's most lovely women. Another picture from the Brewer studio is a striking study of Miss Alma Potts, member of the younger social group of the city.

Aside from the portraits of Monroe women, Mr. Brewer has painted a picture of the late Mrs. T. K. Simmons, mother of Mrs. J. L. Keenan. This portrait, which was done with only an earlier picutre as a guide, is pronounced by those who knew Mrs. Simmons as a marvelously fine-drawn likeness.

Mr. Brewer, during his stay in Monroe, has made many warm friends among those who are identified with the cultural circles of the city. He is the first portrait painter who has spent any time in the city working at his chosen profession. His exhibition of western pictures, colorful and impressive in their vivid realism, have attracted much attention during the period they were hanging on the mezzanine floor of the Virginia hotel. The artist has been given many honors for his accomplishments both as a portrait painter and as a landscape artist of unusual and expressive technique. He conducts an art school at Little Rock, which is his home. One of his most famed portraits is that of Senator Joe T. Robinson, which hangs in the Arkansas state capitol. He won the first prize for oils at the San Angelo, Texas, association's exhibition in 1929, and the first prize for a Texas landscape given by Edgar B. Davis in a national competition in 1928.

Mrs. B. Poimboeuf has returned from Bastrop accompanied by her son, Jack, who underwent a tonsular operation, performed by his uncle, Dr. Walter Poimboeuf, while visiting in his home.

Mrs. F. J. Cox Named Head Of NRA Drive

At the meeting of the NRA committee held Friday evening at the Virginia hotel, Mrs. Fagan Cox was appointed chairman of the committee to be in charge of the house to house canvass to be made for the purpose of getting consumers' cards signed supporting the NRA program. Probably no other person in Monroe is better qualified to have charge of this work than Mrs. Cox and she will no doubt have the whole hearted support of her entire committee.

Other members of her committee are Mrs. Jessie Sadler, Miss Julia Wossman, Mrs. Leon McHenry, Mrs. Nell Grigsby, Mrs. Jonas Selig, Mrs. T. L. Morris, D. M. Doughty, and L. O. Quinn. A meeting will be held Monday evening at seven thirty o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce when plans will be perfected for an intensive city wide house to house canvass which will be conducted Sunday afternoon September tenth, between the hours of two and four.

Every woman in Monroe is urged to remain at home during these hours, so she will have the privilege of signing the consumers' cards. It has been estimated that over eighty per cent of the purchases made in the average American home are made by women and it is most important that every woman pledge her cooperation and support of the NRA program. Every woman in Monroe supporting the President's NRA program, will assist in bringing back normalcy to our city. Monroe women who have always been relied upon in times of disaster and stress, will, with but few exceptions rally to the support of the NRA.

Miss Marjorie Jones and Mr. Prentiss Tomlinson, of Ruston, stole a march on their friends Tuesday morning when they slipped quietly away to Monroe and were married.

The bride is a graduate of Louisiana Tech and a member of Theta Upsilon sorority. The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. Spencer Tomlinson and Mrs. Tomlinson of the Wesley Chapel community, and their romance began during early school days.

Mr. Tomlinson also, is a graduate of Louisiana Tech and of L. S. U., having at the latter obtained a master's degree in geology. He is a member of Delta Alpha Rho and of Alpha Lambda Tau fraternities.

Immediately following their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Tomlinson left for Lacedale, Mississippi, their future home, where Mr. Tomlinson is associated with a gas company and where numerous good wishes for the continued happiness of the twain will follow them from their Ruston friends and those of elsewhere.

Miss Bessie Henry, who had the misfortune to fall and break her arm recently, is still confined indoors.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Kramer have returned from a visit to the World's Fair in Chicago and a steamer trip to Milwaukee, Wis. They also visited in St. Louis, en route home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Nichols left Friday for San Antonio, Texas, where they will make their home in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Nelson announce the arrival of their first son, C. L., Jr., at St. Francis sanitarium on the morning of August.

Friends of Mrs. Kate O'Neil will learn with regret that she will not return to this city to reside as she recently accepted a position with a New York publishing house. Mrs. O'Neil was associated for several years with the Standard Office and Supply company of this city and during that time made many friends for herself and her employers as well.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dryburgh and two daughters returned home last week from a two months' visit in Chicago.

Prominent on this week's calendar is the benefit bridge at Riverside Country club sponsored by members of the Women's Auxiliary to the Ouachita Parish Medical society. Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Handsome prizes will be presented for high auction and contract scores and cooling drinks will be served throughout the afternoon. For reservations call 611.

Mrs. Marion Learned has returned from a pleasant as well as profitable visit in Chicago where she visited the market in the interest of her English Shoppe in this city and also enjoyed several visits to the Century of Progress exposition.

Society Calendar

Monday

Benefit ball game at Forsythe park. Proceeds of game used to buy medicine for charity patients.

Benefit dance for unemployed, at Hotel Monroe, 9 o'clock.

Meeting of the "Review Club" Monday afternoon at 2:30 with Mrs. Fred Fudickar, 1000 Riverfront.

Tuesday

Circle 8 of Presbyterian Auxiliary will meet at the Business and Professional Women's club at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Mildred Richardson will be hostess. Mrs. Lloyd Surghnor will give the Bible lesson. Loyalty program. Every member is expected to be present.

Business meeting of the Methodist Missionary society, 3 p.m.

Meeting of the Baptist missionary society, 3 p.m.

Meeting of Grace church Guild with Mrs. E. T. Lamkin. Mrs. Elmer Slagle, co-hostess, 2:30 p.m.

The Presbyterian Woman's auxiliary will hold its regular monthly business meeting in the church school room. 3:30 p. m.

Marriage of Miss Jessie Richardson and Reverend L. G. Moseley at First Baptist church, 9 a.m. Friends are invited through this medium.

Wednesday

Meeting of the Catholic Ladies Altar society with Mrs. W. E. Reardon, 2:30 p.m.

Benefit bridge affair at Riverside Country club sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Ouachita Medical society, 2:30 p.m. For reservations ring 611.

Mr. Mike John, Jr., is entertaining two classmates at L. S. U., Joe Elem of Shreveport and Cary Saurage of Baton Rouge, at the hospitable home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike John, Sr., on Bres avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hamrick have many friends in this city who regret to learn they will make their future home in St. Louis, Mo.

DESIARD BEAUTY SHOP
121 DeSiard St.

Permanents
$3.00, $5.00 each

One Week's Special
Permanents
$1.50 each (Spiral)

S. O. S. Dandruff Treatment

Lady Frances Facials

Phone 1955

The many friends of Mrs. Frances Galloway will regret to learn of her illness at her home at 405 Calypso.

LABOR DAY
Will Find Us
Open As Usual

Ready to take care of you who did not get your appointment yesterday.

A visit to our salon will convince you of its superior comfort and friendly atmosphere these warm days.

Note—
This shop is in no way connected with any other shop of similar name

FRANCES BEAUTY SALON
Mezzanine Floor
Phones 708 and 3170
Hotel Frances

OPENING
Monroe Business School
Fall Term
Sept. 11 to 18

If you enter during the opening dates you will have a decided advantage over students entering later.

First—We will still give you depression prices.

Second—We will pay one-half cost of text books.

Third—We will give you our "machine bookkeeping course" free of charge.

We have had calls from seven business men in succession for office help, and none of them would employ a student who didn't have bookkeeping. To meet this demand we have combined bookkeeping—accounting with typing-shorthand. These two courses sell for $95.00.

This Gives You
Three Complete Courses
At An Average Cost of $31.66 for Each Course

— TERMS —
$7.00 Down—Then $3.00 Week

Night Classes $1.25 Week
These terms positively expire Sept. 18th

Yours for a Business Education
Monroe Commercial School
116½ DeSiard St. Phone 1446

Buy It From Your Nearest Grocer

Butter-Krust BREAD

"The Toast of Monroe"

Ouachita Baking Co.
— WHOLESALE —

MONROE'S FIRST AND ONLY
CUT RATE DRUG STORE

Phone 159 — 217 DeSiard

We Deliver to All Parts of Twin Cities

NRA MEMBER U.S. WE DO OUR PART

Bring Us Your Prescriptions for Better Prices

25c Kleenex	20c	$1.00 Wampole's Cod Liver Extract	79c
25c Kotex	20c	$1.00 Nujol	79c
25c J & J Baby Talcum	19c	$1.00 Wine Cardui	89c
25c Shu-milk	19c	$1.00 Citrocarbonate	79c
25c Black Draught	19c	$1.00 Ironized Yeast	89c
25c Feenamint	19c	$1.25 Caroid & Bile Salts Tablets	98c
30c Laxative Bromo Quinine	21c	$1.25 Creomulsion	98c
30c Spiro Powder	26c	$1.20 Syrup of Pepsin	98c
30c Mexican Heat Powder	22c	$1.00 Co-re-ga	89c
Ingram's Shaving Cream	31c	$1.25 Quart Russian Mineral Oil	89c
Freezone	31c	50c Vick's Nose & Throat Drops	39c
35c Barbasol	31c	35c Vick's Salve	29c
50c Phillips Milk of Magnesia	39c	$1.00 Ovaltine	84c
50c Ipana Tooth Paste	39c	50c Detexol Tooth Paste	39c
50c Prophylactic Tooth Brush	39c	$1.25 Absorbine Jr.	$1.10
50c Dr. West's Tooth Brush	39c	$1.00 Waterbury Compound	79c
$1.50 Lydia E. Pinkham Compound	$1.19	50c Gillette Blue Blades	25c
50c 666 Chill Tonic	39c	40c Musterole	34c
Pint Rubbing Alcohol	39c	$1.00 Hobo K. & B. Medicine	89c
50c Jergen's Lotion	39c	60c Caldwell Syrup Pepsin	47c
75c Fletcher's Castoria	67c
85c Kruschen Salts	77c

RED HOT SPECIALS

$1.00 Guaranteed Fountain Syringe	59c	$1.20 Value—9 bars Jergens and Woodbury Soap	59c
$1.25 Genuine Badger Shaving Brush	59c	15c Rit—all colors	10c
$1.00 Herpicide Hair Tonic	69c	Woodbury Facial Soap	10c
$1.00 Fitch Shampoo with Hair Oil	49c	50c Woodbury Shaving Lotion	39c

SANDMAN'S PHARMACY
INCORPORATED
Phone 159 — 217 DeSiard

Announcement

OPENING SPECIALS FOR 10 DAYS ONLY
Permanent Wave $1.95
Shampoo and Finger Wave ..... .35

Francis Beauty Parlor
601 Catalpa Street Phone 3202

NRA WE DO OUR PART

Mulhearn's Funeral Home
Inc.

The Home of Dignified and Sympathetic Service

Your memory of the last rites for your loved ones is a comfort to you when these services are carried out with sympathetic understanding.

AMBULANCE CALLS ANSWERED PROMPTLY

Phone 65 or 66 — 500 St. John St.

EDITED BY GEORGE V. LOFTON

SPORTS of the WORLD

FIRST NEWS EXPERT VIEWS ON ALL THE SPORTS

GIANTS WIN THIRD STRAIGHT FROM BRAVES, 5 TO 3

GIANTS MAINTAIN SEVEN-GAME LEAD OVER PITTSBURGH

Schumacher and Bell Outpitch Zachary; Davis Hits Home Run

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 2.—(AP)—The leading New York Giants relieved some of the pressure being exerted against them in the drive for the National league pennant today by turning back the hopeful Boston Braves for the third straight time before a sharply-reduced crowd of 20,000.

Davis

Hal Schumacher, right - handed member of Manager Bill Terry's "Big Four" pitching staff, gained his 16th victory of the season when the Braves were polished off by a 5-3 margin. Schumacher, however, did not go the full distance. Early in the seventh, his arm started bothering him and Terry promptly replaced him with Herman Bell the Giants' number 1 trouble-shooter.

Terry's starting choice held the Braves to five hits and had a safe 5-2 lead when he retired.

The Braves started Tom Zachary, their veteran southpaw, with the hope that he would be able to keep the Giants going after bad balls, but they refused to oblige.

Davis slammed a homer into the left-field stands with none on and none out in the fourth and the Giants clicked again in the fifth on doubles by Jackson and Ryan.

Joe Mowry's contribution to the game was a ninth inning fly to Ott, who made a spectacular somersault catch that drew simultaneous decisions from two of the four umpires. The veteran Bill Klem, officiating at first base, ruled it a hit just as Cy Pfirman, stationed at second base, waved Mowry out.

This conflict of official opinion enraged both clubs and led to an earnest exchange of views between Pfirman and Klem, which ended with Klem reversing his decision, something the dean of the National league official corps has never done before in his career that is nearing the quarter-century mark.

Today's victory placed the Giants seven games ahead of the second-place Pittsburgh Pirates and eight in front of the Braves, who will wind up the current series with tomorrow's second doubleheader in three days. Terry was expected to send back Roy Parmelee for the first game and call upon Bill Shores, another right-hander to work the second. The Braves appeared forced to work Huck Betts and Ben Cantwell, who gained a 7-3 win in Thursday's opener.

Box score:

NEW YORK—	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Davis, cf.	4	2	1	0	0	0
Critz, 2b.	5	0	1	3	6	0
Terry, 1b.	3	2	1	14	0	0
Peel, lf.	1	0	0	0	0	0
J. Moore, lf.	3	0	0	1	0	0
Ott, rf.	5	0	2	2	0	0
Jackson, 3b.	4	1	3	1	3	0
Mancuso, c.	2	0	0	4	0	0
Ryan, ss.	4	0	1	2	4	0
Schumacher, p.	3	0	0	0	4	0
Bell, p.	1	0	0	0	1	0
Totals	35	5	9	27	18	0
BOSTON—	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Maranville, 2b.	4	2	3	1	1	0
Urbanski, ss.	3	1	1	2	2	0
Jordan, 1b.	4	0	0	9	0	1
Berger, cf.	4	0	3	5	0	0
Whitney, 3b.	4	0	0	0	2	0
Worthington, rf.	2	0	1	2	0	0
zBrandt	0	0	0	0	0	0
Mowry, rf.	1	0	0	1	0	0
Lee, lf.	4	0	0	6	0	0
Spohrer, c.	4	0	0	1	1	0
Zachary, p.	0	0	0	0	0	0
Smith, p.	3	0	0	0	1	0
Totals	33	3	7	27	7	1

zRan for Worthington in seventh.

Score by innings:

New York	201	110	000— 5
Boston	002	000	010— 3

Summary — Runs batted in, Terry, Ott 2, Davis, Ryan, Berger 3. Two-base hits, Terry, Jackson 2, Ryan, Berger. Home run, Davis. Sacrifices, Peel, Terry. Double play, Critz, Ryan to Terry. Left on bases, New York 9, Boston 5. Base on balls, off Schumacher 2, Zachary 3, Smith 1. Struck out, by Schumacher 3, Bell 1. Hits, off Schumacher 5 in 6 innings (none out in seventh), Bell 2 in 3, Zachary 4 in 2 1-3, Smith 5 in 6 2-3. Winning pitcher, Schumacher. Losing pitcher, Zachary. Umpires, Magerkurth, Klem, Pfirman and Stark. Time, 2:00.

CUBS SHUT OUT REDS

CINCINNATI, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Held in check by young Bud Tinning, the erratic Cincinnati Reds lost to the Chicago Cubs, 5 to 0, today after yesterday's victory gave the fans hopes the home team was ready to desert the cellar.

Tinning yielded four hits and a walk while the Cubs tapped Derringer and Stout for ten blows, three for extra bases, to win the last game they will play here this season.

Box score:

CHICAGO—	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Hack, 3b.	4	1	2	2	4	0
W. Herman, 2b.	4	1	1	6	5	0
Cuyler, cf.	3	0	0	2	0	0
F. Herman, rf.	4	0	1	3	0	0
Stephenson, lf.	4	1	1	1	0	0
Hartnett, c.	4	2	3	2	0	0
Grimm, 1b.	3	0	1	10	0	1
Jurges, ss.	4	0	0	1	4	0
Tinning, p.	4	0	1	0	1	0
Totals	34	5	10	27	14	1
CINCINNATI—	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Adams, 3b.	3	0	2	1	2	0
Rogers, lf.	3	0	0	2	0	0
Maier, cf.	4	0	2	2	0	0
Lombardi, c.	4	0	0	4	2	0
Berzomsley, 1b.	3	0	0	13	1	0
[illegible], rf.	3	0	0	0	0	0
[illegible], 2b.	3	0	0	3	5	1
[illegible], ss.	2	0	0	2	4	0
[illegible]	1	0	0	0	0	0
[illegible], p.	0	0	0	0	0	0
[illegible]	1	0	0	0	0	0
[illegible], 2b	1	0	0	0	0	0
[illegible]	29	0	4	27	15	1

[illegible] for Bluege in eighth.

[illegible] by innings:

[illegible]	110	100	020— 5
[illegible]	000	000	000— 0

[illegible] — Runs batted in, F. Herman, [illegible] Hartnett, Tinning. Two-base [illegible] Stephenson. Three-base hits,

(Continued on Ninth Page)

Gar Wood Beats Briton in First Heat of Harmsworth

U. S. Defender Has Speed to Spare In Trimming Scott-Paine

By David J. Wilkie

MARINE CITY, Mich., Sept. 2.—(AP)—A burst of speed somewhere above the 90-mile-an-hour mark gave Gar Wood in his Miss America X a lead in the first race of the 1933 Harmsworth series today that Hubert Scott-Paine, in silver-hued Miss Britain III, could not overcome, and the victorious American defender finished throttled down over the St. Clair river course.

Gar Wood

The race was twice postponed by a choppy course. Originally it was scheduled for 3 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, but the starter's gun was not heard until three hours later, at 6 p. m.

Although the British challenger was badly beaten by Wood, who immediately after he had gained a comfortable lead, slowed down his giant motors, he picked up speed rapidly as the race proceeded, improving from an initial average of 66.039 statute miles an hour in the opening circuit of the seven-nautical-mile course to a high of 82.265 in his final lap. His average for the 35 nautical miles was 78.449 statute miles an hour. Wood's average was 82.498, his fastest being the first lap at 88.052, and his slowest, the fifth, at 77.124.

Although Scott-Paine was defeated, he accomplished what only two previous challengers have been able to do against Wood—he finished the heat and finished it strong. So strong was he going in the tiny 24 1-2-foot craft that after crossing the finish he swung around sharply and headed for his boat well, several miles downstream at top speed, roaring through the center of the course, trailed by some 150 small runabouts.

The only other two challengers for the Harmsworth trophy to finish a head against Wood were Betty Carstairs in 1930 with her Estelle IV, and Kaye Don in 1931, with his Miss England II.

Wood's speed for his opening lap came close to breaking the lap record of 88.685 miles an hour which Don made in 1931, before his boat was disqualified for a premature start.

Scott-Paine's supporters became alarmed momentarily by his maneuvers at the start. With only a minute before the gun, he was far across the course, while Wood was swinging down under good speed close to the American shore. Scott-Paine, however, apparently had a definite objective—he started his race from Canadian water, and cutting sharply caross the course above the starting line hit it almost simultaneously with Wood.

Wood's big defender was only a few inches in the lead. Soon, however, he opened up Miss America X's engines and drew away. Finishing his first lap of the course he had a lead of three-quarters of a mile and gradually extended it until he was at the lower end of the course before the British pilot had made the turn at the upper end.

The defender held this margin to the end of the race and apparently had a wealth of power in reserve as he swung across the line for the finish.

The race did not answer the question of whether Scott-Paine's boat is a worthy challenger for the Harmsworth, because the British pilot plainly was unable to get his boat under full speed the first time around.

Threat of a third entry disappeared a few minutes before the race time when Horace E. Dodge's Delphine V, being brought up to the timer's stand preparatory to the start, was destroyed by fire. Neither Bill Horn, in the pilot's seat, nor Clarence "Red" Gallagher, mechanic, was hurt, both leaping from the flaming craft as Horn drove her up on the beach below the lower turn of the Harmsworth course. Horn said he believed a backfire caused the blaze.

The second race of the series is scheduled for Monday at 3 p. m., Eastern Standard Time. If Scott-Paine can win Monday's heat, the race will go into a third contest on Tuesday, barring postponement on account of weather conditions.

BRITONS ADVANCE IN NET TOURNEY

Favorites Have Little Trouble In First National Matches

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Four stars of the foreign contingent, led by Frederick J. Perry, hero of the British Davis cup team, joined the somewhat rapid and generally perfunctory advance of favorites today in the first round of the national men's singles championship at the West Side Tennis club.

Perry had little difficulty disposing of Edward W. Burns, Jr., of New York, 6-1, 6-3, 6-2, but Ryosuke Nunoi, Japan's number 2 and the two young Australians, Don Turnbull and Adrian Quist, were harder pressed, even though not in much danger of losing.

Nunoi wore down the hard hitting Baltimore southpaw, Eddie Jacobs, in a bristling second set to win at 6-3, 9-7, 6-2. Turnbull beat the veteran Herbert L. Bowman of New York, 3-6, 6-2, 6-2, 6-1, while Quist pulled out a brisk match with Hudson Hamm, Jr., of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., 6-2, 6-4, 9-7.

Two American internationalists, George M. Lott, Jr., of Chicago, and Keith Gledhill of Santa Barbara, Cal., each dropped a set before settling down to serious tennis.

W. Barry Wood, Jr., East Edgecomb, Maine, defeated Watson M. Washburn, New York, 6-3, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3. Samuel Gilpin, Philadelphia, defeated Hunt T. Dickinson, New York, 6-4, 6-3, 8-6.

OUACHITA VALLEY

CLARKS PLAYS ENGINEERS

CLARKS, Sept. 2.—(Special)—The Clarks Lumberjacks will engage the Sterlington Engineers in a double header on the local diamond Sunday The first game will start at 2:30.

Both of these teams are in the thick of the pennant fight and the two games are expected to be hard fought.

The Clarks hurlers are in good shape and feel that they can stop the heavy hitting Sterlington aggregation. A capacity crowd is expected to turn out.

Clarks plays L. T. I. Tuesday afternoon.

FAIRBANKS TRIMS SWARTZ

Getting to Cordell for 15 safeties, the league leading Fairbanks team defeated Swartz at Fairbanks yesterday afternoon, 8 to 1.

Fiser, Fairbanks hurler, held the visitors to five scattered hits and was never in danger. Senn led the Fairbanks attack on Cordell, getting four hits in four trips to the plate. Jack Bagwell hit a home run and McVay got a triple and a double.

Score by innings: R. H. E.

Swartz	000 001 000—	1	5 4
Fairbanks	003 030 20*—	8	15 3

Batteries — Cordell and Courtney; Fiser and Wyatt.

GAY WORLD WINS CHICAGO DERBY

$10,000 Hawthorne Feature Captured By Unknown In Big Upset

HAWTHORNE RACE TRACK, CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—(AP)—From out of the clouds dropped a colt named Gay World, racing under the silks of a man nobody of the turf knows—J. A. Nix of Texas—to win the $10,000 added Chicago derby today in a surprising upset.

Gay World, a 3-year-old son of Torch Bearer of Cherokee-Charming manner, with Jockey W. D. Wright up, charged down the center of the track to completely upset the 3-year-old championship situation. He came galloping home with a length to spare with the Dixiana stable's Esseff second. Four lengths back was the soundly defeated odds-on favorite, Mr. Khayyam, the Catawba farms colt, that had been considered so close to the 3-year-old championship that the crowd of 15,000 backed him down to a 3 to 5 favorite.

Strunk out behind this trio was a good field of 3-year-olds, Royal Blunder, Okapi, Sarada, At Top and Barn Swallow. Big Red was scratched, in the field of nine when it became apparent that the track would be fast.

Gay World ran the mile and a quarter in 2:04 3-5 and won $7,650 for his owner as a result of his victory in the first stake race to which he had ever been sent to the post. Overlooked in the betting, Gay World paid $37.76 to win, $12.58 to place and $5.10 to show. Esseff, another longshot, paid $10.68 to place with $4.72 to show, while the show price on Mr. Khayyam was 2.62.

The race was the final stake of the Hawthorne season which closed a successful 30-day meeting today.

Beaumont Club Graduates Four Players to Tigers

BEAUMONT, Texas, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Four players have been graduated to the Detroit Tigers from the Beaumont and Shreveport clubs, according to announcement by local baseball officials tonight. Herman Clifton, second baseman; Francis Parker, shortstop, and Joe Sullivan, southpaw pitcher, are the Beaumont players who will receive a try-out with the American league club next spring, while Steve Larkin of Shreveport, whose contract is held by the Exporters, also will get a trial. Larkin is a right handed pitcher.

Clifton is the leading base stealer of the Texas league and has been consistently hitting better than .300. He is conceded the best chance of the quartet to stick.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE

Oakland 2; Missions 4.
Three night games.

STANDINGS TODAY

BIG SIX LEAGUE

Teams—	Won	Lost	Pct.
Bastrop	15	8	.652
Tallulah	14	12	.538
Oak Grove	11	12	.478
Farmerville	9	17	.346

Today's Games

Farmerville at Tallulah.
Oak Grove at Bastrop.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

New York	76	48	.613
Pittsburgh	70	56	.556
Boston	70	58	.547
Chicago	70	59	.543
St. Louis	69	61	.531
Brooklyn	52	73	.416
Philadelphia	51	73	.411
Cincinnati	49	79	.383

Yesterday's Results

Philadelphia 2; Brooklyn 0.
New York 5; Boston 3.
St. Louis 1; Pittsburgh 4.
Chicago 5; Cincinnati 0.

Today's Games

New York at Boston (2).
Philadelphia at Brooklyn.
Pittsburgh at Cincinnati.
St. Louis at Chicago.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Washington	83	45	.648
New York	74	52	.587
Cleveland	69	63	.523
Philadelphia	63	64	.496
Detroit	63	67	.485
Chicago	60	69	.465
Boston	56	74	.431
St. Louis	48	82	.369

Yesterday's Results

Washington 3-8; Philadelphia 7-4.
Boston 1; New York 2.
Cleveland 12; Chicago 4.
Detroit 1; St. Louis 7.

Today's Games

Detroit at St. Louis.
Cleveland at Chicago.
Boston at Washington.
Philadelphia at New York.

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION

New Orleans	42	25	.627
Memphis	38	28	.576
Knoxville	37	29	.561
Nashville	31	31	.500
Little Rock	34	34	.500
Birmingham	29	34	.460
Chattanooga	30	40	.429
Atlanta	23	43	.348

Yesterday's Results

New Orleans 13; Atlanta 2.
Knoxville 10; Chattanooga 9.
Memphis-Nashville rain.
Only games scheduled.

Today's Games

Knoxville at Chattanooga.
Memphis at Little Rock.
New Orleans at Birmingham.
Atlanta at Nashville.

TEXAS LEAGUE

Houston	92	56	.622
Galveston	87	64	.576
Dallas	78	70	.527
San Antonio	77	71	.520
Beaumont	73	75	.493
Tulsa	63	84	.429
Fort Worth	63	84	.429
Oklahoma City	60	88	.405

Yesterday's Results

Galveston 4-3; Beaumont 8-4.
San Antonio 1; Houston 13.
Fort Worth at Tulsa, rain.
Dallas at Oklahoma City, rain.

Today's Games

Dallas at Oklahoma City.
Fort Worth at Tulsa.
San Antonio at Galveston.
Houston at Beaumont.

LOCAL DOUBLES TEAM SURVIVES

Daimwood and Nichols Win at Alex; Singles Entrants Lose

ALEXANDRIA, La., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Opening play in the annual Louisiana state tennis tournament here today left eight survivors in men's singles, four in women's singles and eight teams in men's doubles.

Barrett of Shreveport, who breezed through to a 6-2, 6-0 victory over Bize of Aleaxndria, is favored for the men's singles title, along with Rudy, also of Shreveport.

Helen Carney of Shreveport. gulf states women's singles champion, is picked to win that event. Betty Bringhurst of Alexandria, who won from Lomasney of Alexandria, 6-5, 6-1, is looked upon as a likely contender.

Quarter-final and semi-final matches will be played tomorrow, with finals and consolations scheduled for Labor Day.

Today's results:

Men's singles—Barrett, Shreveport, defeated Bize, Alexandria, 6-2, 6-0; Abramson, Shreveport, defeated Knighten. Lafayette, 6-1, 6-1, and McMichael, Alexandria, 6-0, 6-0. Bowles, Lafayette, defeated Moses, Selma, 8-6, 6-3. M. Shapiro, Alexandria, 6-4, 3-6, 8-6 and Nichols, Monroe, 6-2, 6-0. Klamke, Alexandria, defeated Jones, 6-1, 7-5. J. Shapiro, Alexandria, defeated Daimwood, Monroe, 6-2, 6-3, and Pitts, Alexandria, 6-1. 6-1. Ewing, Alexandria, defeated Wilcox, Selma, 7-5, 6-3. Duffey, Montgomery, drew a bye. Rudy, Shreveport, drew a bye.

Women's singles—Bringhurst, Alexandria, defeated Lomasney, Alexandria. 6-5, 6-1. Simpson, Alexandria, defeated Grey, Alexandria, 6-3, 6-0. Bringhurst, Alexandria, defeated Soden, Alexandria, 6-2, 8-6. Proctor, Alexandria, defeated Neville, 6-3, 6-4, and White. 6-3, 6-4. Helen Carney, Shreveport, also remains in play.

Men's doubles—Hunter and Klamke, Alexandria, defeated Hixson and Stewart, Alexandria, 6-3, 6-0. Barrett and Rudy, Shreveport, defeated Hunter and Klamke, Alexandria, 6-0, 4-6, 6-1. J. Shapiro and McMichael, Alexandria, defeated M. Shapiro and Bowles, 6-4, 7-5.

Other doubles teams remaining in play are Abramson and Murov, Shreveport; Wilcox and Moses, Selma; Pitts and Bringhurst, Alexandria; Ewing and Bize, Alexandria; H. Duffy and Pott, Montgomery; Daimwood and Nichols, Monroe.

Sports Sell Steve Larkin For Delivery to Detroit

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 2.—(AP)—By way of the Beaumont Exporters, Steve Larkin, leading hurler for the Shreveport Sports and the Dixie league, is going to the majors.

Larkin, who has turned in 22 victories this season for the Sports, has been picked off the Shreveport club by the Beaumont club, which, in turn, will sell him to the Detroit Tigers. This announcement was made here today by Jack Zeller, southwestern representative of the Detroit club.

Larkin will join the Exporters following the double header between Shreveport and Baton Rouge in Shreveport Labor day. When he will report to the Tigers hasn't yet been decided upon. He may not join the big leaguers until next spring.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Louisville 9; Toledo 9 (called end ninth).
Kansas City 3; Milwaukee 6.
Minneapolis 4; St. Paul 3.
Indianapolis at Columbus, rain.

Great Rally Wins National Title for Virginia Van Wie

Chicago Star Comes From Behind to Beat Helen Hicks, 4-3

By Paul Mickelson
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

EXMOOR COUNTRY CLUB, HIGHLAND PARK, Ill., Sept. 2.—A champion who wouldn't be beaten stepped up tonight to accept the ancient silvery trophy, emblematic of the women's golf championship of the United States, for the second successive year.

Virginia Van Wie was her name and as she hugged the big cup on the portico of the old Colonial clubhouse of Exmoor, she was given one of the greatest ovations ever rendered any champion by a gallery of 3,000 spectators who had watched her come back from almost hopeless defeat to a great 4 and 3 triumph over her last barrier to the title, Helen "Billy" Hicks, of Hewlett, Long Island, New York.

There have been greater comebacks in sport but the galleryites at Exmoor will never forget how the girl from the Beverly club of Chicago, a girl of Dutch descent with inherent Dutch stubborness, had raffled to win a decisive victory with a brand of golf seldom equalled in the ranks of "powder puff" golf.

Drawn and tired from her semi-final victory over Enid Wilson, England's three time champion, Virginia fell four down after the initial 14 holes of the final battle for the prized title and almost everyone, knowing her reputation for losing championship finals by wide margins, figured she was all through, washed up. But back she came with sub par golf that tied and then beat her long distance rival with ease as her magic putter turned defeat into victory.

The champion opened her drive after Miss Hicks had won three successive holes of the backward stretch of the morning round to sail four up. She started out by halving the fifteenth with a birdie four and then picked up the 16th and 18th with birdie fours, reducing Helen's margin to two up at lunch. Finding the range and growing stronger instead of weaker, she lost only one hole of the afternoon. She broke par by four shots as Helen's putter rebelled at crucial seconds when putts of feet and inches were needed for halves.

The twenty-fourth green, where Helen missed a putt from five feet for a half, squared the tussle. Virginia drilled in with perfect golf, and as the gallery, pulling for the trailer, cheered, she dumped in a 45 foot putt on the next hole for a deuce to go ahead and stay. A dead stymie on the 27th sent her two up and around the three quarter turn with a medal card of 37, only one shot over men's par and two strokes under women's perfect figures.

VIRGINIA VAN WIE

The girl from Long Island, champion herself in 1931, didn't have a chance after that, although she shot par golf. Miss Van Wie scored an even 32 for the final nine holes she played and even a Bobby Jones or a Gene Sarazen would have to shoot over their head to beat that kind of golf. The match ended on the 33rd green as a muddy ball forced Miss Hicks to take three putts and miss a chance to extend the match with a birdie four.

The champion ended her title march by beating par by six shots in the 110 holes she had to travel over the rolling terrain of Exmoor—golf that makes champions and keeps them champions.

But for her stubborn putter, Billy of Hewlett might have won today. She exceeded the champion off the tee with drives that averaged approximately 206 yards and hit far truer irons except over the final 11 holes. For the 33 holes, she required only 62 putts, many of them long ones or irritants of the seven and six foot variety.

LOCAL SWIMMERS WIN AT BASTROP

Monroe Team Scores 45 Points to 17 For Bastrop Aggregation

Swimmers of the Monroe Aquatic club triumphed in a triangular meet at the Bastrop natatorium Friday night with 45 points. Bastrop scored 17 points and Ruston six points.

Monroe totk first place in all events except the 50 meter backstroke in which the north Louisiana backstroke champion, Ballard Duckworth of Bastrop, remained undefeated.

Maurice "Shorty" Bell finished first in the 50-meter and 100 meter free style races and Jack Knowles, north Louisiana breaststroke champion, brought the locals another victory in that event. Buddy Bubb, of the locals and runner-up to the champion in the north Louisiana tournament last Sunday, was nosed out of second place by Billy Hubbard of Ruston.

Miss Eileen MacKinnon, north Louisiana women's backstroke champion, and Miss Eunita Martin added 13 points to the locals' score as Miss MacKinnon triumphed in the 25-meter free style and won the 25-meter backstroke by forfeit, and Miss Martin, Monroe's 14-year-old star, followed Miss MacKinnon to win second place in the 25-meter free style race.

Fred Williams, winner of the north Louisiana diving title in 1932, and second place winner in this season's tourney, took first place in the spring board events with 120.5 points, while his closest competitor, John Stewart, also of Monroe, took second place with 101.7 points. Frank Dorman of Bastrop was third with 85.6 points.

Jack Knowles repeated the relay scene of the north Louisiana tourney when he again pulled the locals out of a hole. Knowles, No. 3 man on the team, started while Monroe was several yards behind in the race, but overcoming the lead and taking one of his own, Knowles gave Bell, the fourth man, a substantial lead to bring the locals to victory.

Ruston entered only a small team in the meet, but made an impressive showing for its first start in water sports.

Officials for the meet were: S. W. Boyd Bastrop, timer and judge of diving; "Squatty" Young, Bastrop, judge; John Schneider, Monroe, announcer, starter and judge of diving; Parker McComb, Monroe, scorer.

WINS RIFLE CROWN

CAMP PERRY, O., Sept. 2.—(AP)—With a score only 17 points less than the 1,100 maximum possible, T. P. Samsoe, of Perth Amboy, N. J., tonight was announced the winner of the national small bore rifle shooting championship. His total was 1,083. Samsoe was third in another event and tied for first in a third test. Second place was won by Thurman Randle of Dallas, Tex., with a score just four points below Samsoe.

Tech Grid Squad Reports Monday for First Workout

RUSTON, Sept. 2.—(Special)—Labor day, celebrated as a national holiday, will mark the beginning of the fall football grind at Louisiana Tech. Thirty-eight invitations have been mailed out by G. M. Bohler, head mentor of athletics at the institution, and many of this number have already arrived on the scene of action ready for the training season.

On the invited list are 15 lettermen back from last year's team, seven squadmen and 16 hopefuls up from the freshmen ranks to attempt to fill the gaps caused by graduation.

An unusually hard schedule of eight games will be played and the local collegians will probably enter most of the games on the short end of the betting. Playing the underdog agrees with the Techmen, however, as witness the battle put up by them last year against the Millsaps Majors. Picked to lose handily, they turned the tables on the Majors and defeated them in a passing game.

Of the number invited it is known that four will not report due to various reasons. Herman Humphreys, designated to captain this year's squad, injured his leg in a pipe-line camp this summer and will not be able to take part in athletics. Humphreys was the only Texan on the squad and the only player ever to captain an athletic team at Tech from the Lone Star state. Matthews, Hudson and White are other members of the squad who will be unable to attend training.

Judging from the material on hand, Tech faces a very bleak season on the gridiron. It is known that Coach Bohler could use a good center to replace Yeldell. M. J. Brooks and P. A. Stone from the frosh ranks will attempt to plug the hole at the pivot position. Dee Keltner, who called singals last year, has filled in at center and may be called on to do so this year in the event that another quarterback can be developed.

Twelve candidates are out to make the backfield, outnumbering those who are trying out for other positions. Of the twelve, Davis, Keltner and Garrett are regarded as fixtures. Davis will pass, kick and block, Keltner will call the signals and the fleet Garrett will "carry the mail." Causey, who was one of the outstanding backs on last year's squad, may be shifted to tackle, the position he filled in his prep school days, to fill the hole left by Humphreys.

In the line, there are eight men out for the end positions, three of them, Brewer, Patterson and Royce Johnson, being lettermen. Seven will try to fill the tackle positions, eight will do the guarding and three will plug in at center.

Among those invited are: Adams, Baker, Bice, Brewer, Brooks, Brown, Causey, Colvin, J. B. and C. E. Davis, Deas, Ford, Garrett, Gautier, Hilburn, Hudson, Humphreys, Johnston, Johnson, Royce and S. C. Keltner, Lowrey, H. E. and Dale, McCleary, McKay, Matthews, Mulheim, Patterson, Poulan, Reagan, Ruple, Stone, Thigpen, Thurman, Turner, Waters, White and D. R. Hinton.

The schedule for the 1933 season is:

Sept. 30.—Copiah-Lincoln at Ruston.
Oct. 7.—Henderson at Ruston.
Oct. 14.—Southwestern Louisiana at Ruston.
Oct. 21.—Texas Tech at Lubbock, Texas.
Oct. 28.—Normal at Ruston.
Nov. 4.—Millsaps at Jackson, Miss.
Nov. 11.—Ozarks at Ruston.
Nov. 18.—Louisiana college at Pineville.

JIMMY FOXX HITS PAIR OF HOMERS

Circuit Clouts Feature Athletics' Split With Washington

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Alvin Crowder's seven-hit pitching in the nightcap gave the Washington Senators an even break in today's doubleheader with the Philadelphia Athletics. The Senators won the second contest 8 to 4 after dropping the opener by a score of 7 to 3.

Jimmy Foxx contributed homers number 38 and 39 of the season, one in each contest. Other four baggers were made by Joe Kuhel, Bob Johnson, and Eric McNair, all in the nightcap.

Foxx

Box scores:

FIRST GAME

WASHINGTON—	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Bluege, 3b.	5	0	0	2	2	0
Manush, lf.	4	1	1	1	0	0
Cronin, ss.	3	1	0	2	2	0
Harris, rf.	4	0	0	3	0	0
Schulte, cf.	4	1	2	6	0	0
Kuhel, 1b.	3	0	2	6	0	0
Boken, 2b.	4	0	1	2	3	1
Berg, c.	2	0	0	1	0	0
Sewell, c.	2	0	0	1	0	0
Russell, p.	2	0	1	0	2	0
Burke, p.	0	0	0	0	0	0
Thomas, p.	1	0	0	0	0	0
xRice	1	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	35	3	7	24	9	1

xBatted for Thomas in ninth.

PHILADELPHIA—	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Bishop, 2b.	2	2	2	3	1	0
Cramer, cf.	5	1	1	6	0	0
Cochrane, c.	5	0	2	2	2	0
Foxx, 1b.	2	2	2	8	0	1
McNair, ss.	5	0	1	4	4	0
Johnson, lf.	5	0	1	2	0	0
Higgins, 3b.	3	0	1	0	1	0
Finney, rf.	4	1	1	2	0	1
Grove, p.	3	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	34	7	11	27	8	2

Score by innings:

Washington	300	000	000— 3
Philadelphia	001	130	02x— 7

Summary — Runs batted in, Schulte, Bishop, Foxx, Cramer, McNair 2, Cochrane, Johnson. Two-base hits, Schulte, Finney, Higgins, Bishop, Johnson, Cochrane. Home run, Foxx. Double plays, Boken, Cronin to Kuhel. Left on bases, Washington 7, Philadelphia 11. Base on balls, off Russell 2, Burke 1, Thomas 5, Grove 2. Struck out, by Thomas 1, Grove 1. Hits, off Russell 6 in 4 innings (none out in fifth), Burke 2 in 2-3, Thomas 3 in 3 1-3. Losing pitcher, Russell. Umpires, Ormsby, Hildebrand and Dinneen. Time, 1:55.

SECOND GAME

WASHINGTON—	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Myer, 2b.	6	1	3	1	1	0
Goslin, rf.	6	1	2	1	0	0
Manush, lf.	5	1	2	1	0	0
Cronin, ss.	4	0	1	3	5	1
Schulte, cf.	5	1	4	3	0	0
Kuhel, 1b.	5	1	2	10	0	0
Bluege, 3b.	3	1	0	2	4	0
Sewell, c.	4	1	1	6	1	0
Crowder, p.	4	1	2	0	0	0
Totals	42	8	17	27	11	1

PHILADELPHIA—	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Williams, 2b.	4	0	1	2	2	1
Cramer, cf.	4	0	0	1	0	1
Cochrane, c.	3	0	0	5	2	0
[illegible]	3	1	1	1	6	0
McNair, ss.	3	1	1	1	1	0
Johnson, lf.	4	1	1	2	1	0
Higgins, 3b.	4	0	1	2	1	0
Finney, rf.	4	0	1	6	1	0
Peterson, p.	2	1	1	0	1	0
Barrett, p.	1	0	0	0	1	0
xMiller	1	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	34	4	7	27	11	2

xBatted for Barrett in ninth.

Score by innings:

Washington	001	020	212— 8
Philadelphia	011	001	010— 4

Summary — Runs batted in, Manush, Schulte, Kuhel 3, Myer, Foxx 2, Johnson, McNair. Two-base hits, Manush, Schulte. Home runs, Foxx, Johnson, Kuhel, McNair. Double play, Foxx, McNair to Foxx. Left on base, Washington 12, Philadelphia 5. Base on balls, off Crowder 2, Peterson 1,

ELLIS TIES HAAS FOR MEDAL IN RIVERSIDE TOURNEY

BASTROP, MONROE GOLFERS TOP BIG FIELD WITH 76'S

Four In Playoff For Chance to Get In Championship Flight

Ignoring the handicap of a course made soggy by a 15-minute downpour of rain, Prioleau Ellis of Monroe, shot a 76 yesterday afternoon to tie Freddie Haas, Bastrop youngster, for the medal in the qualifying round of the second annual Labor day golf tournament at Riverside Country club.

Ellis bagged a 36 on the first nine and appeared about to dethrone the Bastrop boy, but his game faded slightly coming in, and he took 40 strokes on the home nine.

Last year Ellis also was tied for medalist honors and defeated Bill Hicks of Shreveport, in a playoff. He and Hicks scored 78's to lead the qualifiers.

Rain kept a number of last minute entrants from qualifying yesterday, but a fine field turned out to battle for the numerous prizes. A majority of the qualifiers were from out of town.

Ellis will meet McVea Oliver in the first round this morning, and Haas will tackle Jimmie Harper. However, the feature match of the round probably will be that between Bun Beasley and Wesley Shafto, both of Monroe. Beasley qualified with a 77, while Shafto took an 81, but the city champion undoubtedly will give Beasley a real battle.

Four players were tied with 85's and a playoff will be necessary this morning to determine which three will enter the championship flight. The playoff will start at 8 o'clock. The players were R. L. Bailey, of Tallulah, Fred Corley of Alexandria, Dr. E. V. Fasce of Baton Rouge, and Dick Richards of Shreveport.

Following are the pairings for the championship flight:

Upper bracket—Ellis vs. Oliver. Leonard Van, New Orleans, 78, vs. Fred Hines, Ruston, 84; Ray Bradford, Alexandria, 80, vs. playoff; E. A. Buckner, Tallulah, 81, vs. Morton Braswell, Monroe, 77.

Lower bracket—Beasley vs. Shafto, Arthur Ross, Bastrop, 79, vs. playoff; Cramer Haas, Monroe, 81, vs. playoff; Harper vs. F. Haas.

Twosomes will move off at three-minute intervals in first round matches this morning, with the third flight starting first, at 8 o'clock. The second flight will move off at 8:30, the championship flight will get underway at 9 o'clock and the fourth flight will start at 10, with only one match scheduled in that flight.

Other pairings are as follows:

Second flight—Wilson Ewing, Monroe, 88, vs. playoff loser; T. H. Riley, Monroe, 80, vs. Ralph Wheat, Jonesboro, 87; Robert Guerriero, Monroe, 87, vs. James Tisdale, Jr., Bastrop, 87; Horace Lee, Tallulah, 88, vs. Howard Gist, Alexandria, 88; J. S. Sheram, Monroe, 87, vs. Frank Bolton, Alexandria, 89; B. Fullington, Alexandria, 89, vs. Gene Shirah, Monroe, 87; M. E. Almer, El Dorado, 89, vs. Bob Baker, 87, and Ed Shamblin, Tallulah, 88, vs. H. T. Taylor, Monroe, 89.

Third flight—R. B. Cutler, Delhi, vs. Ben Piller, Baton Rouge; Jack Warren, Monroe, vs. J. E. Godfrey, Monroe G. C. McAuliffe, Monroe, vs. Dr. Ralph Williams, El Dorado; M. C. McDonald, Monroe vs. Gilbert Wolf; Jim Tisdale, Bastrop, vs. John Sherrouse; J. S. Washburn, Monroe, vs. Paul Stinson, Jonesboro; W. P. Crawford, Delhi, vs. H. F. Bradford, Alexandria.

Fourth flight—Red Taylor, Monroe, vs. bye; R. N. Ware, Tallulah, vs. bye; W. C. Johnson, Monroe, vs. bye; R. E. Graham, Bastrop, vs. bye; Larry Wilson, Alexandria, vs. bye; Ben Downing, Jr., Monroe, vs. bye; M. S. Biedenharn, Monroe, vs. W. C. McDonald, Jonesboro; C. S. Storey, Alexandria, vs. bye.

Second round matches will start this afternoon at 1 o'clock and the consolations also will begin. The finals will be played Monday afternoon.

The prizes, which have been placed on display at the Riverside clubhouse, will be awarded Monday evening. President Jack Rogers, who was unable to qualify on account of illness, will present the awards.

Jack Dempsey to Launch Another Comeback Trial

FORT SMITH, Ark., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey, former world heavyweight champion, has signed for a 10-round bout here September 25 with Tommy Davenport of Little Rock, Promoter Jack Carroll of the American Legion post here announced tonight.

Carroll said he received Dempsey's contract for the bout signed by the latter's representative, Frank Paccassi of Oklahoma City.

Paccassi said the former champion would appear in 22 bouts during the fall and winter in a comeback campaign. The tour will open, Paccassi said, at Dodge City, Kansas.

Davenport and Babe Hunt of Ponca City, Okla., fought a 10-round draw at Little Rock Tuesday night.

DENIES REPORT

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion boxer, denied tonight that he had signed for a 10-round bout in Fort Smith, Ark., with Tommy Davenport of Little Rock, September 25.

He said that he had not been informed that his representative, Frank Paccassi of Oklahoma City, had sent to Jack Carroll, Fort Smith's American Legion promoter, a contract to meet Davenport.

Iowa livestock, valued at $197,715,000 January 1, 1933, topped the nation's inventory for that category of farm property.

JUST ANOTHER FOR 'EKKY'

Definitely proving that he's the classiest piece of horseflesh to face a barrier for a long time, C. V. Whitney's Equipoise galloped to an easy two-length victory in the $25,000 Hawthorne Gold Cup race at Chicago. Above the wonder horse is shown after the race, with Jocky Sonny Workman up. It was "Ekky's" sixth straight victory this year.

Southeastern Grid Squads Start Warming Up Monday

Material Is Plentiful As Candidates Report For First Drill

By Dillon Graham
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

ATLANTA, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Southeastern football coaches assemble their gridiron athletes Monday and start the three months campaign that leads to disgruntled alumni or championships.

An even dozen Southeastern conference teams sound the call to punts and passes Labor day while the University of Florida, 13th member of the new group, delays its opening practice until Tuesday.

Some 500 players will answer the roll at southeastern schools alone, with twice that many donning moleskins for pre-season workouts at other Dixie institutions.

Most coaches plan a simple routine of calisthenics, with some work with kicks and passes, during the next week's practices, with the strenuous labors of tackling and blocking and scrimmage saved until mid-September.

Sixty players are expected in New Orleans for Tulane's first workout. Coach Ted Cox plans two sessions a day until school opens, the morning drills to be in track uniforms and the late afternoon work in full gridiron dress. Eighteen lettermen will be on hand.

At Georgia Tech and Georgia upwards of 50 athletes are looked for. Both of these teams have difficult opening assignments and Coaches Bill Alexander and Harry Mehre likely will push their drills at an even faster pace than will many of their rivals.

With only four prominent players lost by graduation, Coach Ed Walker at the University of Mississippi is optimistic about the prospects of the 40-odd players he will greet Monday. Although Sewanee likely will have the smallest squad among Southeastern conference schools, Mentor Hek Clark says he anticipates a good year.

Tennessee's 40 or more candidates will include 20 lettermen. Bob Neyland's chief task lies in finding a pair of tackles. The Vols, along with Alabama, rank as co-favorites for the Southeastern title. Frank Thomas at Tuscaloosa will have a fine squad, probably the largest any conference mentor will have to choose from. He has the advantage of a few warm-up games before the Crimson Tide settles down to the hard part of its schedule.

Reports from Lexington say Coach Harry Gamage plans to use a number of sophomores in his starting line-up. Graduation cut heavily into his 1932 squad. Most of the newcomers are big fellows and Kentucky may have the heaviest team in the loop.

Despite the loss of the all-America halfback, Jimmy Hitchcock, Alabama Polytechnic supporters say Auburn will have just as good a team as a year ago. Several good sophomores will be used.

Louisiana State, unbeaten in the conference a year ago, has title notions again. Biff Jones has a good squad and has had time to drill them in his pet formations. Captain A. R. McKechnie, the new Mississippi State college coach, believes he can make the former Aggies a tough opponent for any of the Southeastern schools. He plans to concentrate on the offensive and gamble for touchdowns.

Sophomores will spell Vanderbilt's fate. Coach Dan McGugin lost almost an entire team of seniors. However, he has some crack punters on hand and he always can be depended upon to build a dangerous club if given a few booters.

Florida likely will cause much trouble for all its opponents. The 'Gators have a young and brilliant assortment of players who may go places if their team work is smooth and good replacements are developed.

BOBBY JONES SAYS

Here are a few random observations, which may help to correct some of the most common faults I have noticed in knocking around for a couple of weeks with players of the 80 and 90 class.

One rarely finds a person other than a reasonably good player who makes anything like enough use of his hips, legs and torso. Whether the cause be mental—fear of trusting too much movement—or physical, is difficult to say. But that is the fact. The turn stops too soon, either going back or coming down, or both.

If you are a slicer, watch the wind-up of the hips during the backswing. See that there is ample turn away from the ball to get in position to hit straight through or a little outward from inside the projected line of flight. Failure to turn the hips enough going back forces the arc of the swing toward the outside, that is, to the players front, whence he cannot fail to cut across the ball. This must produce a slice unless the face of the club is hooded at impact.

Weight Upon Left Foot

Precisely the same effect is produced by holding too much weight upon the left foot during the backswing. The player should arrive at the limit of the backward movement with a goodly portion of the weight of his body supported by the right leg, bearing upon the heel of the foot. Too much weight on the left results in a movement back toward the right, away from the ball, as the swing comes down, and again the club cuts across the ball.

On the other hand, a hooking tendency is usually caused by stopping the forward turn of the hips too soon. Correctly handled at the instant of impact, the hips should have turned back through and well past their location at address. A sudden arrest of the turn prevents the left arm retaining its tautness and firmness through the hitting area.

Straightening the left wrist or discharging the wrist-cock too early in the downswing is also a common cause of hooking, for then the player finds himself with no means of completing the stroke without folding the left arm and swinging over with the right side.

Ample use of the lower part of the body, accompanied and accommodated by easy and nimble foot action, must be had in order to hit a golf ball correctly. The player who keeps both feet planted solidly upon the ground doesn't give himself a chance.

Open Or Closed Stance

The effect of an open or closed stance upon a long shot is well known—that is, open the stance or advance the right foot to favor a slice or counteract a hook, and close the stance, or haul back the right foot for the contrary effect. The same idea can be useful in chipping and putting.

The purpose here, as elsewhere, is to swing through straight upon the line upon which it is desired to start the ball. Often when an inclination to depart from this ideal in either direction is noted, it can be corrected by altering the position of the body.

Whenever one begins to cut across putts or chip-shots, the cause can usually be found in a backswing which comes up too abruptly and outside the line. In this case the player should turn more away from the direction of the play to give more room for the swing back to remain close in. On the other hand, when the putts are being shoved out to the right, a swing upon the proper line can be encouraged by facing the body slightly toward the hole. Of course, to find the correct position will require a little experimentation, but working along these lines will help.

If you have trouble cocking your left wrist send for Bobby Jones' leaflet: Fundamentals of the Wrist Cock. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply.

(Copyright, 1933, Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Sunday movies are banned by state law in Florida, although several cities have "legalized" them.

CHICAGO JUNIORS WIN WORLD TITLE

Windy Citians Win Second Straight Over Trenton For Crown

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Chicago, western sectional champion, edged out Trenton, N. J., eastern titlists, in a rousing baseball battle here today, winning 7 to 6 the deciding game in the 1933 "junior world's championship" of American Legion boys baseball.

The Westerners won the opening of the scheduled two-out-of-three game series yesterday 14 to 5 but they were successful in bringing to Illinois the distinction of being the only state to capture two titles. Illinois also won the championship in 1931.

The Schumann Heink sportsmanship trophy was awarded to Bill Luzansky, Trenton, centerfielder, by the committee comprising Russell Cook, national director of Legion baseball, and Umpires Dan Barry and Bill Brennan.

Although a double by Theodore Swed, Chicago, outfielder, who pitched the first half of the game, brought home the winning run in the last half of the ninth, Chicago's series star was Philip Cavaretta, captain, pitcher and hard hitter.

Cavaretta hurled the victorious opener, socked a triple today that scored three men in the second inning to give the Windy City boys a 5 to 2 lead, and then in the sixth relieved Swed from the mound and pulled the game out of the fire.

With the bases empty in the first inning Captain Gerard Corrado of Trenton smashed one over the fence for the series' only home run.

The deciding game was a see-saw battle, Trenton taking a two-run lead at the start, only to fall back in the second but then forged ahead with two runs each in the fifth and sixth to take the lead at 6 to 5.

Cavaretta then came to the rescue and matched Carmen Soltis of Trenton in tight hurling in the seventh while his teammates pushed over one run in the eighth and the winner in the ninth.

Soltis went from shortstop to the mound, in the second, relieving Nick Chomicki who had filled the bases, and Carmen turned in some neat pitching until the final strain wore him down.

Trenton's rallies in the fifth and sixth were the result of masterful bunting, with which Swed could not cope. But Cavaretta solved it with little trouble.

In exhibition games tomorrow, Chicago will play the New Orleans winner of the 1932 Legion "world's" title, and Trenton will meet the 1933 New Orleans boys.

Trenton	200 022 000—6 7 1
Chicago	050 000 011—7 7 2

Soltis, Chomicki and Giambelluca; Swed, Cavaretta and Graebe, Weiss.

Stewart Hurls Senators To Victory Over Sports

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Dick Stewart, a Tennessee schoolmaster, with a record of 11 wins and two defeats in the Dixie league since the middle of June, held an out-door class here this afternoon in "not hitting a baseball" and found the Shreveport Sports adept pupils.

For nine frames the Sports, with a batting average well above 300 per cent for the first two games of the play-off for the pennant, waved their war clubs at Stewart's offerings and came through with only two hits—and both of the scratch variety. As a result, they succumbed to the Baton Rouge Solons, 5 to 1, in the third game of the championship series, leaving the Sports a margin of two victories to one.

In addition to putting the Solons back into the third of the fight for the championship, the victory means that the teams must return to Shreveport to complete the play-off. The next game will be played here Sunday and on Monday, a double header will be staged at the home of the Sports.

Score by innings: R. H. E.

Shreveport	100 000 000—	1	2 0
Baton Rouge	003 100 10*—	5	8 1

Batteries — Passeau, Sullivan and Lorbeer; Stewart and Krauss.

Carnera, Baer Meet But It's All In Fun

CULVER CITY, Calif., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Primo Carnera, heavyweight boxing champion, and his leading challenger, Max Baer, who are to put on a "title" bout for the movies, had their first real meeting today.

"Hello you big gigolo," greeted Baer, informally.

Towering above him, as he towers above almost anybody, Carnera reached down and sniffed at Baer's hair.

"Ah-h-h—!" he said, snorting the name of a patent hair dressing.

They are to start work Sunday.

TEXAS LEADERS

(By United Press)

BATTING

	AB	R	H	Pct.
Bonura, Dallas	508	141	182	.358
Purdy, S. A.	423	84	150	.355
Washington, F. W.	551	79	180	.327
Bennett, Dallas	311	55	101	.325
Fausett, Galveston	596	88	191	.321

PITCHING

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Darrow, Galveston	22	6	.786
Greer, Houston	21	10	.677
Cvengros, Houston	20	11	.645
Payne, Houston	19	11	.633
Thormahlen, Galveston	16	11	.593

STOLEN BASES

Clifton, Beaumont	48
Hock, Houston	31
English, Galveston	31

DOUBLES

Bejma, San Antonio	45
Crossley, San Antonio	44

TRAVELER STAR LEADS BATTERS

Ab Wright Tops Southern Hitters With .364; Race Is Close

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 2.—(AP)—At least ten batsmen are within striking distance of the Southern association hitting leadership, with the season's end little more than a month away.

Ab Wright of Little Rock, leads the procession on the strength of official statistics, compiled Thursday night, which gave him an average of .364, but Walter French of Knoxville, was right behind with a mark of .361, and Frank Orum Waddey of Chattanooga averaged .359.

Others on the heels of the leaders included: Allington, Knoxville, .355; Travis, Chattanooga, .352; Hamel, Memphis, .351; Richbourg, Nashville, .349; Head, Knoxville, .336, and Sturdy, Little Rock, .335.

Although no new homers were added to the record of Prather, Nashville, he still maintained his lead with 21 circuit clouts for the season. Reese, Memphis, and Gill, Chattanooga, were tied with 17 three-baggers apiece. Richbourg, Nashville, led with 39 two-baggers against 38 for Knoxville's French. Incidentally, these two were tied with 28 stolen bases each.

Chattanooga and Nashville held the lead for team batting, the former averaging .300, the latter, .299. New Orleans fielded best for a mark of .972.

Johnson of New Orleans had the outstanding pitching record with 20 victories against 8 defeats. Kelley, Memphis, also had won 20, but his defeats numbered 12. Chaplin, Nashville, had won 19, lost 11, and Griffin, Memphis, had 15 wins, 10 losses.

JIMMY FOXX HITS PAIR OF HOMERS

(Continued from Eighth Page)

White Sox pitchers for a 12 to 1 victory.

Kress for Chicago and Averill for Cleveland hit homers

Box score:

CLEVELAND—	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Porter, rf.	5	1	1	4	0	0
Cissell, ss.	4	1	0	2	2	0
Averill, cf.	5	2	2	2	0	0
Myatt, lf.	4	2	2	2	0	0
Hale, 2b.	5	4	3	2	3	0
Kamm, 3b.	4	1	2	1	1	0
Boley, 1b.	5	1	1	11	0	0
Pytlak, c.	5	0	2	3	0	0
Pearson, p.	4	0	0	0	3	0
Totals	41	12	13	27	11	0

CHICAGO—	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Sorrells, rf.	3	0	0	1	0	0
Hack, rf.	4	0	0	4	0	0
Lary, ss.	4	0	0	2	3	0
Stephenson, lf.	4	0	0	3	0	0
Appling, ss.	4	1	1	1	10	0
Kress, 1b.	4	2	3	11	0	0
Haney, 2b.	4	0	0	4	2	0
Berg, 2b.	2	0	1	0	0	0
Grabowski, c.	3	0	0	6	2	0
Grabler, p.	0	0	0	0	0	0
Miller, p.	1	0	1	0	0	0
Totals	34	3	7	27	17	0

*Batted for Kress in seventh.

Score by innings:

Cleveland	500	032	02x—12
Chicago	000	101	100— 3

Summary — Runs batted in, Averill 4, Myatt, Hale 2, Berry, Sullivan, Pytlak, Kress, Hale, Kamm 2. Three-base hits, Averill, Pytlak. Home run, Averill. Stolen bases, Pearson, Myatt, Hale, Kress. Double plays, Cissell to Hale to Boley; Hale to Boley; Hale to Appling to Kress. Left on bases, Cleveland 6, Chicago 3. Bases on balls, off Pearson 2, Grabler 2, Kress 1. Struck out, by Pearson 1, Hale, Gaston 4 in 2-3, Kamm 3 in 6 1-3, Miller 3 in 2. Losing pitcher, Grabler. Umpires, McGowan and Summers. Time, 1:36.

BROWNS TRIM TIGERS

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Irving Hadley held the Detroit Tigers to seven hits while his teammates pounded Carl Fischer hard to give the St. Louis Browns a 7 to 1 victory here today to open their last home series of the season.

Box score:

DETROIT—	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Rogell, ss.	4	0	1	1	3	1
Fox, cf.	4	1	1	4	0	0
Gehringer, 2b.	4	0	0	2	2	1
Walker, lf.	4	0	0	2	0	0
Greenberg, 1b.	4	0	0	9	1	3
Stone, rf.	2	0	1	3	0	0
Owen, 3b.	1	0	1	0	0	0
Hayworth, c.	4	0	0	5	0	0
Fischer, p.	3	0	0	0	1	0
Auker, p.	0	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	35	1	4	26	7	2

ST. LOUIS—	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Levey, ss.	5	1	1	2	3	0
Gullic, cf.	5	1	3	3	0	0
Reynolds, lf.	5	1	2	2	0	0
Campbell, rf.	2	0	0	0	0	0
Burns, 1b.	4	1	1	7	1	0
Melillo, 2b.	4	0	1	3	3	0
Scharein, 3b.	3	1	2	1	2	0
Shea, c.	4	2	2	7	1	0
Hadley, p.	3	0	0	1	1	0
Totals	35	7	12	27	11	0

Score by innings:

Detroit	000	030	010— 1
St. Louis	000	030	31x— 7

Summary — Runs batted in, Hadley, Levey, Gullic 2, Burns, Melillo, Walker, Two-base hits, Walker, Fox, Shea, Gullic 2, Burns, Melillo. Sacrifice, Hadley. Left on base, Detroit 7, St. Louis 8. Bases on balls, off Fischer 3, Hadley 2. Struck out, by Fischer 3, Hadley 7. Hits, off Fischer 10 in 6 2-3 innings, Auker 2 in 1 1-3. Passed ball, Shea. Losing pitcher, Fischer. Umpires, Geisel and Moriarty. Time, 1:45.

Pensacola Yacht Shows Way In Lipton Regatta

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Veteran sailors of the Pensacola Yacht club who, like heavy sailing, showed the way to rival skippers and crews of the Gulf Yachting association in the opening race of the 14th annual Lipton cup regatta off the municipal pier here this afternoon.

The Pensacola boat, with J. F. Marques as skipper, and Dave Witherill and W. S. Lurton, Sr., on the mainsail and jib, led the fleet by more than 300 yards across the finish line after an interesting race of three laps around the three-mile regatta course.

Biloxi was second, St. Petersburg third, Sarasota fourth, southern of New Orleans fifth, Buccaneer of Mobile sixth and naval training station of Pensacola, seventh and last.

Protests of fouls against Biloxi and Sarasota were being considered by the committee late today and may affect the official standings.

The second and third races will be sailed tomorrow and the final race Monday morning.

National League Averages

TEAM BATTING

Club—	G.	AB.	R.	OR.	H.	TB.	2B.	3B.	HR.	RBI.	SB.	BB.	SO.	Pct.
Pitts.	121	4276	536	705	1226	1659	208	67	34	496	28	291	272	.287
Phila.	122	4275	536	647	1183	1620	204	36	53	492	41	314	373	.277
St. Louis	127	4434	558	476	1217	1671	210	50	48	510	74	306	412	.274
Chicago	124	4282	519	442	1143	1611	207	39	61	488	48	334	370	.269
N. Y.	121	4208	520	398	1114	1555	156	33	73	487	21	301	307	.265
Bklyn.	127	4323	485	563	1120	1527	180	37	51	448	62	324	385	.259
Boston	125	4194	446	418	1058	1472	173	30	47	408	17	254	337	.252
Cincin.	125	4199	390	541	1022	1365	177	35	32	368	27	293	293	.243

TEAM FIELDING

Club—	G.	W.	L.	T	DP.	TP.	PB.	PO.	A.	E.	Pct.
Boston	125	70	55	0	108	0	5	3377	1512	112	.978
St. Louis	127	68	58	1	94	1	8	3431	1370	126	.974
Brooklyn	27	52	72	3	105	0	5	3383	1460	131	.974
Chicago	124	67	57	0	130	0	3	3270	1601	141	.972
Pittsburgh	121	67	54	0	102	0	4	3213	1332	132	.972
New York	121	71	47	3	119	0	9	3271	1588	146	.971
Philadelphia	122	50	72	0	128	0	7	3260	1511	155	.969
Cincinnati	125	47	77	1	110	0	11	3290	1505	157	.968

INDIVIDUAL BATTING
(Players hitting .250 or better)

Player-Club—	AB.	R.	H.	HR.	Pct.
Klein, Phila.	492	83	185	25	.376
V. Davis, Phila.	403	41	138	6	.342
Cuyler, Chicago	158	24	54	4	.342
Vaughn, Pitts.	461	71	152	9	.330
Schulmerich, Phila.	348	53	114	8	.328
Stephenson, Chicago	248	31	82	4	.327
Terry, N. Y.	309	56	117	6	.325
Haley, Cincin.	451	65	146	7	.324
Fullis, Phila.	525	78	167	1	.318
Martin, St. Louis	497	100	158	6	.318
Berger, Boston	472	79	150	25	.318
Frederick, Bklyn.	457	51	144	5	.315
J. Collins, St. Louis	396	57	123	9	.315
Piet, Pitts.	352	43	111	1	.315
Lindstrom, Pitts.	430	61	135	4	.314
Boyle, Bklyn.	224	29	68	0	.304
French, St. Louis	476	61	144	4	.303
R. Moore, Boston	427	52	129	6	.302
Grace, Pitts.	215	18	65	2	.302
Traynor, Pitts.	495	72	149	1	.301
P. Waner, Pitts.	492	84	148	6	.301
Medwick, St. Louis	471	71	145	14	.301
Orsatti, St. Louis	414	53	122	0	.295
Ott, N. Y.	459	82	135	20	.294
Hendrick, Chicago	180	29	53	4	.294
Leslie, Bklyn.	424	54	124	7	.292
Joe Moore, N. Y.	405	49	118	0	.291
O'Dell, N. Y.	343	44	99	14	.289
H. Taylor, Bklyn.	396	68	88	9	.288
Suhr, Pitts.	452	56	129	8	.285
Thevenow, Pitts.	134	12	38	0	.284
Warneke, Chicago	81	6	23	2	.284
Harnett, Chicago	400	40	113	12	.283
Comorosky, Pitts.	153	18	43	1	.281
Jurges, Chicago	385	40	108	5	.280
Spohrer, Boston	150	9	52	1	.280
Jensen, Pitts.	93	12	26	0	.280
Bartell, Phila.	473	72	132	1	.279
Crawford, St. Louis	204	22	57	0	.279
Ostrik, Bklyn.	112	14	31	3	.277
R. Jordan, Boston	479	62	133	3	.278
Lopez, Chicago	462	52	128	1	.277
Wilson, Chicago	438	77	135	9	.308
F. Walker, N. Y.	269	62	79	12	.294
Hart, Phila.	145	25	44	5	.303
Cramer, Phila.	546	69	165	3	.302
Medwick, St. Louis	410	43	124	3	.302
Bottomley, St. Louis	432	61	130	7	.301
Jolley, Bklyn.	256	43	77	6	.301
Greenberg, Det.	371	51	112	11	.302
Williams, Phila.	373	51	112	11	.300
Chagnon, N. Y.	471	92	141	8	.299
Bates, Wash.	107	15	32	3	.299
Phelps, Boston	77	8	23	1	.299
Averill, Cleve.	513	69	153	8	.298
Burnett, Cleve.	229	35	68	1	.297
Myer, Wash.	453	71	135	4	.298
Cissell, Det.	135	17	40	0	.296
H. Mellio, Phila.	102	22	32	2	.290
R. Ferrell, Boston	418	48	123	4	.294
Hargrave, Boston	202	20	59	5	.292
Gehringer, N. Y.	466	84	134	2	.287
Hale, Cleve.	259	36	76	7	.293
Pytlak, Det.	479	74	140	10	.292
Walkers, Boston	137	23	40	4	.292
Lindsey, N. Y.	467	85	136	17	.291
Sullivan, Wash.	447	82	129	4	.287
Bob Johnson, Phila.	450	85	130	17	.289
Reynolds, St. Louis	381	63	110	7	.289
Lary, Cleve.	374	50	108	1	.289
Fox, Detroit	430	60	124	6	.288
Cuyler, Phila.	198	39	57	4	.288
Cissell, Boston	54	7	15	2	.278
Haas, Chicago	505	90	144	1	.285
Simm, Cleve.	494	56	115	1	.285
Roy Johnson, Boston	495	81	140	10	.283
Combs, N. Y.	361	72	102	5	.283
McManus, Boston	332	50	94	3	.283
Marjeski, Phila.	131	16	37	0	.282
Campbell, St. Louis	482	76	135	16	.280
Coleman, Phila.	361	49	101	6	.281
Rice, Wash.	62	15	19	1	.279
Bluege, Wash.	421	55	117	6	.278
Van Atta, N. Y.	54	7	15	0	.278
L. Brown, Boston	54	4	15	2	.278
Bishop, Phila.	227	67	99	4	.275
Porter, Cleve.	411	65	113	0	.275
J. Sewell, N. Y.	473	61	130	1	.274
Dykes, Chicago	472	44	129	1	.273
L. Sewell, Wash.	396	53	108	2	.273
Finney, Phila.	147	20	40	3	.272
G. Walker, Det.	385	54	104	9	.268
W. Ferrell, Cleve.	82	17	22	5	.268
Berry, Chicago	215	23	57	2	.265
Owen, Detroit	84	13	126	2	.261
Walker, Detroit	320	45	83	2	.261
Ghildebr, Cleve.	60	8	15	0	.261
Whitehill, Wash.	83	6	21	0	.258
Kress, Chicago	377	44	97	8	.257
Vosmik, Cleve.	426	49	108	4	.254
Galatzer, Cleve.	143	17	36	1	.252
Sheds, Boston	216	27	54	0	.250
J. Oliver, Boston	212	21	53	0	.250

PITCHER'S RECORDS
(Pitchers winning five games)

Pitcher-Club—	G.	W.	L.	SO.	Pct.
Parmelee, New York	25	12	5	119	.765
Luque, New York	29	6	2	17	.750
Cantwell, Boston	33	19	7	47	.731
Hal Smith, Pitts.	23	7	3	30	.700
Rixey, Cincinnati	16	6	3	10	.667
Hubbell, New York	35	17	9	154	.654
Warneke, Chicago	19	15	9	108	.625
Tinning, Chicago	24	8	5	41	.615
Schumacher, N. Y.	29	15	10	79	.600
Haines, St. Louis	26	9	6	35	.600
Bell, New York	32	6	4	13	.600
Meine, Pitts.	27	11	8	36	.579
Root, Chicago	29	12	9	68	.571
Dean, St. Louis	39	18	14	169	.563
Brandt, Boston	33	14	11	73	.560
Bush, Chicago	24	14	11	60	.560
Nelson, Chicago	21	5	4	16	.556
Fitzsimmons, N. Y.	30	12	10	54	.546
French, Pitts.	38	13	11	63	.542
Frankhouse, Boston	34	14	12	65	.538
Swift, Pitts.	29	10	9	48	.526
Hallahan, St. Louis	28	12	11	73	.522
A. Moore, Phila.	31	7	7	46	.500
Zachary, Boston	21	7	7	26	.500
Walker, St. Louis	26	6	7	30	.462
Beck, Bklyn.	33	10	12	71	.455
Sorrelsne, P

Business and Industrial Review of the Twin Cities

Lloyd Walters
Radio Service
Monroe's Radio Headquarters
402 Wood St. Phone 463

Luther & Reed
General Automobile Repairing
Specialists in Alignment
300 South Grand Phone 4000

GOOD EATS CAFE
GUS & TOM, Proprietors
Real Beer—Ice Cold
108 North 2nd. Phone 1270

WAMSLEY
RADIO HOSPITAL
125 South Grand Phone 631

SUMMER EXCURSION
Fares Now in Effect
2c Per Mile
Lowest vacation fares to all points in America.
Make Reservations Now for
All Expense Tour World's Fair, Sept. 4th
VIA
TRI-STATE COACHES
200 S. Grand St. Phone 772

Visit Your Gas Company
WEATHER STATION
at City Hall Corner Daily and Keep Informed on Temperatures and Weather Conditions.
THE NATURAL GAS CO., Inc.
Monroe, La.

Careful Economical
MOVING
No matter how much bric-a-brac you have, have no fears when our efficient men move your belongings. Prices are in line with 1933 budgets.
MONROE TRANSFER & WAREHOUSE COMPANY INC. PHONE 780
219 WALNUT ST.
Monroe's Oldest, Strongest, Most Reliable Transfer and Warehouse Co.

SAFETY AWARD TO SIX BUS DRIVERS

Tri-State Men Have Driven 500,000 Miles Without Accident

Five hundred thousand miles in a year without a dented fender! Twenty times around the world without an accident! That is the record six drivers of Tri-State coaches established during the past year without an accident of any kind—not even a dented fender. And these drivers had to content with every type of driving condition, in four states.

And in recognition of their accomplishments these drivers have been awarded the first "No-Accident Driver Awards" to be given by the National Safety council in this locality.

The awards, attractive little enameled bronz badges, have been awarded to Drue Dees, A. B. Pearson, King Solomon, Edgar Parker, Charles Kenney and Charles Maxwell. Presentation of the awards was made by W. H. Johnson, president of the Tri-State Transit company, and long an advocate of greater safety in driving.

In discussing the conditions under which the awards are made, C. E. Beard, vice president of the Tri-State Transit company, under whose supervision the drivers work, said: "There is only one rule governing these awards, which reads as follows: 'A reportable accident is any accident where any property is damaged, or any person is hurt, regardless of whose property is damaged or who is hurt, or who is to blame, unless the coach is properly parked.'"

It is stated that travel by motor coach is eight or ten times as safe as by private motor car, and with such driving records as established by these six drivers of Tri-State coaches, travel by motor coach is expected to become even safer.

The exact number of miles driven by the drivers during the past year are as follows: Drue Dees, 101,104; A. B. Pearson, 92,256; King Solomon, 85,918; Edgar Parker, 73,378; Charles Kenney, 71,791, and Charles Maxwell, 68,137.

Hotel Frances
Cigar Stand
Home of Better Cigars

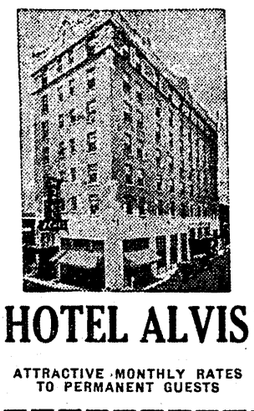
HARRY PROPHIT'S
MAIN SMOKE HOUSE
A Gentleman's Resort
Tobaccos - Pool - Magazines
137 DeSiard

COMPLETE AUTOMOBILE SERVICE
LEE-ROGERS CHEVROLET CO.
Incorporated
221-223 Walnut St.

REED-MONTGOMERY AGENCY, INC.
GENERAL INSURANCE
Phone 1574
Old Central Bank Building
LUTHER REED, Pres.
A. E. MONTGOMERY, Sec.-Treas.



HOTEL ALVIS
ATTRACTIVE MONTHLY RATES TO PERMANENT GUESTS

PIANO EXPERT

Max H. Kulcke, above, has had many years of experience in piano construction and repairing and local piano owners may entrust their work to him with perfect confidence. Mr. Kulcke explains the mechanics of a piano in an accompanying article.

HARRIMAN SEES BUSINESS UPTURN

Head of National Chamber of Commerce Predicts Prosperity

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—(AP)—President Henry I. Harriman of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States communicated to its membership today the assertion most thoughtful business men are hopeful "America can expect fair prosperity on a sound basis within a short time."

Simultaneously, Hugh S. Johnson, as the NRA leader, expressed appreciation through the chamber to business men for their cooperation in the recovery plan.

"Hope has replaced fear and discouragement," wrote Harriman in an appraisal of progress under the industrial and farm laws.

He told of banks being in a better position, improved employment, farm prices, carloadings and steel production, adding:

"No one can at this time make a complete appraisal of what has happened but business conditions are certainly far better now than they were on March 1 and it is the hope of most thoughtful business men that the business cycle is now on the upward swing and that America can expect fair prosperity on a sound basis within a relatively short time.

"Any review of what has happened would be incomplete that did not recognize certain great social changes. Child labor is a thing of the past, the sweat shops will not again appear on the industrial horizon and the exploitation of labor as a result of cut-throat competition will not again bring misery and suffering to untold thousands. Also the forty-hour week or a week of even fewer hours has become definitely a part of the national program.

"The efforts being made to bring about economic recovery must of necessity present serious problems. Undoubtedly mistakes have been made and will be made; but we may well characterize the operation of these two great acts, the industrial recovery act and the agricultural adjustment act, as sincere and probably effective efforts to coordinate and rationalize American industry along democratic lines and to assure economic security and industrial liberty to employers, employes and those who work on the farm."

Monroe Jobber Sets Enviable Record For Westinghouse Sales

Winning the Southwell trophy, emblematic of sales leadership for Westinghouse refrigerators throughout the southeastern states, early this summer only spurred the Monroe Hardware company to renewed efforts and Westinghouse sales of the local jobber reached new heights this season, it was announced yesterday by George H. Wygant, manager of the electrical and refrigeration department.

The many advantages of Westinghouse electric refrigerators are generally recognized and this fact is largely responsible for this unusual sales record, Mr. Wygant said.

"The knowledge that they offer the best electric refrigerator on the market has spurred Monroe Hardware company salesmen and distributors to new sales records," Mr. Wygant said.

Mr. Wygant attributes the wonderful record to the hundreds of satisfied users of Westinghouse refrigerators throughout his entire territory. There are many Westinghouse dealers in this section. The Louisiana Power and Light company and the Mississippi Power and Light company recently became Westinghouse dealers.

Westinghouse refrigerators have many superior features. During the 12 years of research preceding the announcement of the Westinghouse refrigerator, Westinghouse engineers made sure the product they built would be fundamentally right in principle and performance. Westinghouse has been phenomenally improved because Westinghouse engineers have found new ways to give more beauty and convenience, more food storage and ice-making capacity, greater quality and greater economy at more attractive prices and values than ever before.

A Westinghouse salesman will be glad to demonstrate these features and many others.

PHARMACY GIVES THEATER TICKETS

North Side Concern Offers Entertainment With Purchases

The North Side Pharmacy is not only offering some outstanding bargains in drugs and drug specialties during the month of September, but with every purchase of McKesson products amounting to 39 cents or more, a ticket to the Capitol theater will be given, it was announced yesterday by Mitchell Denoux, manager.

The North Side Pharmacy is located at Fourth and Stubbs, that convenient shopping center for residents of the north side.

"We are making this offer," Mr. Denoux said, "to show our appreciation for the liberal patronage our customers have given us in the past, and to acquaint new customers with the advantages of trading here. Instead of spending our entire advertising budget in the usual way, we are sharing it with our customers by giving theater tickets with purchases here.

"We will give with the purchase of any McKesson item amounting to 39 cents or more, one adult or two children's tickets to the Capitol theater. This offer is good during the entire month of September. This theater is planning the most entertaining and sensational programs possible to offer you this month."

Not only is the North Side Pharmacy making this generous offer, but they have placed a number of staple items on sale at exceptionally low prices. Among these items are McKesson's milk of magnesia, Burntone, Ibath, Liquid Albolene, cod liver oil, Saba ointment, aspirin tablets, lilac vegetale, Shavami, liquid petrolatum, rubbing alcohol, violet borated talcum, shaving cream, antiseptic solution and many other every-day drug items.

Fourth and Stubbs is the ideal shopping center for residents of the north side of Monroe. There is plenty of parking space and the merchants who are cooperating in this campaign are all progressive and maintain modern establishments.

Cooperating merchants are, besides Mr. Denoux, Weil Cleaners, D. B. Weil, owner; Sparco Service Station, whose manager is Clyde Hatten; Sur-Wa Store No. 5, Buddy Burford, manager and the North Side Barber shop, owned by J. B. Glass.

Another article concerning a Fourth and Stubbs merchant will appear on this page next Sunday.

KULCKE EXPLAINS PIANO MECHANICS

Of all musical instruments the piano is one about which most owners and those who have more or less mastered the art of piano playing know the least. It is really surprising how few players who come in daily contact with their pianos know even the name of the maker of the instrument.

The piano, in spite of its size and heaviness is a very delicate piece of mechanism. Not less than ten separate adjustments per key, exclusive of tuning, are required to make the action function properly in responding to the touch of the pianist. Grand pianos have even more adjustments than this, which make the grand piano more delicate and responsive and accounts for the preference for grand pianos displayed by all musicians.

There are three main factors which determine the tone of a string; namely, length, tension, and the thickness of the wire. The tone of the piano is controlled by the vibrational qualities of the sounding board and the resilience of the hammer-felts, plus the above named factors of the strings. It is interesting to know that each string carries a tension of approximately 160 pounds when tuned to the new international pitch—"A" 440. As there are about 230 strings per piano, it can easily be seen that the combined tension of all the strings is about 36,000 pounds or 18 tons.

This enormous tension is present at all times and is the main reason why pianos get out of tune even though not played on. Weather conditions, climatic changes and, to a certain extent, the playing will put the piano out of tune.

In order to offset these forces that tend to put the piano out of tune, it becomes necessary to have it tuned not less than once every six months, the action regulated every two years and the tone regulated or voiced every five years, depending on the amount of playing. Then the selection of a proper tuner becomes a problem, as a cheaper and incompetent man may do more harm than the money saved warrants, while an expert can save the price of a new instrument.

There is no question but that it is economy in the long run to employ an expert craftsman. Max H. Kulcke has been thoroughly trained in every phase of piano work. With 30 years of experience behind him, Mr. Kulcke has practiced his trade in German, English and American factories. For instance, Mr. Kulcke spent several years in the factory of Steinway, one of the outstanding piano manufacturers of the world.

Mr. Kulcke has been with Brook Mays and company, 128 South Grand street, for the past five years and he has been in Monroe since 1920. Mr. Kulcke not only is an expert on the mechanics of a piano but is experienced in refinishing the cabinets. Piano owners who desire to have their instrument refinished to conform with their other furniture may entrust the job to Mr. Kulcke with perfect safety. His shop is completely equipped to turn out a factory job.

Mr. Kulcke may be reached at Brook Mays and company, or by telephone at 700.

WIN FIRST NON-ACCIDENT AWARDS

Six bus drivers for the Tri-State Transit company, who have been given the first "non-accident" awards in this vicinity by the national safety council, are shown above. The drivers are, reading from left to right: (Top row) Drue Dees, A. B. Pearson and King Solomon; (bottom row) Edgar Parker, Charles Kenney and Charles Maxwell. The men drove a combined total of approximately 500,000 miles without the slightest accident.

Chevrolet Dealer Has Record Sales Increase

Lee-Rogers Makes Exceptional Showing In All Departments

The leadership of Chevrolet in its price field is more pronounced than ever this year and the Lee-Rogers Chevrolet company, local dealers, is playing an important part in the decided swing to Chevrolet.

The local company, along with the entire Chevrolet organization throughout the nation, compiled an enviable record for the month of August. Following the close of business Friday, Jack Rogers, manager of Lee-Rogers Chevrolet company, announced that the firm enjoyed an increase of 450 per cent in new car sales over August, 1932. The used car business showed an increase of 200 per cent over the same month last year.

Not only did new and used car sales show an unprecedented increase but service and accessory sales jumped 260 per cent over August, 1932.

The Lee-Rogers Chevrolet company has sold more cars during the first eight months of 1933 than were delivered during the entire year of 1932, Mr. Rogers said. He added that he expects a similar increase or better during the fall months of September, October and November.

The outstanding values offered by Chevrolet, plus Lee-Rogers personal service, have made this great record possible. Another factor in the sales record for August is the fact that Lee-Rogers, together with the Chevrolet parent organization, is operating strictly under the NRA.

"We feel," said Mr. Rogers, "that a part of our success at least can be attributed to the fact that we have 'gone NRA' 100 per cent. Five new men have been employed permanently since August 1. The NRA has helped us make this record."

In this connection Mr. Rogers quoted the statement recently published by the Chevrolet Motor company, at Detroit. It is as follows:

"With President Roosevelt's acceptance of the NRA automobile code, Chevrolet, the world's largest builder of motor cars, officially begins operation in accordance with the administration's recovery program.

"Although the official code was signed only a few days ago, it will be of interest to Chevrolet's many friends to learn that the Chevrolet Motor company started to carry out the spirit of today's recovery program three years ago.

"At that time, we put into operation a 'share-the-work' plan, whereby our workmen cooperated in spreading the work to give more men jobs. By means of this plan, as well as by regulating hours of work per week to meet retail demand, it was possible to carry 33,000 men on our payroll through the depression. For eleven months of each year since 1929, we have kept our employment within 10 per cent of this average. We are justly proud of this record. We are also proud to say that Chevrolet workmen did not, at any time during the depression, become a burden on public welfare departments.

"On August 1 of this year, Chevrolet announced a blanket wage increase as well as the adoption of the 7 1-2 hour five-day week and the employment of 12,000 additional men. This wage increase was the second in the last four months, Chevrolet having been among the first to put a blanket wage increase into effect.

"We feel that the president's recovery program deserves the wholehearted support of every citizen and manufacturer in America. It is a bold, swift, courageous plan to start the ball rolling toward economic recovery. Its sincerity is unquestioned. Its objectives are admirable. And the direct, forceful steps the president and his associates are taking to make it a success, should stir the pride and admiration of every American.

"We are proud and glad to do our part. And we are deeply grateful to the American people for the patronage that has enabled us to anticipate the present recovery program and to play our part today. After all, the immense number of men employed by Chevrolet is a direct result of the continued preference America has shown for Chevrolet."

BRICK DIMINISHES CHANCE OF FIRE

Safety Important In Purchasing Materials For New Building

Brick provides beauty and individuality in a home but there is another factor that makes it the ideal building material, according to Bruce Frizzell, president of the Frizzell Brick company, local manufacturers. That factor is safety.

A brick house with a roof of noncombustible material is your best protection against the destruction of your home by fire from the outside. Fires in the interior of a home originate in defective flues and defective electric wiring more often than from almost all other causes combined. Here again brick is your greatest protection. There is no chance for a fire inside the walls themselves and no chance for a fire originating in the floors to spread with anything approaching the rapidity with which it travels in a house whose walls are loaded with upright wooden joists, sheathing planks, paper and shingles.

Fire-insurance companies take cognizance of these facts in their premium rates, but so many varying factors go to determine fire-insurance rates that it is impossible to state any figures on the extra savings in premiums effected by brick construction. Among such factors are the efficiency of fire protection, water pressure, exposure, character of tenancy and many others, all local and individual. Averaging them all up, however, it is safe to say that a brick house reduces fire-insurance premiums over twenty-five per cent.

Leaving out of account the actual dollars-and-cents saving, no material in the matter of fire protection can have the same claim to your consideration as brick. Indeed, the assurance of security brought by brick is just as real a measure of genuine economy as any financial saving. If to be a safe shelter is the first requisite of a home, then brick is the one material for its walls.

But beauty, individuality and safety alone will not satisfy you in the material for the walls of your home. You demand permanence. In every other form of construction but stone, deterioration sets in the day it has been completed. Father Time ruthlessly tries all things, and he has not found brick as a building material wanting. Brick is almost his twin brother; perhaps that is why he has dealt so generously with it. But whatever the reason, certain it is that brick has withstood the ravages of time for thousands of years.

Think of it! Brick walls built by the Babylonians 3,000 years B. C. are still standing and in good condition; even buildings of stone, erected a thousand years later, have crumbled to dust. Every Age and every Civilization has had its brick, from the developments of brickcraft in America—and such the permanency that we have examples of all of them today.

If brick could speak—and all other records were lost—the history of civilization could still be written, without the loss of a single epoch, more clearly and more completely than we now know it.

If the amount of real satisfaction procured is the measure of genuine economy, without regard for the marked financial saving in other respects, then these four factors—Safety, permanence, individuality, beauty—alone make brick the most economical building material for your home.

MAX H. KULCKE
PIANO TECHNICIAN
Piano Rebuilding and Refinishing
Phones 700 and 2122—128 S. Grand

FRIZZELL BRICK COMPANY, INC.
Manufacturers of Face and Common BRICK
Monroe, ... Louisiana

The Brown PAPER MILL Co.
Manufacturers of KRAFT WRAPPING
BAG PAPER SULPHATE BOARD

DOWNES BROKERAGE
INCORPORATED
GENERAL INSURANCE
209 Ouachita Nat'l Bank Bldg.
PHONE 605
R. DOWNES, JR., President
T. C. DOWNES, Secretary-Treas.

INTERURBAN Transportation Co.
Monroe . . . . . Alexandria and all intermediate points
3 BUSES EACH WAY EVERY DAY
Union Bus Station 200 S. Grand St. Phone 772

The Monroe Hardware Company
WHOLESALE DISTRIBUTORS
Westinghouse ELECTRIC PRODUCTS

Jas. A. Noe
Oil and Gas Properties

SCHARF'S MILK
With the Heavy Cream Line
At All Monroe
SUR-WA STORES

PHONE 3000
COBB-RODRIGUEZ
Agency, Incorporated
Specialists in Special Hazards
124 South Grand

Accident and Health Protection a Specialty
McREYNOLDS AND COMPANY
GENERAL INSURANCE
Let Us AETNA-IZE YOU
Bank Building 816 Ouachita Phone 377

Bond Service a Speciality
SEYMOUR
INSURANCE AGENCY,
Incorporated
E. J. SEYMOUR P. M. ATKINS
We Insure Against Any Risk
Suite 411-12 Bernhardt Building
Phone 2973

GREGG & McKENZIE INSURANCE AGENCY, INC.
313 HARRISON STREET PHONE 473

FOURTH and STUBBS

North Side Barber Shop
J. B. GLASS, Prop.
Across from the Georgia Tucker School. Specializing in Ladies' and Children's Work
Phone 1836

Convenience!
Near to you as your telephone if you wish us to call, conveniently located in the center of the North Side if you desire cash and carry service
Weil Cleaners
Fourth and Stubbs Phone 4522

$1 Mineral Oil .89c
75c Lilac Vegetale 49c
McKesson's Tooth Paste 39c
McKesson's Shaving Cream 39c
NORTH SIDE PHARMACY
Incorporated
Phone Us Your Order—4500
Free Delivery to 11 P. M.
MITCHELL DENOUX, Manager
402 Stubbs Ave. Phones 4500-4501

Plenty of Parking Space At Sur-Wa Number 5 at Fourth and Stubbs
And always . . . Complete Grocery Stocks Lowest Prices
Courteous Service

The advancing price of gasoline makes you appreciate more and more the quick getaway, long mileage and smooth performance of NEW SPARCO — a premium grade gasoline at no extra price.
SPARCO Filling Station
Fourth and Stubbs
Clyde Hatten, Mgr.
Phone 4646

FOURTH and STUBBS

63 PERSONS DEAD IN PATH OF GALE THAT SWEPT CUBA

(Continued from First Page)

hand tonight as residents worked to clear away the tangle of trees, posts, timbers and refuse scattered helter-skelter by the storm.

Four sugar-laden sailboats from this port with crews of from 15 to 20 each were missing and another was aground on a nearby sandbar.

Residents said a tidal wave 10 feet high swept in from the sea at the height of the storm and houses three blocks from the harbor were stained with mud six feet from the ground.

Cardenas' famous museum, containing almost priceless relics of Cuba's early history, suffered major damage when the roof collapsed.

The Progresiva school, operated by the women's board of home missions of the Presbyterian church, was damaged and Dr. R. L. Wharton, its superintendent, estimated a loss of $10,000.

Dr. Wharton said that as far as he could learn all American residents of Cardenas and Varadero Beach escaped injuries.

The Arechaval sugar refinery, one of the city's most modern buildings, was destroyed as was the police station. Police were housed temporarily in the fire station.

Residents, apparently believing the full force of the storm would not hit Cardenas, said they were not prepared, and this, it was believed, was responsible for the large number of dead and injured.

Members of the ABC Revolutionary society were patrolling the stricken area to prevent looting. Manuel Buencoma was almost lynched when he was arrested accused of looting.

The ABC formed an emergency relief committee and was preparing to establish emergency kitchens to feed the homeless.

HARDY TO SPEAK AT NRA MEETING

(Continued from First Page)

Redmond, Fagan Cox and A. V. Miller will be in charge of securing banners for the parade.

A committee was named to make plans for a house-to-house canvass in Monroe for the purpose of getting consumers' cards signed. Mrs. Fagan Cox was appointed chairman of this committee and will be assisted by Mrs. Jessie Sadler, Miss Julia Wossman, Mrs. Lon McHenry, Mrs. Nell Grigsby, Mrs. Jonas Selig, Mrs. T. L. Morris, D. M. Doughty and L. O. Quinn. Members of this committee will meet Monday night at 7:30 p. m. at the Chamber of Commerce to perfect plans for the city-wide canvass which will be held Sunday, September 10, between the hours of 2 and 4 p. m.

Members of the publicity committee appointed by Mr. Miller were Miss Sallie Humble and Mrs. Nell Grigsby.

Radio talks on the work planned by the NRA committee will be made by Miss Julia Wossman, Monday evening from 6:45 until 7 p. m., and on Tuesday evening by Mrs. T. L. Tippit, of West Monroe, at the same hour. Saturday evening Rev. H. S. Driskell spoke over the radio explaining the NRA program.

The date for the meeting of the NRA committee, heretofore held on Friday evening, has been changed until Thursday evening of each week.

Railroad and Motor Coach Schedule

ILLINOIS CENTRAL SYSTEM

EAST BOUND—	Arrive	Depart
No 204—Fast	10:39 am	10:44 am
No 202—Fast	7:40 pm	7:45 pm
WEST BOUND—	Arrive	Depart
No 201—Fast	9:45 am	9:50 am
No 203—Fast	6:45 pm	6:50 pm

MISSOURI PACIFIC LINES

MAIN LINE—North	Arrive	Depart
No 116	8:28 am	8:38 am
No. 102	9:25 pm	9:30 pm
MAIN LINE—South	Arrive	Depart
No 101	8:00 am	8:08 am
No 115	8:55 pm	9:03 pm
NATCHEZ-EL DORADO—
No 116-841-848		8:38 am
No 842-847-115	8:55 pm
FARMERVILLE—	Arrive	Depart
*No 150		6:35 am
*No 151	5:10 pm
No 844		6:00 pm

*Daily except Sunday.
Sunday only

MISSOURI PACIFIC COACHES

	Arrive	Depart
St. Louis and L. Rock	3:25 pm	12:00 pm
To and from Natchez	11:15 am	4:30 pm
To and from Bastrop	8:30 am	12:00 pm
To and from Bastrop	3:25 pm	5:30 pm

INTERURBAN TRANSPORTATION CO.

NORTH BOUND— (From Alexandria)	—SOUTH BOUND (To Alexandria)
9:50 am	7:00 am
3:35 pm	12:30 pm
7:10 pm	4:15 pm

AMERICAN AIRWAYS

EAST BOUND—	—WEST BOUND
12:59 pm	1:52 pm

TRI-STATE MOTOR COACHES

EAST BOUND—	—WEST BOUND
3:30 am	3:10 am
10:20 am	7:30 am
2:30 pm	12:10 pm
5:15 pm	4:45 pm
	8:45 pm

INVESTORS

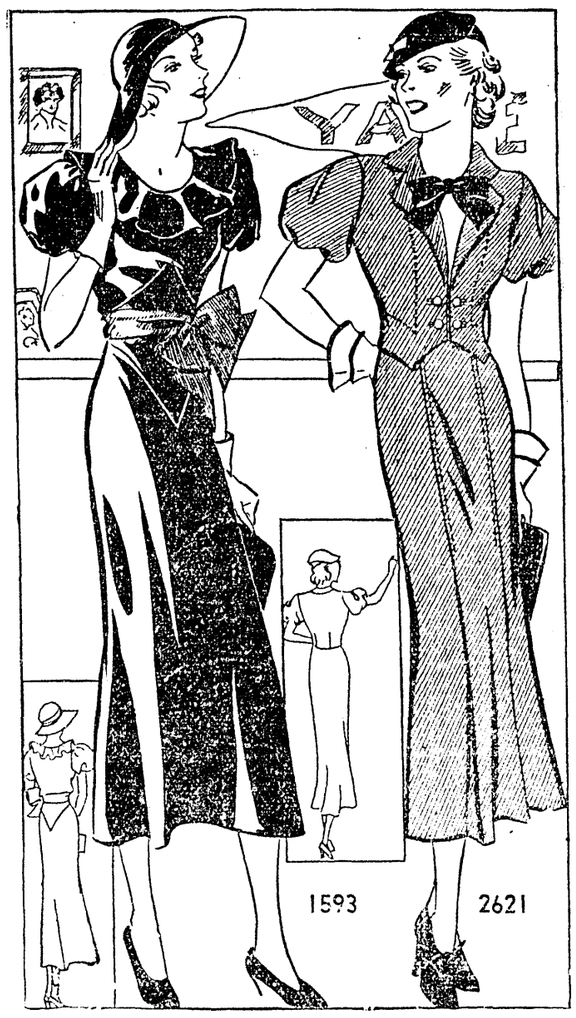
DO NOT TAKE A LOSS ON YOUR INVESTMENTS

Let us assist you—as we have many—by careful planning, and honest dependable advice. Our years of experience backed by a "clean record" is available to you. Write us your investment troubles.

E. A. Phillips
Box 539, Monroe, La.

FOURTH and STUBBS

News-Star--World Pattern



PATTERNS 1593 AND 2621

For the college wardrobe here are two perfectly adorable frocks that every young thing can make herself! What an advantage to sew your own frocks . . choose the very lines that best become you, fashion them of the choicest fabrics . . . and what a thrill to find you're still below par of your budget!

Drop in at any rendezvous for tea, bridge or dinner in the adorable frock sketched at the left. Flatter your feminine daintiness with a flared collar, youthful sleeves and crisp ribbon sash. We suggest you use satin, velvet or faille.

The other young miss is about to dash off to the game with him. She's smartly tailored for the occasion in a stunning two piece rig . . . dress and jacket. The fetching mess jacket with mannish closing is her pride and joy. A perfect success in sheer wool, one of the new wool-like crepes or faille.

Pattern 1593 is available in sizes 8, 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 16 takes 3 3-4 yards 39 inch fabric and 2 yards 4 1-2 inch ribbon.

Pattern 2621 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 16 takes 4 1-4 yards 39 inch fabric and 3-4 yard ribbon. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included with each pattern.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred), for each Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE WANTED.

THE ANNE ADAMS PATTERN BOOK features a charming collection of afternoon, sports, golf, tennis dresses, jumpers, house frocks, special beginners' patterns, styles for juniors, and lovely clothes for youngsters, and instructions for making a chic sweater. SEND FOR YOUR COPY. PRICE OF CATALOG FIFTEEN CENTS. CATALOG AND PATTERN TOGETHER TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Address orders to The Monroe Morning World Pattern Department, 243 West 17th Street, New York City.

DARLING FOOL

By Adele Elliott

CHAPTER XXXI

Dan's voice was flat and colorless. "She's gone! For—for how long?"

Kay smiled. "Several months. Perhaps they'll be back by Christmas, perhaps not."

"I see." The man stood for an instant, hands plunged deep in his overcoat pockets. "I see," he repeatedly vaguely. "She didn't leave any message for me?"

"Monnie?" Kay's voice tinkled. "No, indeed." Into her eyes came a sparkle of malice. "She was wearing Charles Eustace's flowers when she left. Orchids." Kay made the word vastly significant.

Dan gave her a comprehending look; then, without another word, he lifted his hat and withdrew.

"There!" Kay congratulated herself. "Guess I gave him something to think about—the conceited thing!" She felt not the slightest compunction though she remembered Monnie's voice, saying clearly that morning, "If Dan calls give him my address."

Well, Kay wouldn't. Anyhow he hadn't asked for it. He'd looked as though Monnie's departure really was a blow. That seemed queer too when he'd been at Sandra Lawrence's beck and call for so long. Kay clicked her tongue against her teeth, reflecting that men were really the limit! It was high time that Monnie stopped this nonsense about Dan and discovered there were other men in the world.

* * *

She set off for the "News" office quite gaily, feeling serene and capable and alert. It was good to have this thrilling new job, to have a place in the world. Kay wasn't at all nervous about doing Miss Anstice's work. It was simple, really, and she knew just how it should be done. You could, thought Kay coolly, do it with your eyes shut. Life was different for Kay this year. The old sullenness and impatience had slipped from her like a cloak. She no longer thought longingly of New York, of going on the stage. She had noticed since she had been helping Miss Anstice that people were nicer to her. Even stiff people like Mrs. John Blair. Mrs. Blair had called up last week to remind Kay of the big bazaar at St. Thomas' and to hope she could drop in for lunch one of the days when the Ladies Aid was serving.

"We're counting on you, Miss O'Dare," the lady had cooed. Kay had trie dto keep from smiling, remembering how Mrs. Blair had snubbed her at the high schol dance where Linda Blair, her daughter—clumsy and unattractive in an expensive frock—had tried to be the belle.

Kay hummed a little tune, stepping along at what Charles called her "race-horse" gait. Belvedere wasn't such a bad place after all. It was really nice, especially on crisp October days such as this when the maples on Denny street seemed to have turned to pure gold and the air was clear and spicy. Kay didn't envy Monnie even, en route to New York and later England. She took a deep breath. The trip would be good for Monnie. She needed to be shaken out of herself. Monnie had been unhappy this past year. Kay set her lips, thinking of the Cardigans. Horrid woman, Dan's mother! It was she, of course, who had made the difficulty between Dan and Monnie. Well, Monnie would forget all about Dan. She would have a marvelous time and perhaps come home with a foreign prince in tow. You never could tell. Monnie was beautiful enough to be a princess.

Kay was half way through a day dream in which she saw herself presiding over a reception to "my sister, the Countes de B—" when she reached the dingy office of the newspaper.

Meanwhile Monnie, speeding eastward in the drawing room which Miss Anstice had insisted extravagantly upon reserving, felt herself living in a dream. The narrow glass reflected a glowing girl wrapped in brown fur, a small hat atilt over her right eyebrow.

"You look awfully smart in that coat," Miss Anstice told her critically. "It's just your style. I am very proud of my traveling companion."

* * *

Miss Anstice, 50 and birdlike, her neat gray curls escaping from a new blue velvet turban, smiled benevolently.

"We'll go first to the Splendobilt, my dear," she said. "We'll be there by 6. Dinner in our room—or if you'd rather, down in the restaurant. Yes, I think that would be better. You'll like that."

"Oh, so much!"

"Well then, that's settled. I thought if you weren't too tired we might go to a play. There's Katherine Cornell in that new one that's such a success," purred Miss Anstice, taking off her gloves and blowing gently into each finger to keep the shape, as she had seen her mother do.

"I'm never tired," declared the girl in the green coat, meaning it and looking as if the statement might be true.

"The boat sails at 12 tomorrow," murmured Miss Anstice, rehearsing their plans for the dozenth time. "I won't sleep a wink I'm afraid. It must seem silly to you, at my age, but the fact is I'm terribly excited, my dear."

"Oh, so am I!" cried Monnie "It's the most wonderful thing that has ever happened to me. I still can't quite believe it."

"That's a very nice young man," Miss Anstice mused a moment later, touching her curls reflectively.

"Who? Oh, Charles!" Monica O'Dare smiled without a trace of self-consciousness. "Yes, isn't he splendid?"

"Now in my day," said Miss Anstice, "he would have been considered quite a catch."

"Oh, but he is! All of that," protested Monnie innocently. 'All the mothers on the Hill are angling for him. At least that's what I hear."

"I understand none of them have been very successful," murmured the older woman with an oblique glance.

"With Charles?" Monnie considered this. "Well, I don't know. Charles is sort of—well, distant. I don't," averred Monnie, "think he cares much about girls."

"Monica O'Dare! I could shake you!"

"What for?" The girl turned a surprising look upon her companion. Miss Anstice primmed her lips, shrugging.

"Never mind. Only—I never heard such nonsense in my life!"

* * *

It was only, Monnie reminded herself, 12 hours since they had left Belvedere. With her eyes fixed on the stage where the deep-voiced, tragic-eyed girl moved so gracefully Monnie's heart beat more swiftly. All day she had been perfectly happy, looking forward to the trip, the hotel and the excitement of the big boat. But now she was reminded of what a wrenching thing love could be. She wanted desperately to forget that, wanted to be gay, to laugh a little and play a lot.

"Isn't it beautiful, my dear?" That was Miss Anstice, wiping her eyes. "People don't love like that any more. They don't know real romance."

"I suppose they don't." Monnie knew she didn't mean that. Of course, they did! Of course, they did! Manners had changed and speech along with costumes. But the flaming feeling—that was the same.

Coming up the aisle of the theater later behind Miss Anstice the girl was conscious of eyes watching her. She lifted her own to encounter the bold stare of a tall man in full evening attire. He held his top hat at a most elegant angle and stood negligently on the fringe of a smart party. The women, Monnie observed, were beautifully dressed and talked in shrill, assured voices.

"How extremely rude!" Miss Anstice, taking her arm, was piloting her toward a taxi.

"I think it extraordinary the way people stare in the city," observed Miss Anstice. "That man! I didn't like the way he looked at you! Oh, that one's taken, my dear, and it's raining. I'm afraid we are in for a wait. The last time my father and I were here we had a most frightful time getting a taxi when it rained."

Car after car, opulent, luxurious, gleaming with chromium, deeply upholstered, slid up and was filled. Monnie noticed that the parrakeet ladies in the strange man's party and the two rather negligible males with them had gone on without him. The crowd thinned. Miss Anstice, wrapping her plum-colored velvet about her, chirped nervously "I don't know whatever we shall do, my dear. That's the worst of not having an escort. I always say a gentleman's so useful to have about—"

A deep voice said in Monnie's ear. "I quite agree. May I offer you ladies my car to your destination?"

Monnie whirled to find the tall man with the top hat before her. Before she had time, in her confusion, to say a word Miss Anstice took the situation in hand.

"That's extremely kind," she said briskly. "We shall be delighted."

The tall man flicked a hand in a gesture that was something like a Fascist salute and a greyhound of a car slid from the shadows under the porte cochere. Deftly he handed the two women in. The chauffeur touched his hat.

"Where to?"

"The Splendobilt," said Miss Anstice, leaning forward. "And thank you so much—" Her voice dropped. The tall man was climbing in beside them.

(To Be Continued)

TODAY

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(Copyright 1933, King Features Synd.)

(Continued from First Page)

school children of Gydnia singing "the Star-Spangled Banner" in English. It is well known that:

"Hope for a season bade the world farewell
And freedom shriek'd as Kosciusko fell."

Ambassador Cudahy will probably shriek several times before he conquers the Polish language. For instance, Kosciusko was born in Mereczowszezyno. How soon will the ambassador learn to pronounce that? It makes Welsh seem simple.

SINCE THE GREAT Kosciusko is mentioned, it seems appropriate, now, while everybody is economizing on schools, to mention the fact that before he died Kosciusko, emancipating his serfs, insisted on the maintenance of schools on his estates that had been set free.

THERE APPEARS, here and there, some inclination to "bait" Henry Ford because he has not yet announced adhesion to NRA.

It would be a mistake for NRA to give the impression that it wishes to bully or threaten anybody. This country had enough mountebank demonstration during the liberty loan war sales, with golden-haired ladies singing on the backs of elephants and other hysteria.

IN THE CASE OF Mr. Ford various things should be remembered.

First, he established the automobile industry in the United States on a gigantic basis. Without him that industry as it now exists would NOT exist, and NRA wouldn't be worrying about it.

Second, Henry, of his own free will, established the highest wages that his industry had even known and repeatedly increased them. Thanks to him, working men of Detroit and scores of other cities in the United States have received hundreds of millions in wages, including some hundreds of millions of extra extra dollars that they would never have seen had there been no Henry Ford.

SUCH A MAN is entitled to some consideration, including freedom from bullying, and doubtless President Roosevelt and General Johnson will give orders to that effect.

Mr. Ford's statement, "I always thought that to manage a business you should know something about it," need not excite too great indignation in the official mind.

Henry Ford says it. The official mind little suspects how many others THINK it.

LONDON AT THIS moment possesses more gold than ever before, and is paying for it the highest price on record, 130 shillings 8 1-2 pence.

This country, which buys gold, if at all, with seventy cent paper dollars has arranged to let all the gold minced in the United States be shipped abroad.

Some Americans cannot yet understand why American gold is too good for Americans at home, but not too good to be sent to Canada, France or Timbuctoo.

Miss Maude Johnson Dies In Hospital Last Night

Miss Maude Johnson, 26, living near Gilbert, died at 7 o'clock Saturday night at a Monroe hospital. She was brought here recently for treatment.

Surviving Miss Johnson are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson of Gilbert; four sisters, Mrs. V. L. Redden of Gilbert, Mrs. C. W. Womack of Winnsboro, Mrs. C. M. Pittman of Swartz, Mrs. Marion White of Gilbert, and two brothers, C. D. Johnson, 3312 Polk street, Monroe, and A. C. Johnson of Gilbert.

Burial will take place today at Osborne cemetery. Complete funeral arrangements had not yet been announced.

Florida gives its revenue from legalized beer to schools and divides taxes from horse and dog racing equally among its 67 counties.

CLASSIFIED SECTION

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Lost, Found, Strayed 2

LOST—Tan and white setter bird dog. One eye missing. H. G. Prophit, Jr., on collar. Reward $5. Call 499.

Markets

MARKETS AT A GLANCE
NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Foreign exchanges firm; dollar easy. Other New York exchanges closed today.

Liverpool

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Cotton, 1,000 bales, American nil. Spot quiet; prices unchanged; quotations in pence: American strict good middling 6.32; good middling 6.02; strict middling 5.72; middling 5.60; strict low middling 5.42; low middling 5.22; strict good ordinary 5.02; good ordinary 4.72. Futures closed quiet and steady. Oct. 5.47; Dec. 5.48; Jan. 5.51; Mar. 5.55; May 5.58; July 5.62.

Potatoes

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—(AP)—(USDA)—Potatoes 96, on track 85, total U. S. shipments 466; Russets steady; other stock weak; demand and trading moderate, supplies liberal; sacked per cwt.; Wisconsin Round Whites U. S. No. 1, 1.80-95; unclassified 1.40-55; Minnesota, U. S. No. 1, and partly graded 1.70-90; Idaho and Colorado Triumphs U. S. No. 1, 2.05-25, mostly 2.10-20; Idaho and Washington Russets U. S. No. 1, 2.40-50; commercials 2.10-15; North Dakota Russets U. S. No. 1, 2.10.

Foreign Exchange

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Foreign exchange firm; Great Britain in dollars, others in cents. Great Britain demand 4.54 1-2; cables 4.54 1-2; 60-day bills 4.53 1-4; France demand 5.69; cables 5.69; Italy demand 7.64; cables 7.64.

Demands: Belgium 20.24; Germany 34.60; Holland 59.46; Norway 22.87; Sweden 23.45; Denmark 20.32; Switzerland 28.05; Spain 12.13; Portugal 4.36 1-2N; Greece 81 1-2N; Poland 16.18N; Czechoslovakia 4.32N; Jugoslavia 1.90N; Austria 16.19N; Rumania 87N; Argentina 37.15N; Brazil 8.26N; Tokyo 26.75; Shanghai 28.75; Hongkong 32.00; Mexico City (silver peso) 28.18; Montreal in New York 95.25; New York in Montreal 105.00.

N—Nominal.

Livestock

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—(AP)—(USDA)—Cattle, 300; compared close last week strictly good and choice fed steers and yearlings strong to 25 higher; lower grades, after selling 25 and more lower, closed nearly steady at 5.50 down; stockers and feeders 25-25 lower with clearance good; about 2,700 western grazers in run, mostly stockers which in selling at 3.00-4.25 with best at 4.75 were lowest in years; yearling heifers strong to 25 higher; heavy heifers steady; grass fat cows weak; cutters strong to 15 higher; bulls steady to shade; vealers about steady; best fed steers 7.15; top on heavies and yearlings 7.00; light fed heifers 6.25; bulk fat steers 5.00-6.50; average cost around 5.60, against 7.60 a year ago.

Sheep 3,000; for week ending Friday 172 doubles from feeding stations, 13,400 direct; today's market nominal; compared close last week fat lambs little changed; sheep and feeding lambs strong; yearlings weak to unevenly lower; week's top range lambs 7.50; practical top natives 7.40; closing top westerns 7.25 to shippers; bulk natives at close 6.75-7.00; westerns 6.25-7.25, according to kind; native throwouts finished around 4.00-50; common to choice ewes 1.50-2.75; week's top 3.00; bulk week's feeding lambs 6.00-25; practical top 6.35.

Hogs, 25,000 including 7,000 direct and 15,000 for government; market hogs scarce, demand light; few sales medium weights 4.00-30; nominally weak to 10 lower; active trade on government account; shippers none; estimated holdovers 1,000; compared week ago 15-25 lower; packing sows 10-15 lower; light, good and choice, 140-160 lbs., 3.60-4.35, nominal; light weight, 160-200 lbs., 4.20-50, nominal; medium weight 200-250 lbs., 4.00-50; nominal; heavy weight, 250-350 lbs., 3.25-4.15, nominal; packing sows, medium and good, 275-550 lbs., 2.40-3.35, nominal; pigs, good and choice, 100-130 lbs., 2.50-3.60, nominal.

Classified Business Directory
Service by Experts

The firms and individuals represented in this column are ready to serve your every need. Each is an expert in the particular services of which it makes a specialty.

You will find them all courteous, reliable and efficient. Use this handy guide to the professional and business services they offer.

Automobile Loans

AUTO LOANS
$50 to $500
MOTORS SECURITIES CO., INC.
500 Walnut St.

Locksmith

KEYS FOR any lock. Safes opened and repaired. 114 Walnut. Day phone 121. Night phone 107-J. C. C. Lindley.

Mattresses

MATTRESSES RENOVATED—Work guaranteed. Prices to suit every purse. Phone 2744. Ouachita Mattress Co.

Plumbing

E. E. KELLY
PLUMBING—CONTRACTOR
COMPLETELY EQUIPPED REPAIR TRUCK
PHONE 4415. 1019 N. 6TH

Printing

LETTER HEADS, envelopes, ruling and binding. Monroe Printing Co., Jack Boyer manager. Phone 4800.

Radio Repair Shop

EXPERT RADIO REPAIR work at reasonable prices. E. C. Cobb, care Home Furniture Co., Philco headquarters. Phone 3040.

Vulcanizing

We vulcanize your tire and GUARANTEE the job. New and used tires. MONROE TIRE EXCHANGE. 2008 DeSiard. Phone 2767.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Special Notices 3

HUNT BURIED GOLD FREE

Acents and treasure hunters get a genuine Spanish gold detector absolutely free. For gold and silver only. It might mean your fortune. Write while free offer lasts. F. A. Harris, Box 1220, San Francisco Cal.

EPILEPSY—EPILEPTICS—Detroit lady finds complete relief for husband. Specialists home-abroad failed. Nothing to sell. All letters answered. Mrs. Geo. Dempster, Apt. 4-15, 6900 Lafayette Blvd. West., Detroit, Mich.

CARD OF THANKS

To all friends who so kindly sympathized with us in the death of our dear husband and father, Vincent Bimagia, we express our sincere thanks. Especially do we thank all for the beautiful floral offerings. Dr. Rizzo's faithful services will always be remembered. We also thank Barr Corry, undertaker, for his sympathetic services.

Mrs. Antonina Bimagia
Victor Bimagia
Mr. and Mrs. Peter Fasi.
Vincent La Rocca
Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cappo
Mr. and Mrs. Tony Ditto.

BUSINESS SERVICE

Educational 5

EDUCATION PLUS A TRADE—Many young men and young women will be needed within a short period of time by the various industries. Preparation at this time by their desiring to fill the demand will procure better paying positions and a more desirable work. In the printing industry this is made possible by the well maintained Southern School of Printing, 1514-16 South Street, Nashville, Tennessee, where monotype and linotype operator have been successfully taught for more than fourteen years. New handsome catalog and low tuition rates. Write V. C. Garriott for entrance blanks and special terms.

Miscellaneous 6

STOVES REPAIRED AND REGULATED. REFRIGERATORS RELINED. CALL MOAK. PHONE 140.

EMPLOYMENT

Agents, Salesmen 14

BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE wants experienced man or woman in north Louisiana to take orders from schools and homes on leads. Car necessary. Highest compensation. List references, experience, phone. Write Box Y, News-Star—World.

A LEADING New Orleans wholesaler desires representative in Monroe territory to handle well known beers. Stock furnished Monroe warehouse. Representative must be able to furnish own delivery equipment and make small cash bond. Excellent proposition leading to lucrative business on wines and liquors after repeal. State qualifications and references. Write Box P, care News-Star—World.

Male Help Wanted 16

STEADY WORK—GOOD PAY

Reliable man wanted to call on farmers. No experience or capital needed. Write today. McNess Co., Dept. B, Freeport, Illinois.

WANTED AT ONCE—Sawmill crew. Hooker, dogger, off-bearer, edgeman, trimmerman, oiler, fireman. Phone or wire E. Sondheimer Co., Sondheimer, Louisiana.

SALESMEN to sell mutual life protection. Ages 1 to 80. No medical examination. All nationalities. Stipulated rates. Chartered association. Write 425 Cooper Bldg., Denver Colo.

WANTED—Boy to sell newspapers on street. Good corner to live, wide-awake hustler. Must be neat in appearance and not afraid to holler headlines. See Bill Bickham, street sales manager, News-Star—World.

WANTED—Boy between ages of 13 and 18 to carry newspaper route in city of Monroe. Must be intelligent, neat in appearance, and willing to work. A signature bond is required. Apply to city circulation manager, News-Star—World.

MISCELLANEOUS

Household Goods 18

FOR SALE—100-lb. ice box. $10 cash. Phone 883 or 1149.

FOR SALE—Almost new electric Singer Sewing machine. Very cheap for cash. Phone 3846-J.

REPOSSESSED ICE BOXES—Reconditioned. For sale cheap. Phone Mr. Reid, 920 or 883.

Musical Instruments 19

WANTED—Will pay cash for good used piano. Price must be right. Address Box L, News-Star—World.

Office and Store Fixtures 21

WANTED—Typewriter desk, double drawers, and swivel chair. Must be a bargain. Phone 60.

MISCELLANEOUS

Chicks 23a

QUALITY BABY CHICKS

From blood-tested breeding stock. Our chicks have high livability, exceptional vitality and rapid growth, which can be noted right from the start. Write for illustrated catalogue, free brooder plans and brooding instructions. Pike Poultry plant, McComb, Miss.

DRUMM'S SOVEREIGN STRAINS—Officially blood-tested. Winter egg bred. Catalogue free. Drumm Egg Farms, Hattiesburg, Miss.

BECK'S WARM FLOOR BROODER—Build it yourself. Broods 150 chicks. Eliminates crowding. Few cents weekly runs it. Plans and lamp heater $4.25 postpaid. Circular free. R. L. Beck, Sullivan, Wis.

BLOOD-TESTED Reds, Rocks, Wyandottes, 100—$6.00; heavy assorted, $5.00. Prepaid; live delivery. Louisiana Hatcheries, New Orleans, La.

Livestock for Sale 25

ELEVEN FRESH Jersey cows; also good mule. Seven miles out on Bastrop gravel road (165). Turn east at Mid-Way Camp, first house across railroad on left. Rubin & Son.

Dogs, Cats and Pets 27

CANARIES FOR SALE—Twenty singers $2 each. Fifteen hens 25c each. Phone 3946.

Wanted to Purchase 28

WANTED TO BUY—Outboard motor; also Remington automatic shotgun. Write Box 476, Sterlington, La.

WANT TO BUY—Old newspapers and magazines. Delta Hide and Metal Co., 101 Riverfront, West Monroe. 1181.

WANTED TO PURCHASE—BEDS, SPRINGS, GAS RANGES, BEDROOMS, AND LIVING ROOM SUITES. MILLS FURNITURE CO., WEST MONROE. PHONE 420.

FINANCIAL

Money to Loan 31

AUTO LOANS
NO RED TAPE BORROW AND DRIVE ON.
417 BERNHARDT BLDG.

RENTALS

Apartments for Rent 32

FOR RENT—Unfurnished six and seven room houses. 1410 Park Ave.; 1411 N. Fourth; 517 L St. Phone 649. Mrs. King.

FOR RENT—Two and four-room furnished apartments; also bedroom. Walking distance. 105 Pine.

FOR RENT—Newly furnished two-room apartment. Connecting bath. 507 Pine. 2377-J.

AN ATTRACTIVE four-room furnished duplex. North 2nd. Two-room apartment, private bath. Calypso. Mrs. Porter, Phone 2344-J.

FOR RENT — UNFURNISHED FIVE-ROOM DUPLEX WITH BATH AND GARAGE. 601-B, WASHINGTON ST. PHONE 685

FOR RENT—Two-room furnished apartment. Calypso. Mrs. Porter, 1014 North Second. Phone 3344-J.

FOR RENT—Furnished apartment, two, three, or four rooms. Chickens, garden. Cheap. H. H. Hatchery, Sterlington road.

FOR RENT—Modern furnished apartment. Close in. Phone 979.

FOUR-ROOM FURNISHED APARTMENT. REFERENCES. 1007 NORTH FIFTH ST.

FOR RENT — LOVELY FURNISHED APARTMENT AND BEDROOM. PRIVATE BATH AND GARAGE. PHONE 1120.

FOR RENT—Modern apartment, splendid location. 105 Groves.

TWO-ROOM furnished apartment. 508 South Fourth. Bills paid.

FOR RENT — MODERN FURNISHED APARTMENT. FRIGIDAIRE. APPLY 401 AUBURN. RING 1312.

FOR RENT—SMALL TWO-ROOM FURNISHED APARTMENT. CLOSE IN. REASONABLE. 810 BREARD. PHONE 1645-J

Boarding Houses 33

FOR RENT—room and board, 519 Hart street. Phone 2713-R. Ruby Guilders.

Furnished Rooms 34

FOR RENT — Furnished upstairs bedrooms. Private home. Call 643 Louisville. Phone 2197-W.

FOR RENT—Two connecting rooms or one room next to bath. Phone 285-J.

FOR RENT—Modern room, private entrance, garage. Phone 2897-J. 506 Bry's avenue.

FOR RENT—Front bedroom, connecting bath. Garage. Close in. 504 Calypso. Phone 2650.

FOR RENT—Nicely furnished bedroom. Private home. 302 Grammar. Phone 1632.

LARGE, COOL, nicely furnished front room—next to bath. Private entrance. North side. Private family. Phone 2-17.

Business Purposes 35

SEVERAL NICE, newly painted offices. Lights, gas and janitor service furnished. Prices reduced. See A. H. Bates in Kasir building. Phone 461.

Houses for Rent 36

FOR RENT—Newly remodeled seven-room house. 217 Texas. Phone 1646. 410 South Second.

FOR SALE OR TRADE—Five-room house and garage in Markham, La. Write C. Kiro, Bastrop, La.

FOR RENT—Modern five-room home, Sherrouse Addition. Ring 462.

FOR RENT—Six-room house. South side. Large yard and garden. Reasonable. Phone 1526.

AUTOMOBILES

Automobiles for Sale 47

GOOD USED CARS FOR SALE

Money to Loan On Late Models

PHONE 1553
MOTORS SECURITIES
500 Walnut St.

REAL ESTATE

Acreage and Farms 40

FOR SALE—Forty acres, five-room house, 4.8 miles from court house. Sacrifice for cash only. Winnsboro road. T. F. Campbell.

Houses for Sale 42

FOR SALE—Six-room stucco home on Sterlington road. Phone 9207.

Real Estate for Trade 44

FOR EXCHANGE—Residence and business property in Monroe for Shreveport property. Box 186, Shreveport.

Here is the way of satisfying many of your wants. Phone or bring your ad for The Classified Section of The News-Star—World.

AUTOMOBILES

Automobiles for Sale 47

USED CARS

1930 Ford Tudor $225
1929 Ford Truck $125
1930 Ford Tudor $225
1929 Oldsmobile Sedan $135
1930 Ford Roadster $165
1930 Ford Coupe $250
1930 Ford Coupe $215
1931 Chevrolet Coupe ..$345
1929 Ford Fordor $165
1929 Auburn Sedan $195
1931 Oakland Tudor $325

We trade—terms

MILNER-FULLER, INC.
Phone 1000

NORTH LOUISIANA MOTOR CO.

Clean Cars—Honest Value Pay With Confidence

1931 FORD COUPE $225
New paint, good tires, motor overhauled. A bargain.

1930 CHEVROLET COACH $235
New tires, motor overhauled, good upholstery and paint.

1930 PONTIAC COACH $195
A-1 condition — cleanest in town.

NORTH LOUISIANA MOTOR CO.
412 Walnut St. Phone 729
Monroe, Louisiana

DESOTO AND PLYMOUTH Distributors

Monroe Auto and Supply Co.

Used Car Lot

Washington and Second Sts.
Phone 436

1931 Deluxe Chevrolet Coach $375
Completely overhauled; new paint.

1931 Chevrolet Victoria $275
1930 Chrysler Sedan ... $235
1930 Dodge Coupe $275
1929 Ford Coupe $125

1931 Plymouth Coupe... $345
Completely overhauled.

Many other good buys—See us before you buy and save money.

Bargains in Good USED CARS

1 1932 Chev. Coach
Looks like new $445

1 1932 Chev. DeLuxe Coupe
New tires. A real buy. $445

1 1931 DeLuxe Coach
6-ply tires; motor overhauled $345

1 1931 Chev. Roadster Pickup
New tires, A1 condition $245

1 1929 Chev. Coach
Runs good, looks good $165

1 1929 Chev. Coach
Good tires, runs O. K... $145

1 1929 Ford Coach
A real buy $165

1 1929 Ford Coach $135

1 1929 Ford Coach $125

LEE-ROGERS CHEVROLET CO.
Walnut St. Phone 2345

FIELDS ORDERS BUS INSPECTION

P. S. C. Chairman Acts Upon Request of St. Joseph Residents

FARMERVILLE, La., Sept. 2.—(AP)—(Special)—Acting upon requests from St. Joseph residents who protested against discontinuance of certain motor buses of the Missouri Pacific Transportation company, between Tallulah and Vidalia, Chairman Harvey G. Fields, of the Louisiana public service commission, today ordered special inspections made in this connection and a general inspection of all operations of the company concerned.

The chairman also ordered special inspections as to the operations of J. R. Herrin and company and other contractors in the area from Shreveport to New Orleans, to Leesville, Lake Charles and other points, and instructed Inspector Miller, if necessary, to call upon Supt. E. P. Roy, of the enforcement division of highway commission for patrol service, if required. Special written orders were filed by the commissioner with the commission, directed to the chief inspector of the commission, to carry out full and complete inspections.

Commissioner Fields, at a meeting recently held, had asked that no special or drastic inspections be made for several weeks, until working of the national code system had been studied, but today rescinded his previous position.

In his instructions to Inspector Miller, the commissioner particularly ordered that no movements of newspapers or magazines should be retarded or delayed by inspectors. This action was taken because of the recent conflict in inspections made in Commissioner Martin's district, where a newspaper delivery was affected by inspections by the commission and the traffic department. At that time, Mr. Fields ruled that newspaper deliveries should not be affected and ruled in favor of the publications.

Zack Worley's Residence Burglarized Friday Night

The residence of Zack Worley, motorman employed on the municipal street railway, located seven miles west of this city on the Dixie-Overland highway, was entered between 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. Friday night and $32 in cash taken from the pocket of the trousers of Mr. Worley. Nothing else in the house was molested and a $65 watch was evidently passed up by the intruders.

Worley stated that he had received his pay on Friday and had hastened home, leaving a part of his money in his clothes which he had worn during the day, and which he changed immediately upon his return.

His wife and others of the family had gone with him for an auto ride after supper, and the house was left locked. On their return they found the screen door unhooked and Worley's suspicions were at once aroused and he proceeded to look for his money, discovering that it was gone.

Report to the sheriff's office was made by Worley Saturday.

NRA MEMBER U.S. WE DO OUR PART

A & W SANDWICH SHOP

Specials

Until Further Notice

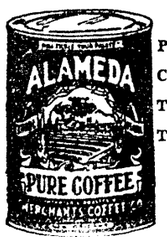
No. 1 Butter toast, one egg or 2 bacon, choice tea, coffee or chocolate 15c

No. 2 Hot cakes, maple syrup and butter. Tea, coffee or hot chocolate. (1 egg or two bacon, 5c extra with No. 2) 15c

No. 3 Buttered toast, 2 eggs or 3 bacon or slice ham, choice tea, coffee or chocolate 20c

No. 5 Buttered toast with 2 eggs and 3 bacon or 2 eggs and ham, tomato juice or orange juice, choice tea, coffee or chocolate 25c

BEST HOT OR COLD PLATE LUNCH IN TOWN WITH COFFEE OR ROOT BEER OR HOT OR COLD CHOCOLATE 30c



PATRONIZE THE MERCHANTS THAT DISPLAY THE EAGLE AND DO THEIR PART.

"WE DO OURS"

NRA MEMBER U.S. WE DO OUR PART

I. W. Allen, Owner

HOLDING THE HELM TO A TRUE COURSE

Business and banking have had to battle adverse winds and waves of economic stress before. But cool heads at the compass and firm hands at the wheel have always returned conditions to a safe port.

This bank through experience in safe and sound business practice offers constructive guidance and support to commercial accounts.

MEMBER FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

NRA MEMBER U.S. WE DO OUR PART

The Ouachita National Bank

TESTS SCHEDULED AT L. S. U. CENTER

Dean Colvert Makes Announcement Regarding College Here

All students who are to enter L. S. U., northeast center, for the fall semester are to be required to take pre-English and psychological tests, according to the announcement made by Dean C. C. Colvert Saturday. The examinations are to be held on Wednesday and Thursday, September 20 and 21.

These are held for the purpose of affording a better opportunity of correctly classifying students. Talks will be made by the dean to the incoming freshman class in regard to their college work, how to take notes, and how to study to the best advantage.

All new students are to report at the office at the university center at 9 a. m. Wednesday, September 20, and graduates of high schools are urged to see that transcripts of the studies pursued in high school are in the hands of the dean and his staff promptly.

On Friday and Saturday, of the opening week, registration of second year, or sophomores, will take place. Class work is to start on Monday, September 25.

In the past the students have been called juniors and seniors in respect to their pursuing first and second year studies. Now they are to be called freshmen and sophomores in accord with the new university plan.

Dean Colvert stated Saturday that there have been many inquiries from students who live in various parishes of northeast Louisiana and that the indications are that there will be a good sized registration this semester. It is believed that in a number of instances parents will make removal to Monroe in order to afford superior educational advantages for their children.

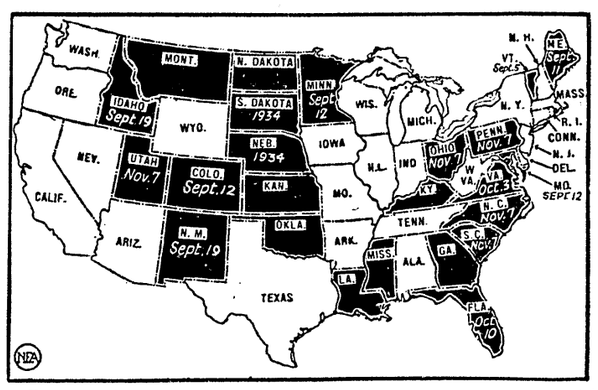
Modern Living Room Is Designed For Comfort

The 1933 idea of a living room, according to Jack Nu Delman, noted interior decorator at the Monroe Furniture company this week, is one that lives up to its name—a room designed for comfort above all else. The stilted drawing rooms of the past and the formal parlor of grandmother's day are gone forever.

Present day living rooms, stated Mr. Nu Delman, should be colorful, beautiful and artistic, but above all, liveable. Pieces should be well related to each other in style and design and always so placed in a room to give maximum utility and comfort.

Mr. Nu Delman is at the Monroe Furniture company during its exposition of Pullman World's Fair living room furniture. The display includes 85 newest design living room suites and chairs in addition to 300 new upholstering fabrics.

REPEAL'S PROGRESS AT GLANCE



This map shows the progress of the prohibition repeal movement, which has already swept 24 states. States that have voted wet are shown in white; those that have not yet voted are shown in black, the election dates being indicated in states where elections have already been arranged. South Dakota and Nebraska are not scheduled to vote until 1934.

End of Prohibition Will See Short Whisky Supply

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Four and a half million gallons to slake a pre-prohibition 167 million gallon thirst—that roughly is the situation America will face if prohibition is repealed in the next few months.

The bonded warehouses now hold considerably more than 18,000,000 gallons of whisky, and the stock grows daily. But there is a law which says distilled spirits must be aged four years before they may be placed on the market.

In the warehouses are approximately 3,500,000 gallons of whisky that has been aging since the war. To be added to that in figuring the supply for the first year after prohibition, are 1,000,000 gallons distilled four years ago under government permit for medicinal purposes.

But the supply of pre-war stock is being consumed with a rapidity that threatens to cut it quickly and substantially, through the operation of the Cellar law, enacted at the last congressional session, which permits physicians to prescribe whisky in any quantity. Thus, gauging demand, so far as is possible, by the consumption of the last year before national prohibition—167,000,000 gallons in 1917—the supply of domestic liquor will prove only a small fraction of the expected consumption.

Imported liquors must pay a customs duty that virtually doubles the price.

One solution for the problem may be mixing whisky with pure grain alcohol, a process used but not generally known before prohibition. In pre-war days it was known as "blending." During prohibition they called it "cutting," and it achieved a wide degree of notoriety.

Many distilleries now are operating at capacity. On August 1, they had produced 5,500,000 gallons for the year. An additional quota of 7,000,000 was assigned by the division of industrial alcohol for the remainder of the year. At the present rate, this quota will be produced by early October, and the division has indicated that an additional quota then will be assigned.

FATHER CHARGED IN SON'S DEATH

Share Cropper Accused of Refusing to Give Boy Medical Attention

CLEVELAND, Miss., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Holding tightly to a bible presented by fellow members of his strange religious cult, J. S. Chance, 40-year-old share cropper, was in jail here today, accused of responsibility for the death of a son for whom he allegedly refused medical attention.

"God will take care of me," Bolivar county officers quoted him as saying. "My son had to die because it was God's will."

County Attorney E. H. Green charged Chance with manslaughter today after an investigation into the death Thursday of Hilliard Samuel Chance, 7, of malignant malaria. The officer immediately sent doctors to the aid of two other Chance children, who are ill of the same disease.

Health authorities were twice refused permission to aid the Chance children, Green said, and he arrested the father under a statute providing for "culpable negligence." The mother, he said, holds similar views to the father, but the father was arrested as responsible head of the family.

Greek Rice, district attorney, came here from Clarksdale, and announced that Chance would be given a sanity hearing Monday. He will be sent to an institution if found insane, Rice said, and later prosecuted in the criminal courts, if he recovers.

County Attorney Green said there were numerous other members of Chance's cult in this territory.

"The church apparently started somewhere in this territory.

"Chance drifted into this county about a year ago from somewhere in Alabama, I don't know where. I don't believe he is a leader of the church.

"About a year or two ago one of the older members of the cult died because he would not let doctors treat him."

Officers who arrested Chance quoted him as saying: "God sent us these children, and it is his privilege to take them away. There's nothing that can be done about it."

WESTERN UNION SIGNS NRA CODE

Local announcement that the Western Union Telegraph company has signed the national recovery code was made here Saturday by E. R. Dawson, manager, following receipt of a telegram from an official of the national organization. The telegram was as follows:

"Western Union announced today that it has signed the president's reemployment agreement with modifications provided for the telegraph industry. This agreement becomes effective immediately and will serve as a code until a hearing is held at some future date on the wage and hour provisions.

"Nearly 50,000 Western Union employes in the United States, handling 80 per cent of the nation's telegraph business, come under the provisions of the code. Cards bearing the blue eagle of the NRA were displayed in all Western Union offices today and stickers bearing the blue eagle are being distributed and will be placed on all telegraph messages.

"Employes will not work more than 40 hours per week, averaged over a four-week period, except for those in managerial, executive or supervisory capacity who now receive more than $35 per week, and certain other employes doing emergency repair and other work."

Mr. Dawson said that the local branch of the Western Union signed up for the blue eagle Friday at 1 o'clock, but was unable to display the blue eagle on account of the fact that the supply of placards at the postoffice here had been exhausted. Postoffice officials said a new supply of placards had been ordered and is expected to arrive within a few days.

FAULK-COLLIER BONDED WAREHOUSES, INC.
502 North Second St. Phone 737
Monroe, La.
Move—Store—Pack—Ship Household Goods—Merchandise Storage
City and Long Distance Drayage
Bonded Warehouse—Insured Trucks

CLAIBORNE PARISH SCHOOLS TO OPEN

1933 Term to Begin Tomorrow With 128 Teachers Employed

HOMER, La., Sept. 2.—(Special)—Claiborne parish schools will open Monday September 4, John S. Patton, parish superintendent, announced. There are 128 teachers employed in the schools.

The parish teachers are as follows:

Homer—P. C. Rogers, Gertrude Fridge, W. H. Whatley, Jr., Loyd T. Roberts, Mrs. P. C. Rogers, Mrs. N. E. Wilson, Dessie McKenzie, Lesa Jordon, Mrs. Darden Ford, Sybil Moore, Cleo Vaughn, Uardo Simmons, John A. Jones, Belle Davidson, Mary Tooke, Lillian Mann, Thelma Seals, Eula Linton, Marion Dorman, Mildred Odom, Mary D. Rathburn, Martha Menefee, Mrs. J. A. Jones, Mary Moore, Mary Heard, Elizabeth Thomason, Gay Lewis, Mattie Levins, Cleo Seals.

Haynesville—Joe Farrar, Joe Aillett, Cecil Crowley, Agnes Keller, Margaret Teer, Janet Stark, Ruth Lowery, Mrs. C. C. Burkholder, Leah Sherman, Olivia Baucum, Mabel Callender, Mary Helen Key, Agnes Robinson, Mrs. Ruth Bevill, Mildred Goff, Mrs. Louise Edmondson, Ethel Wheeler, A. G. McKee, Mrs. J. G. Rankin, Emma Wood, Jewel Callender, Mrs. S. W. Hayes, Agnes Martin, Katie Belle Craighead, Mrs. Vera Dawson Keener, Fannie Lee Prestige, Eunice McLeod, Mrs. Troy Browning, Vonceil Bond, Doris Flournoy, Mrs. E. E. Hatborn, Mrs. T. H. Baker, Floy Grider, Mrs. W. E. Browning, Jr., Doris Tinsley, Floyce Oaks, Naomi Robbins, Susie Hedgepeth, Anna Burnham, Flora Travis.

Athens—L. W. Ferguson, R. W. Atkins, L. L. Greer, Edna McClung, Hazel Burnette, Mrs. G. H. Caskey, Christine Davidson, Louise Deloney, Cortez Williams, Opal Joiner, Wilma Burleigh, Louise Gray.

Lisbon—M. J. Haynes, L. C. Starr, Sula Cowser, Tinye Spencer, Ernestine Elder, Alline Allgood, Margaret Greer, Elsie Craighead, Louise Gilbert, Nell Garland.

Summerfield—A. A. Smith, H. A. Smith, Lois Spinks, Bonnie Summers, Marjorie Allgood, Ethel Roach, Mildred McElwee, Marjorie Thompson, Aubyn James, Myrtle Thompson, Dorothy Kilgore.

Harris—V. M. Robert. P. C. Robert, Mrs. Floy Glover, Sudie Roe Norton, Mrs. P. C. Robert, Mrs. V. M. Robert, Mrs. L. G. Alexander, Ethel Adams, Mildred Gandy, Mrs. R. E. Ashley, Olive Whittington.

Hurricane—H. G. Robinson, E. F. Kemp, Dorothy Hightower, Mattie Robinson, Lorene Dean.

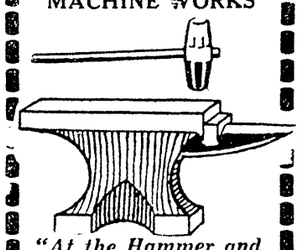
Cross Roads—J. M. Ware, Etta Mae Cowser, Norma Averett, Barbara White, Jewel Heard.

Oil Field—L. R. Tanner, Frances Mullenix, Mrs. Ida Cady.

Junction City—T. A. Hanchey.

Colquist—Mrs. M. L. Matthews.

JAMES MACHINE WORKS



"At the Hammer and Anvil Sign"

Trade Mark Reg.

Call Us Day or Night

Days 904—Phones—342 Night

Employment Unit Will Assign Work On Monday

The first men to be placed in employment through the new government employment unit at 215 North Second street, in charge of J. W. Worthington, will be assigned to their new positions on Monday morning. It was stated that from six to eight men will be given jobs. Their names and assignments to duties will be published later, stated Mr. Worthington. Others will be placed in similar positions just as fast as it is possible so to do.

The employment office is to be closed all day Monday for the Labor day holiday. On Tuesday, registration will start for all who have been previous applicants for relief work and especially is it desired that all ex-soldiers register as they are to be given preference in job placement.

Office hours of the employment office are from 8:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. There will be someone on duty at the noon hour, the manager stated.

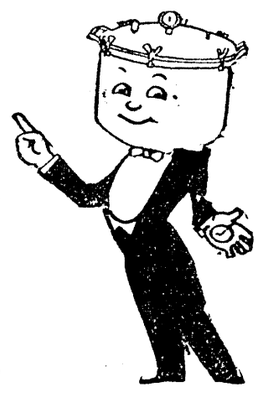
ANNOUNCING

WARD'S

Free Cooking and Canning School

Starting Tuesday, September 5

at 3 p. m.



and continuing each day during the week of the same hour. Learn how to save money, time, and labor, by cooking a whole meal on one burner turned down low in only 10 minutes.

Free Prizes Each Day

Low Prices on All Cookers and Sealers

MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.

124-126 North Third St. Phone 630

MR. J. S. NU DELMAN

Noted Decorator from the Pullman Company

. . . will be in attendance all during this event through the courtesy of the Pullman Couch company. Come in and discuss your home-decorating problems with him. His suggestions and assistance are offered without charge and can be very helpful.

TRADE-IN

Your Old Furniture! During Pullman Week We Will Allow You

$35

For your old 3-pc. suite on any new Pullman suite. Use your old suite as a down payment.

EASY TERMS

No Carrying Charges

PULLMAN WEEK

Presenting an exclusive exposition of the newest creations in

Living Room Suites & Chairs

direct from a Century of Progress World's Fair Market

Including

300 Fine Fabrics

offering an entirely new custom upholstering service

you are cordially invited to view this unusual display

MONROE FURNITURE CO LIMITED

Quality Considered, We Are Never Undersold

Fiction and Features

Monroe Morning World AND NEWS-STAR

Comics and Magazine

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1933

TAILSPIN TOMMY

TOMMY HAS RECOVERED FROM THE BLOW WHICH HE RECEIVED IN THE INTER-TRIBAL BATTLE, BUT HE HAS NOT HEARD FROM SKEETER, WHO, AS WE KNOW, WAS TAKEN PRISONER BY THE INVADERS -- THE BATTLE LINE HAS SHIFTED INLAND FROM THE RIVER

EARLY BIRDS

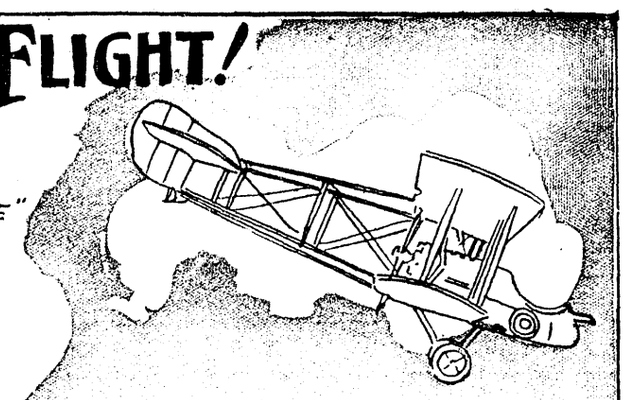
by GLENN CHAFFIN and HAL FORREST

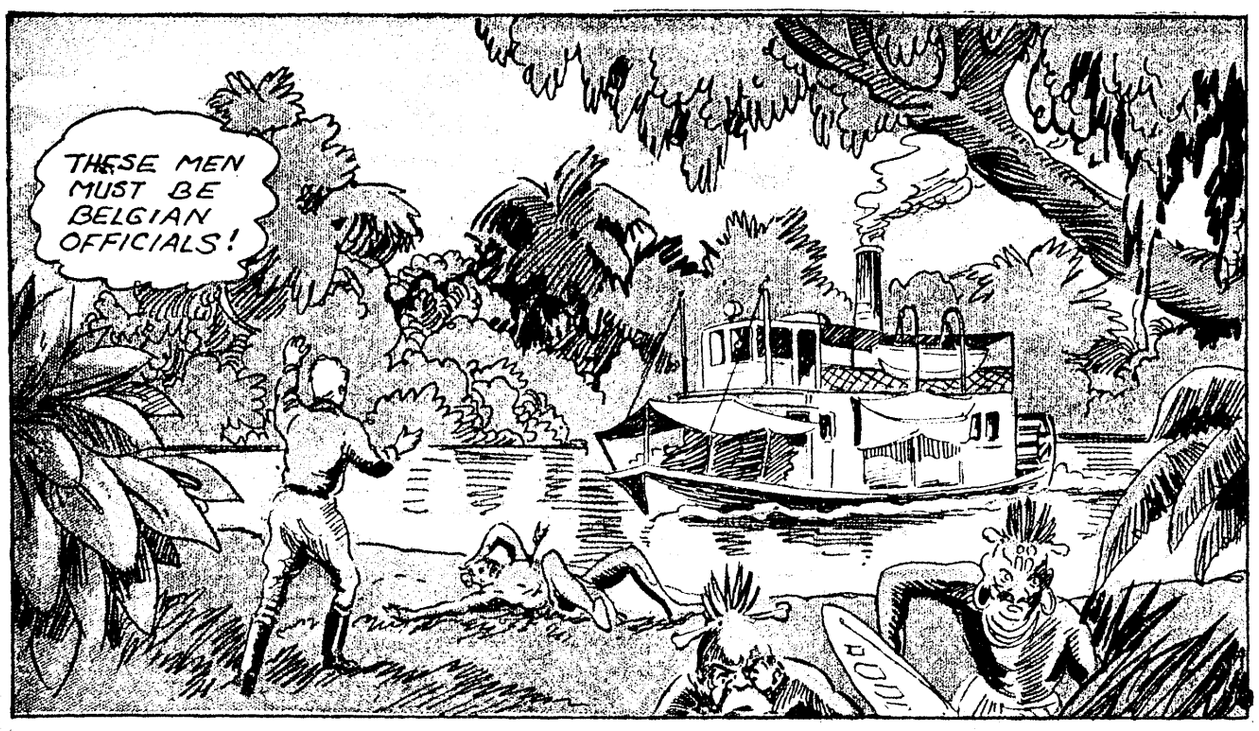
(Copyright, 1933, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

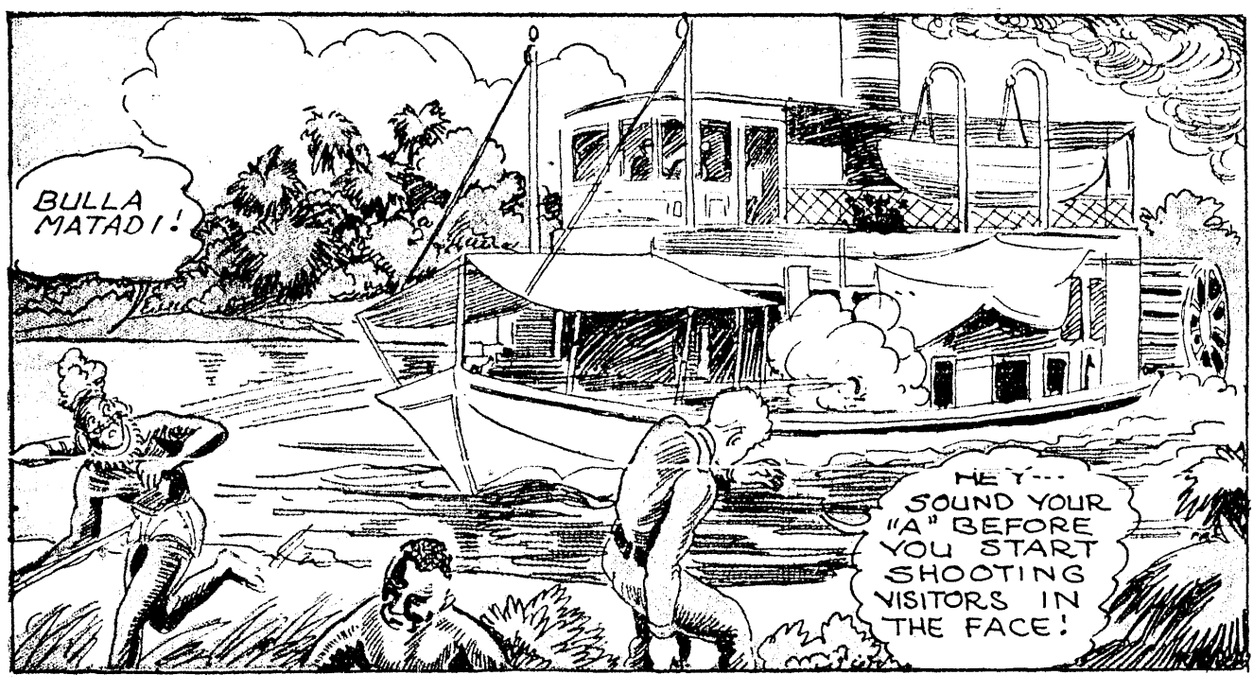
PROGRESS of FLIGHT!

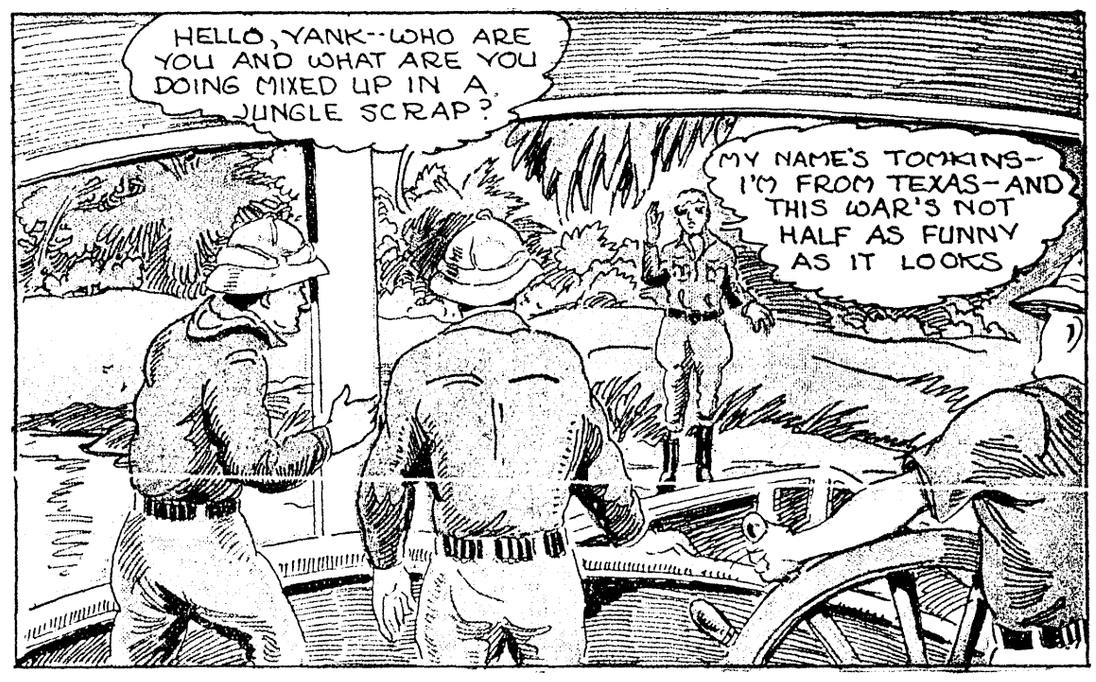
THE D.H.-2

ENGLAND'S FIRST ARMED SCOUT PLANE, DESIGNED TO COMBAT THE "FRONT FIRE" FOKKER. THE D.H.2 OF PUSHER TYPE PERMITTED THE MOUNTING OF A LEWIS GUN FIRING FORWARD FROM THE NACELLE. IT WAS POWERED WITH AN 80 H.P. GNOME MOTOR, CAPABLE OF 90 M.P.H.

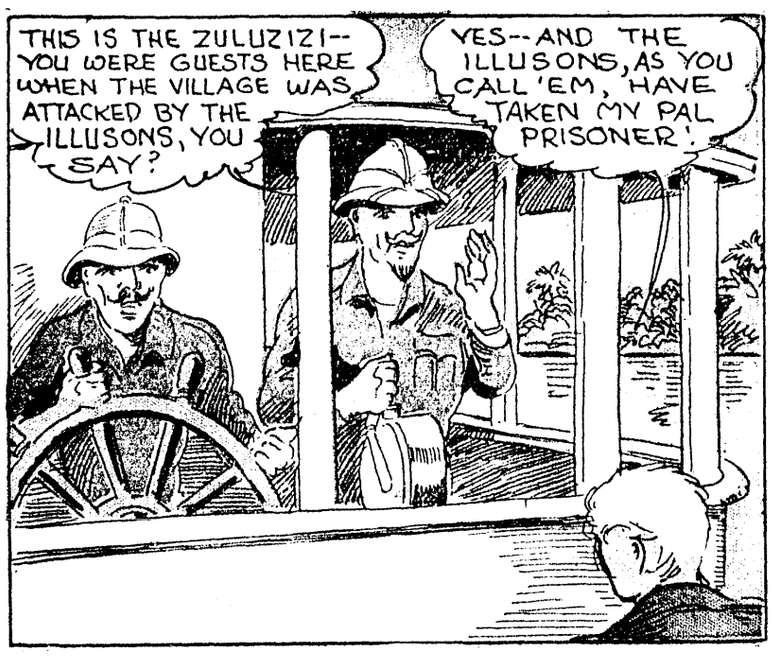




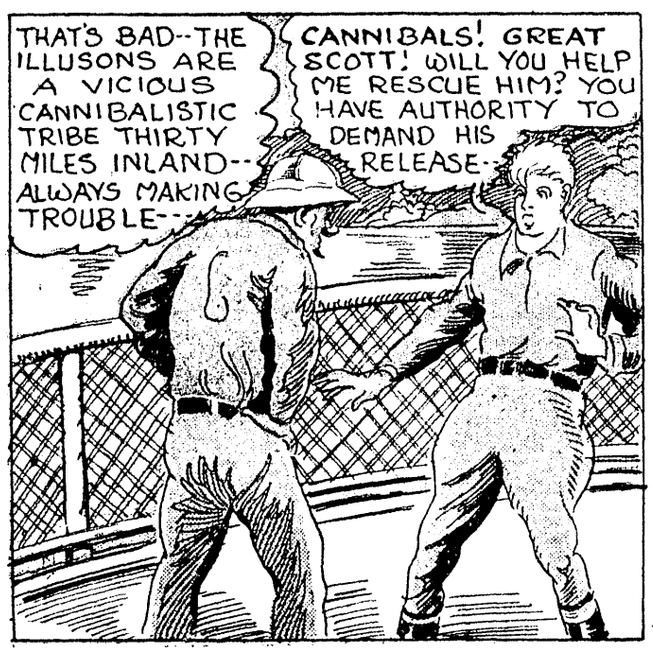




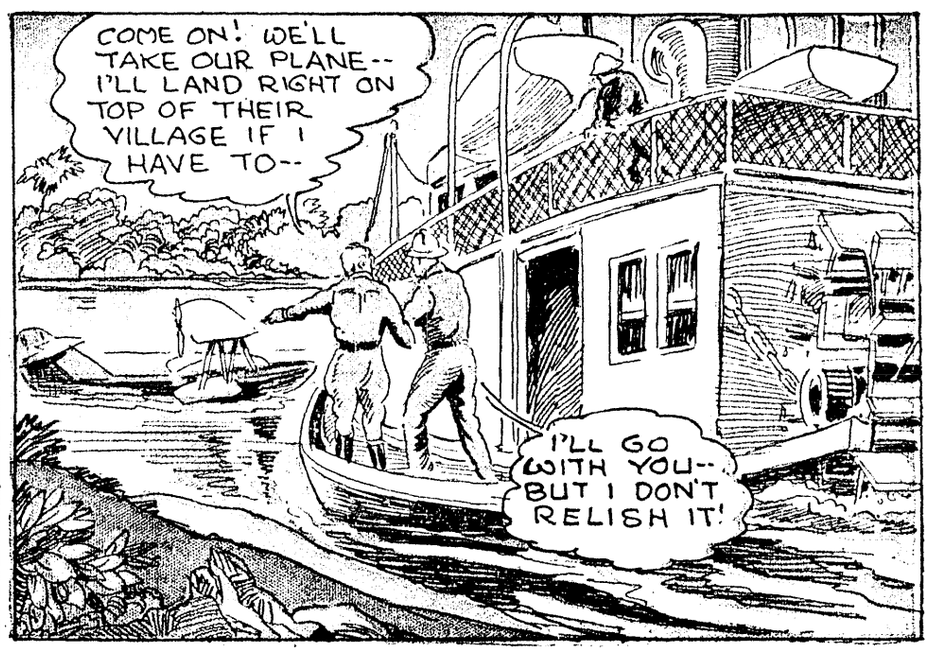
HELLO, YANK--WHO ARE YOU AND WHAT ARE YOU DOING MIXED UP IN A JUNGLE SCRAP?
MY NAME'S TOMKINS-- I'M FROM TEXAS--AND THIS WAR'S NOT HALF AS FUNNY AS IT LOOKS

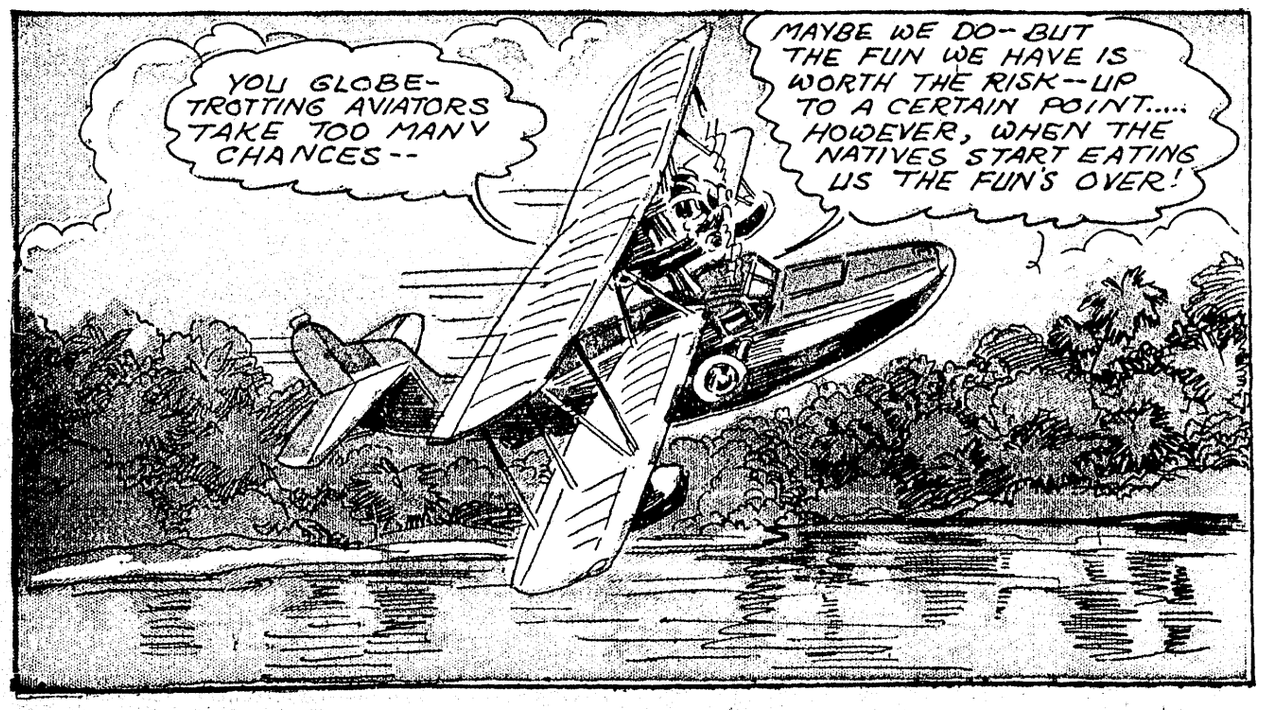


THIS IS THE ZULUZIZI-- YOU WERE GUESTS HERE WHEN THE VILLAGE WAS ATTACKED BY THE ILLUSONS, YOU SAY?
YES--AND THE ILLUSONS, AS YOU CALL 'EM, HAVE TAKEN MY PAL PRISONER!

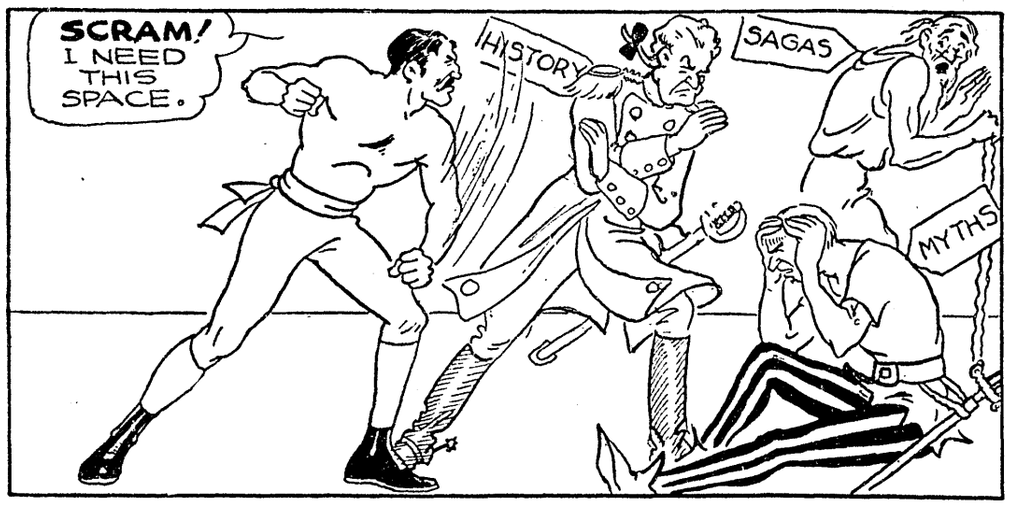


THAT'S BAD--THE ILLUSONS ARE A VICIOUS CANNIBALISTIC TRIBE THIRTY MILES INLAND-- ALWAYS MAKING TROUBLE---
CANNIBALS! GREAT SCOTT! WILL YOU HELP ME RESCUE HIM? YOU HAVE AUTHORITY TO DEMAND HIS RELEASE--





YOU GLOBE-TROTTING AVIATORS TAKE TOO MANY CHANCES--
MAYBE WE DO--BUT THE FUN WE HAVE IS WORTH THE RISK--UP TO A CERTAIN POINT.... HOWEVER, WHEN THE NATIVES START EATING US THE FUN'S OVER!



Dear Kiddos—;
We have something in mind which we consider very swell and we'd be glad to hear from you and find out if you like the idea. A famous sport writer, Murray Lewin, suggests that we give you a series of famous fighters, their pictures, favorite punches etc., and along with that Joe Palooka's own lessons in the art of self-defense. You can cut 'em out and save 'em—But don't get the idea that we're out of foolish Histories. It's simply which you prefer. You may write us care of this paper Thanks
HAM FISHER

JOE PALOOKA

© 1933 McNaught Syndicate, Inc., N. Y.

By HAM FISHER

JOE, I WANT YOU TO MEET FERDIE BRAYNZ. HE'S JUST FINISHED AT OXFORD AND-UH-HE SAYS HE CAN TEACH YOU A LOT. HE'S MADE A SCIENCE OF BOXING -HE SAYS.
WULL THAT'S CERTNY NICELY OF YOUSE. I APPRISHIATE IT.
QUITE ALL RIGHT MY GOOD FELLOW.
NATURALLY YOU BEING A PROFESSIONAL FISTICUFFER-PUGILIST- ER-AH- MUG I BELIEVE, OR IS IT A LUG — YOU HAVE ACQUIRED YOUR ESTATE IN YOUR-AH-RACKET BY-AH-BRUTE FORCE!
WULL, I DON'T NEVER TRY T'BE BROOTIL, BUT NACHERLY I GOTTA WIN BECUZ PEOPLE ESPECT IT.
JOE'S REALLY TENDER HEARTED.
TO THE HIGHER TYPE OF MIND, SUCH AS MINE, THE WHOLE PROPOSITION IS MATHEMATICAL- PURE SCIENCE TO BE EXACT. I AM MORE OR LESS OF AN AUTHORITY. I WROTE A TREATISE ON SCIENTIFIC SELF DEFENSE AS MY SENIOR THESIS. AHEM.
TCH-TCH-CERTNY SOUN'S INTERSTIN.
SUPPOSE YOU TAKE OFF YOUR COAT AND SHOW US A FEW POINTERS, FERDIE?
RAWTHER THAN ASSUME THE ACCEPTED POSE, WHICH IS EXTREMELY AWKWARD TO MY MIND, I HAVE DETERMINED THAT HOLDING THE ARMS THUS AND THE BODY SO, ONE IS READY FOR A PERFECT ATTACK!
FIXING YOUR OWN DOMINATING GLANCE UPON THE VICTIM'S EYE, YOU IMMEDIATELY RATTLE HIM BY SLAPPING HIS FACE!
??
THIS NATURALLY CAUSES HIM TO BECOME HEATED. ONE'S INTELLECT DOES NOT FUNCTION CLEARLY WHEN IN THIS CONDITION. EXAMPLE ONE! A GOOD IDEA THEN WOULD BE TO SLAP HIM AGAIN!
BY SHIFTING THE WEIGHT TO THE LEFT LIMB ONE IS IN EXCELLENT POSITION TO HURL A RIGHT HAND DELIVERY- I CALL IT PASSE A DROIT IN MY TREATISE----
---SO! THEN I DANCE LIGHTLY BEHIND THE VICTIM AND—I SEE.
-WITH A LEFT THRUST I SPEAR HIS BACK!
I AIWEZ THOUGHT HITTIN A FELLER IN THE BACK WAS AGAINST THE RULES.
TUT TUT- WHAT DO YOU OR THOSE OTHERS KNOW? NOW LET US SEE WHAT YOU HAVE LEARNED. YOU MAY TRY THE ATTACK. ASSUME YOUR ATTITUDE!
I DON'T EZZACKLY UNNERSTAN YOUR LANGWIGE- BUT IF YOUSE MEAN T'TRY IT-- OOOWF!
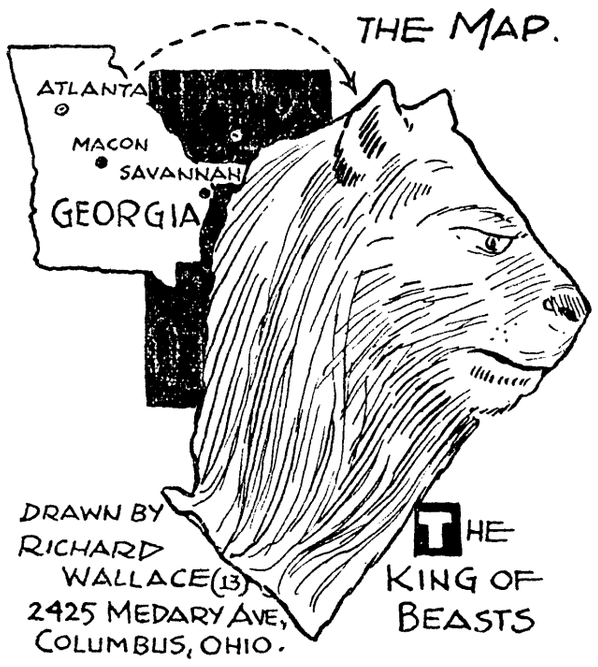
SMACK
I'M TERRIBLE SORRY I HURT YOUSE. GRACIOUS SAKES. YA GIT PRACTISIN HITTIN' HARD AN' YA DON'T RILIZE HOW HARD YA HIT. I THOUGHT I JIST SLAPPED YOUSE.
OOOOH
ARE YOU CONSCIOUS YET, FERDIE?
I'M GLAD YOUSE ARE AWRIGHT NOW. THAN KYOUSE FER TEACHIN' ME. IT MUS' BE WONDERFIL T'BE EJJICATUD!
TEE-HEE- I THINK YOU'D BETTER REVISE YOUR THESIS. OR ADD SOMETHING ON DEFENSE, PROFESSOR!
OH BOSH!
HAM FISHER.

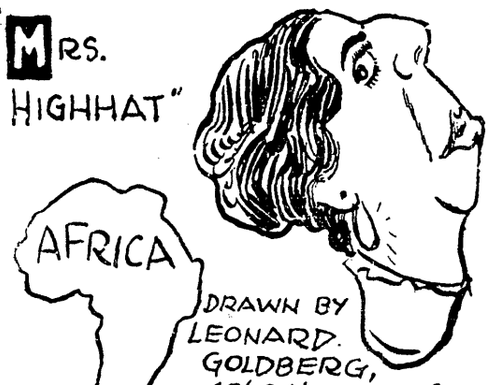
JOLLY GEOGRAPHY PICTURES IN THE MAP.



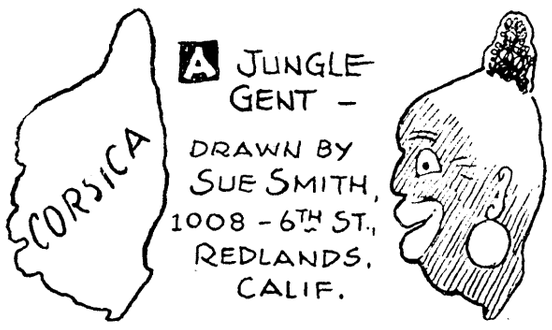
DRAWN BY RICHARD WALLACE (13) 2425 MEDARY AVE., COLUMBUS, OHIO.

THE KING OF BEASTS

"MRS. HIGHHAT"

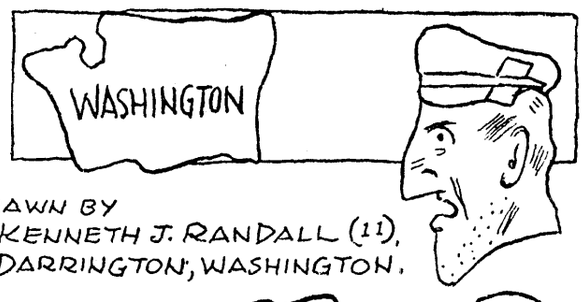


DRAWN BY LEONARD GOLDBERG, 1060 VIRGINIA ST., ELIZABETH, N.J.

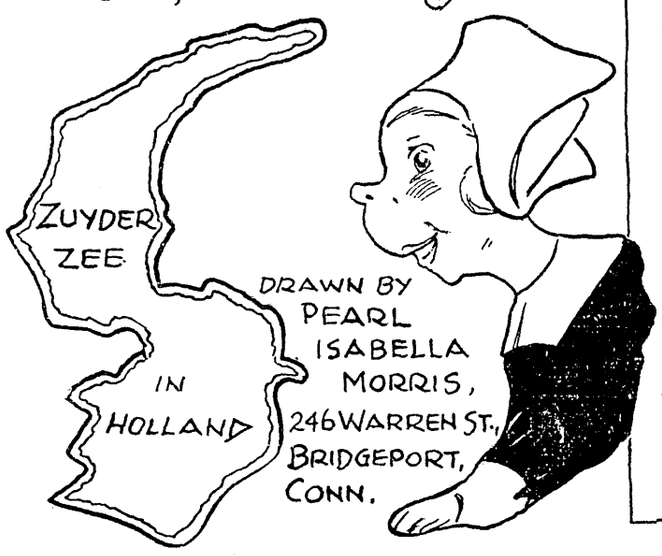


A JUNGLE GENT —

DRAWN BY SUE SMITH, 1008 - 6TH ST., REDLANDS, CALIF.



DRAWN BY KENNETH J. RANDALL (11), DARRINGTON, WASHINGTON.



DRAWN BY PEARL ISABELLA MORRIS, 246 WARREN ST., BRIDGEPORT, CONN.

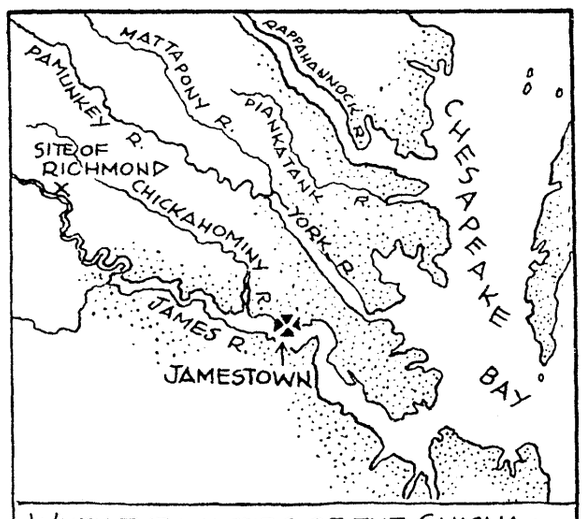
ODD AND INTERESTING NAMES ON THE MAP.

SNOW SHOE, PA.
FELICITY, OHIO.
FLOYDADA, TEXAS.
TWODOT, MONTANA.
TWISP, WASHINGTON.
FRIENDLY, W. VA.
HON, ARKANSAS.
YEWED JET, OKLA.
GOOD HOPE, ILL.
STRAWBERRY, IOWA.
DOCTOR TOWN, GA.
MARROWBONE, KENTUCKY.
TINCUP, COLORADO.
BUMBLE BEE, ARIZONA.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY -:- Captain John Smith—Part VII -:- By J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

IGNORANT OF THE TRUE SIZE OF THE NORTH AMERICAN CONTINENT, THE FIRST SETTLERS TO VIRGINIA BELIEVED THAT THE PACIFIC OCEAN LAY BUT A FEW DAYS' MARCH WEST OF THE ATLANTIC, AND THAT SOMEWHERE A RIVER OR A STRAIT FORMED A CONNECTING WATER LINK BETWEEN THE TWO OCEANS.

IN SEARCH OF SUCH A WATER ROUTE CAPTAIN JOHN SMITH, WITH A SMALL PARTY, SET OUT FROM JAMESTOWN IN A BARGE TO EXPLORE THE CHICKAHOMINY RIVER. —o



WHEN THE WATERS OF THE CHICKAHOMINY GREW TOO SHALLOW FOR THE BARGE, SMITH WITH TWO COMRADES PUSHED ON IN AN INDIAN CANOE. FAR UP THE RIVER, THE EXPLORERS DECIDED TO LAND AND COOK A MEAL ON THE SHORE.....

NOT HAVING ANY FOOD, SMITH LEFT HIS TWO FRIENDS TO GUARD THE CANOE AND KINDLE A FIRE WHILE HE WENT INTO THE WOODS TO SHOOT SOME WILD FOWL FOR THE REPAST.

HE HAD NOT BEEN GONE LONG, WHEN A LARGE WAR PARTY OF INDIANS STOLE UP ON HIS TWO COMPANIONS AND KILLED BOTH.

- THEN THE SAVAGES TRAILED SMITH AND OVERTOOK HIM JUST AS HE WAS MAKING HIS WAY THROUGH A MARSH.....

THE DOUGHTY CAPTAIN SAW HIS DANGER AND DEFENDED HIMSELF VALIANTLY. SEIZING AN INDIAN, SMITH USED HIM AS A SHIELD AND, FIRING AND LOADING AS FAST AS HE COULD, DROPPED THREE OF HIS ASSAILANTS. ——o

THE REST OF THE REDSKINS, FEARING THE ENGLISHMAN'S GUN, RETIRED TO A SAFE DISTANCE AND TOOK COVER BEHIND TREES. IN THE MEANTIME SMITH AND HIS HUMAN SHIELD WERE SINKING DEEP IN THE MUD.....

UNABLE TO EXTRICATE HIMSELF FROM THE MIRE AND SEEING THAT FURTHER RESISTANCE MIGHT POSTPONE BUT NOT PREVENT HIS CAPTURE, SMITH SURRENDERED.

SOME OF THE SAVAGES WISHED TO SLAY THEIR WHITE CAPTIVE AT ONCE, BUT A WARRIOR, WHO SEEMED TO BE THE CHIEF, RESTRAINED THEM.

©1933 J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

SMITH ENTERTAINED AND AMAZED HIS CAPTORS WITH A SMALL COMPASS AND OTHER ARTICLES HE CARRIED IN HIS POCKETS. THE AWE-STRUCK REDSKINS THOUGHT HE MUST BE A GREAT "PALEFACE MEDICINE MAN."

CHIEF OPECANCANOUGH, THE LEADER OF THE PARTY, DECIDED TO PRESENT HIS REMARKABLE PRISONER TO HIS BROTHER, "KING" POWHATAN, WHO RULED OVER ALL THE TRIBES OF THAT REGION. THE BAND SET OUT FOR POWHATAN'S VILLAGE.....

MEANWHILE, OTHER WARRIORS OF OPECANCANOUGH HAD ATTACKED THE CREW OF THE BARGE. THE ENGLISHMEN HASTILY FLED DOWN THE RIVER, BELIEVING THAT CAPTAIN SMITH HAD BEEN SLAIN BY THE INDIANS.

—TO BE CONTINUED.—

Magazine Section

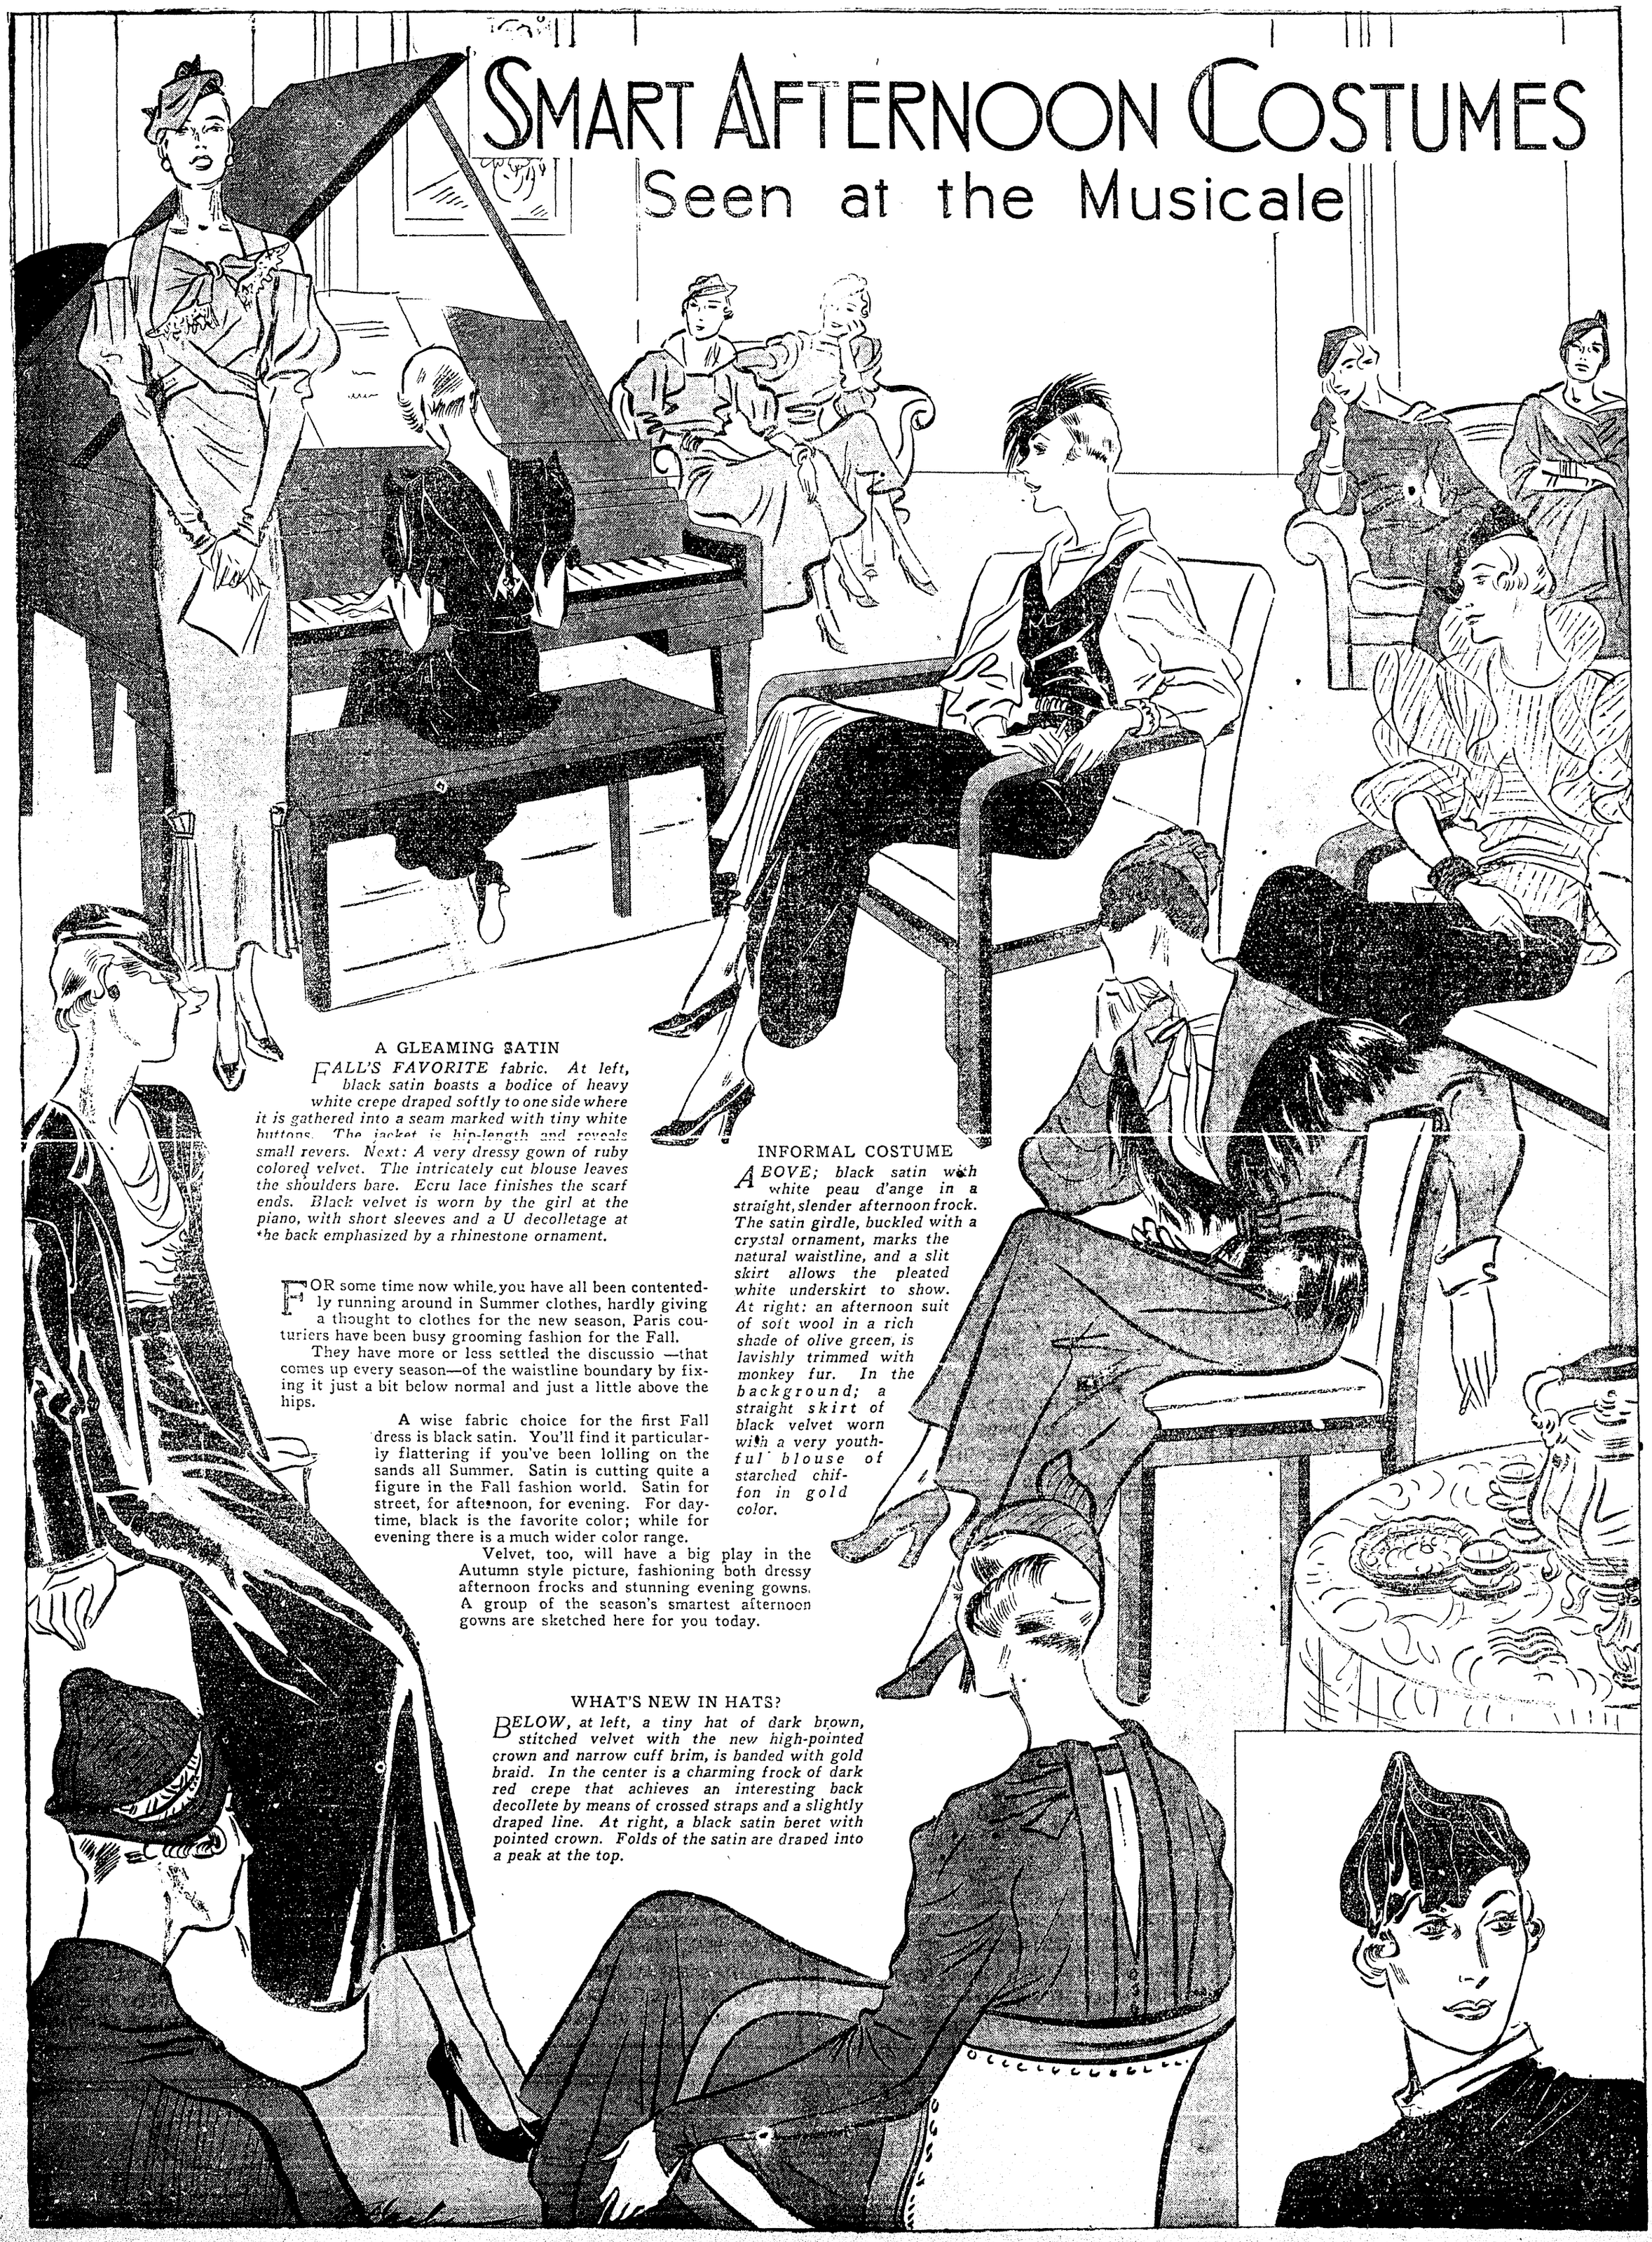
Monroe Morning World

Women's Fashions

MONROE, LOUISIANA, SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1933

SMART AFTERNOON COSTUMES

Seen at the Musicale



A GLEAMING SATIN

FALL'S FAVORITE fabric. At left, black satin boasts a bodice of heavy white crepe draped softly to one side where it is gathered into a seam marked with tiny white buttons. The jacket is hip-length and reveals small revers. Next: A very dressy gown of ruby colored velvet. The intricately cut blouse leaves the shoulders bare. Ecru lace finishes the scarf ends. Black velvet is worn by the girl at the piano, with short sleeves and a U decolletage at the back emphasized by a rhinestone ornament.

INFORMAL COSTUME

ABOVE; black satin with white peau d'ange in a straight, slender afternoon frock. The satin girdle, buckled with a crystal ornament, marks the natural waistline, and a slit skirt allows the pleated white underskirt to show. At right: an afternoon suit of soft wool in a rich shade of olive green, is lavishly trimmed with monkey fur. In the background; a straight skirt of black velvet worn with a very youthful blouse of starched chiffon in gold color.

FOR some time now while you have all been contentedly running around in Summer clothes, hardly giving a thought to clothes for the new season, Paris couturiers have been busy grooming fashion for the Fall.

They have more or less settled the discussio —that comes up every season—of the waistline boundary by fixing it just a bit below normal and just a little above the hips.

A wise fabric choice for the first Fall dress is black satin. You'll find it particularly flattering if you've been lolling on the sands all Summer. Satin is cutting quite a figure in the Fall fashion world. Satin for street, for afternoon, for evening. For daytime, black is the favorite color; while for evening there is a much wider color range.

Velvet, too, will have a big play in the Autumn style picture, fashioning both dressy afternoon frocks and stunning evening gowns. A group of the season's smartest afternoon gowns are sketched here for you today.

WHAT'S NEW IN HATS?

BELOW, at left, a tiny hat of dark brown, stitched velvet with the new high-pointed crown and narrow cuff brim, is banded with gold braid. In the center is a charming frock of dark red crepe that achieves an interesting back decollete by means of crossed straps and a slightly draped line. At right, a black satin beret with pointed crown. Folds of the satin are draped into a peak at the top.

Return Engagement of a Hat

By Vivien R. Bretherton

THE Hat, as Evariste saw when she unpacked it, was a Marie Alphonsine, and somebody with a nice imagination had called it "Spanish Postilion." It was composed wholly of a few square inches of black straw, one very delightful and confident bow, and a manner that suggested stage coaches journeying through the sunlight of an exciting world. Yet it was, in truth, but half a hat, and therein lay its challenge. For the rest, it called for a nose with exactly the right retrousse tilt, half a head of burnished curls, a look of going somewhere in pursuit of adventure, and a man—for to see and for to admire.

Evariste had the nose and the curls, and as for the adventurous look, she was like the old Irish woman who "could have gone to the party well enough if only I'd been asked!" But when it came to the man, he simply didn't see her. Nor had he, through the entire two months that Evariste had been pounding a typewriter beneath his very eyes.

There was, of course, one little thing that stood between Evariste and the Marie Alphonsine hat. Two, to be exact. If she bought it, she wouldn't eat for six months. And besides, it was her business to sell, not to buy, this hat!

There were times — and this was one of them—when Evariste thought regretfully of Paris. Evariste could have been living in Paris and wearing Marie Alphonsine hats, in all probability, if she'd only happened to like her mother's most recent husband. But she didn't like him, not even a little bit.

It was silly of her, as various people had pointed out, but then Evariste was rather silly. She had notions about being independent, and taking alms from the men who married her mother. So she had refused Paris, and come to New York, and now she was leading a double life. Though there was no denying it was rather hard on her. For by day she sold hats for Rinaldi, since it was better, or so thought Evariste, than admitting defeat. And by night she did typing. But for two months now she'd been concentrating on the needs of a long and lean individual named Robin John Patric, who thought Evariste was a machine and Africa the most exciting research field in existence. He was, in fact, obsessed with the place and was bent on getting back there as soon as he could finish his book about it. And what with working too hard, and losing a lot of sleep, and trying to keep from falling in love, and doing her best by Africa, while all the time she knew that Africa would, in the end, take Robin John Patric away from her, Evariste was in a sorry plight. She doubted whether she could stick things out much longer.

SHE eyed the Marie Alphonsine hat and admitted that it could do a lot for her. Considerable damage, Evariste knew, would be done by the Marie Alphonsine hat. She was even getting a bit reckless with her thoughts about it when a voice at her elbow brought her back to earth and Rinaldi's.

"And how," asked the voice, "is the big two-timing business woman this morning? Did Africa roar last night, and has the lion shown his teeth?"

Evariste put down the hat that could conquer armies and upset kingdoms. "Africa," she told Lulu, "is a Jezebel. And the lion is getting temperamental. Society has taken him up in a big way, and it's bad for his simple digestion. In fact, the thundering herd is closing in on him, and I do hear rumors of a menace in the fore of the rush. Bet you a lipstick, Lulu, that the menace gets him. She's all weighed down with a million or two, and she wants a celebrity to play with."

"Hot-cha," grinned Lulu. "What's her name, and, I'll send her poison!"

"She hasn't any name. She's a voice, my innocent one. She comes over the telephone when the lion is deep in the veldt and I'm trying to spell the darned place, and she says, 'Mr. Patric, please!' and Robin John looks startled. Then, after a little conversation — with the lady, I take it, doing most of the wooing, though it may be only natural reticence on his part — he ducks out on me, and our heroine, the typist, spends another evening wandering alone among the savages. Lulu—I could wear this hat!"

Lulu granted that she could. "But who couldn't? And never mind the menace, darling. Think how she'll look with a ring in her nose!" And with that she went her way.

EVARISTE didn't think about the menace. Not any more than she could help. It was too disturbing.

During the day Evariste snatched the Marie Alphonsine from the clutches of seven wrong people, but since Rinaldi himself didn't see her do it, nothing happened. It was, nevertheless, a strain on her and she wasn't at her tranquil best when she approached Africa that evening.

It seemed the lion, too, was in a mood. Evariste found him pacing up and down the tiny office. She took off her hat — a sensible affair that would never play havoc with any man. Then she said, patiently, "What is the matter? Did I spell Ngunium wrong?"

She never, Robin John Patric informed her, spelled anything wrong. "But do you know," he asked, "why I hired you?"

"Of course, I do," she told him regretfully, for the reason was certainly no compliment. "You ran an ad—'Typist wanted by crabbed author. Brains, not beauty required.' And I answered it. 'Job wanted by reasonably brainy typist. Pay, not dinner bids, requested.' So I got the job. And very nice typing I give you."

"When you give it," observed Robin John Patric. "Now, take this afternoon. I had ideas. But where are they now?"

"I couldn't guess," murmured Evariste politely. "But I explained in the beginning that I couldn't help you snare ideas in the afternoon. I'm a gangster's moll, afternoons, and I have to clean machine guns."

Robin John Patric eyed her, as if he were seeing her for the first time. "Now who would have thought it," he marvelled. "You actually sound almost human. I didn't know you ever talked about anything but spacing and carbon sheets!"

"It must be because they called me Evariste," she confessed. "It's no name for a typist. But I'm doing my best to live it down. And now, what did you do with the pages I typed last night? You don't suppose they are filling that waste-basket over there, do you?"

Robin John Patric thought it quite possible. But he wasn't through with the topic of afternoons. "They weren't," he told her, "any good. I was off on the wrong foot, last night. But as I was saying take this afternoon, for instance."

It wasn't easy, sighed Evariste, to get a lion tamed. Or to sidetrack any man with a grievance. "If you must know," she answered, "I sell hats afternoons. I sold a grand one today. It cost fifty dollars. But why all this sudden turmoil about afternoons, anyway? Is this a polite way of firing me?"

She knew, he told her stiffly, that it wasn't. And he was sorry if he had pried into her private affairs. "We shall start where we began last night," he informed her. "Perhaps we will do better this time."

THIS time the menace didn't call, but Africa gained no profit from it. Robin John Patric was in anything but a literary frame of mind. He dictated whole pages to Evariste, only to turn around and throw them all out.

Finally he admitted defeat. "It's no go tonight," he said. "Maybe it will come to me tomorrow!" He took a turn or two more around the room and then blew up. "This town," he barked, "is getting on my nerves! I'm going back to Africa! I think I'll go tomorrow!"

Evariste thought she'd go home and have a good cry. After all, she'd been in love with a man for two months—practically — and she hadn't shed a tear over him yet. It wasn't logical.

Robin John Patric began to look at her again, this time in a rather startled way. This typist of his was rather a surprising person. "I say," he asked her, "do you really sell hats? And for Pete's sake, why?"

That was too much for Evariste. "To eat!" she snapped as she grabbed up her nondescript hat and fled.

AT eleven-thirty the next morning Evariste was wondering whether the lion had gone to Africa and, if he hadn't, what possible good it could do her, when the brittle blonde walked into Rinaldi's and had to be shown every hat in the place. The brittle blonde left Lulu in a state of complete ecstasy, for she was all that Lulu longed to be. But she left Evariste cold.

It was, Evariste supposed, partly envy and partly righteous wrath. For the brittle blonde, who was very young and wore impatience like a cloak, was bright perfection from the top of her shining head to the tips of her expensive pumps. And she treated Evariste as if she were a piece of furniture. Nor was there any pleasing her.

"It is ridiculous," she flared out at last, "that you can't find a decent hat in the whole place! I don't think you're trying!"

Evariste put the check rein on her temper. She stepped to the doorway. "Lulu," she called, "bring in the rest of our hats!"

The brittle blonde looked at the jeweled watch on her wrist. "If I can't find something, soon," she said petulantly, "I shall have to cancel my luncheon engagement. I simply won't go in this old rag!" And she threw a scornful glance at the smart model she had been wearing.

It was, of course, inevitable that Lulu should return with the Marie Alphonsine. Evariste hadn't admitted, even to herself, that she'd purposely not shown it, but she knew now that it was true. Particularly when the little blonde pounced upon it.

"I'll try that one," she said.

The Marie Alphonsine, when placed on the sleek, bright head, had nothing wrong with it. Even Evariste had to admit that. True, the nose beneath its brim wasn't tilted, and there was more of petulance than zest for adventure in the lovely little face that went with the nose. But the effect, Evariste granted, was arresting. "It is—very becoming," she admitted unwillingly.

Evidently the little blonde thought so too. "This," she said, "is my hat!"

Evariste felt a little sick. "The price," she said desperately, hoping for the best, "is—"

"I didn't ask you," stated the blonde crisply, "for the price. I said I would take it. Send my old one to 1611 Park Avenue, Phyllis Lane. I am wearing this."

Well that, thought Evariste wryly, was that. The Marie Alphonsine was going out of Rinaldi's. But whatever adventures it was to have would have nothing to do with her. "It may be destiny," remarked Evariste to Lulu, "that shapes our ends. But it is a hat, nine times out of ten, that shapes our future. And there goes mine. Come on, Lulu, let's go to lunch."

LUNCH did nothing to cheer Evariste. Somewhere in New York the Marie Alphonsine was also lunching, and probably creating all the havoc it was meant to create. Weaving its magic for a spoiled, arrogant little sophisticate — for Evariste might not know Phyllis Lane by sight but, like the rest of New York, she knew her by reputation — who didn't need magic woven for her since she could buy it by the yard, if she wanted to.

"I could howl like a Banshee!" confessed Evariste. "Perhaps it's the effect of Africa, Lulu, but I'm getting primitive in my instincts. Another minute and I'd have snatched that hat right off her head!"

"She's sure the Mounted Police in that hat," admitted Lulu. "But you'll get over it. There was a boy I wanted, once. It was awful until another girl got him. Then I could take my mind off him. You ought to be glad it's over."

There was probably a lot in what Lulu said, but it didn't do Evariste any good. She would, she knew, go down to her grave regretting the Marie Alphonsine hat.

She went back to Rinaldi's after lunch, because there was nothing else to do. She sold, during the afternoon, three

"RETURN ENGAGEMENT OF A HAT"

"Can I sell you a nice sun helmet?" she asked politely. "Something in milan straw, with red poppies?"

atrocities to three women who were determined to buy them, and not once did she so much as try to guide their judgment.

And then, suddenly, it was four o'clock, and Miss Phyllis Lane was walking in on her once more.

Miss Phyllis Lane was in a mood. That was plain. Something, evidently, had missed fire with her, and from her pungent conversation Evariste gathered that it was the Marie Alphonsine hat. In three seconds it had been flung angrily into a corner.

"I won't," snapped the stormy young Phyllis, "wear that thing another minute! Get me something else—anything! Black isn't my color!"

Evariste turned on her heel and went in search of hats. She returned with a Marthe, half-blue, half-white; a small Patou in orange red with bright galalith flowers; and a Rose Descat that was a very poem of a hat. She dumped them down in front of Miss Phyllis Lane, who tried them on and then took them all, as if to spite the Marie Alphonsine. "And I'll wear the Patou," she announced carelessly. "Put the rest in boxes. I'll take them."

Evariste picked up the Marie Alphonsine. "And this?" she asked grimly.

"I don't want it," Phyllis snapped. "Charge it, of course. But do what you like with it. Throw it away—give it away—but don't annoy me with it!" And with that she sailed out of the place.

EVARISTE picked up the Marie Alphonsine and laid it on the shelf. Then, with her feelings anything but calm, she walked out into Rinaldi's show room and came face to face with the young man standing there.

"You!" said Evariste weakly.

"You really sell 'em," observed Robin John Patric, rather proud of himself for finding it out. "I had the devil of a time finding you. Started with the alphabet and went down the line, checking all millinery shops. Lucky for me I started in with the Z's and went backward!"

"Can I sell you a nice sun helmet?" she asked politely. "Something in milan straw, with red poppies?"

Robin John Patric grinned. Then, "Listen," he said earnestly. "This is important. I have ideas again. Want to catch them before they fly. Thought we'd save a lot of time if you had a bite with me, and then we went right at them."

"You get your bite," she told him, "and go to the office. I'll steal an orange and be there as soon as you are."

Robin John looked perturbed. "See here," he said ruefully, "there's another reason, too. It would help me out a lot if you ate with me. The fact is, I got myself all mixed up with a dinner party and I want to duck it. Help me out, like a good sport."

"You really think it would help you out, if you broke your date to take your typist to dinner? My dear child, many a social downfall has been due to less than that!"

Robin John Patric failed to appreciate the tragedy of a social downfall. "I'll meet you," he told her firmly, "at six. I have ideas, and I'm going to catch 'em this time. See you out in front."

THERE wasn't, observed Evariste, any choice left open to her. But the nearer it got to six o'clock, the more thoughtful she grew. After all, there was the Marie Alphonsine hat—practically thrown in her face.

Evariste was putting it on, and eyeing the tilt of her nose and her half a head of burnished curls, when Lulu walked in on her. "Zowie!" gasped Lulu. "What's the big idea? Lady Bountiful give it to you?"

"Lady Bountiful," remarked Evariste, "invited me to throw this away—give it away—do as I pleased with it! Well, I'm doing as I please!"

Lulu's eye widened. "And old Rinaldi? What do you think he'll do to you?"

But Evariste wasn't to be swerved. "Rinaldi," she said crisply, "will sell it to me—at a tenth of its price. And I'm going out to dinner, Lulu. For once, at least, I'm going to be worth looking at!"

And for once, at least, it seemed she was. For Robin John Patric, after his first bewildered glance at her, put her into a taxi and then stared at her. "What have you done to yourself?" he asked frankly. "You look — well, different."

Evariste began to glow a little. But she was very businesslike. "Those ideas of yours," she reminded him. "Perhaps you'd like to run over them now — sketchily — so they won't get away from you over a sandwich."

But Robin John was getting less literary every moment. "Hang the ideas! We are going to Stafford's."

Evariste remembered Stafford's from former halcyon days. It was very smart and very distracting.

"Very well," she sighed meekly. "I can't argue with my employer."

Nor did that exactly suit Robin John Patric. In fact, by the time he was halfway through dinner and had danced three times with Evariste, he was completely disinterested with the relationship. "I can't," he told her, "figure you out. I'm afraid you've suddenly gone dangerous on me. And, by the way, do you know that you have a very nice nose. It turns up."

The music wove in and out between their words, and there was no denying its effect. For Evariste, with the knowledge that she looked like Paris, became less and less like a typist and more and more like an adventure about to happen.

"Listen, Evariste," Robin John said suddenly, "a girl told me today that I was a stupid idiot. Do you suppose that she was right?"

A girl? Evariste's heart contracted. And who could that girl be, but the menace? "Perhaps," she said carefully, "you didn't say the things she wanted you to say. Perhaps you didn't know what she wanted you to say."

"I know," he told her evenly. "But I usually say only what I want to say. That's why there are things I shall say to you, Evariste, that I'd never say to—well, Phyllis, for instance."

"P-Phyllis?" Evariste stared at him. "You—you don't mean Phyllis Lane, do you? The — the blonde and beautiful one? For that would be simply too far-fetched!"

He didn't know about the far-fetched part of it, but it happened that he did mean Phyllis Lane. "And she may be beautiful, Evariste, but you are much more disturbing. Is it fair, do you think, to spring loveliness so suddenly upon a man?"

Evariste felt giddy. "Just for curiosity's sake," she murmured, "would you tell me if you had lunch with her today?"

"Why—yes, I did. But not —" he grinned—"very successfully. I didn't prove very good company."

IT WAS a blow to Evariste. Twice in one day he'd fed the Marie Alphonsine, and he didn't even know it! As far as hats were concerned, the man was stone blind. "I think," she murmured, "we'd better go."

"You are trying to run away," he accused her. "I do believe you're afraid I'll make love to you."

"I'm not!" she said hastily. "Besides, you wouldn't. It would be too ridiculous. Why, you hardly know I existed, until tonight!"

"Oh, didn't I?" His eyes were twinkling. "I told you this afternoon that I had ideas. And I didn't say they were all about Africa, either."

"But [illegible]

[illegible] see," he told her, "that it is going to be hard to convince you. And do you think that if sometime I asked you to go to Africa with me, you'd accuse me of wanting to keep a good typist? Because, Evariste, I have the feeling that I'm going to ask you — for quite a different reason. And now—shall we dance?"

Nobody could tell Evariste now that the Marie Alphonsine hat hadn't done its best for her. If it had failed in its first performance, it had triumphed on its return engagement.

Evariste looked at Robin John Patric. "And do you think," she murmured, "that if sometime I were to say I'd go, you'd accuse me of wanting to keep a good job? Because I have the feeling that I might say yes. And now—let's dance, shall we?"

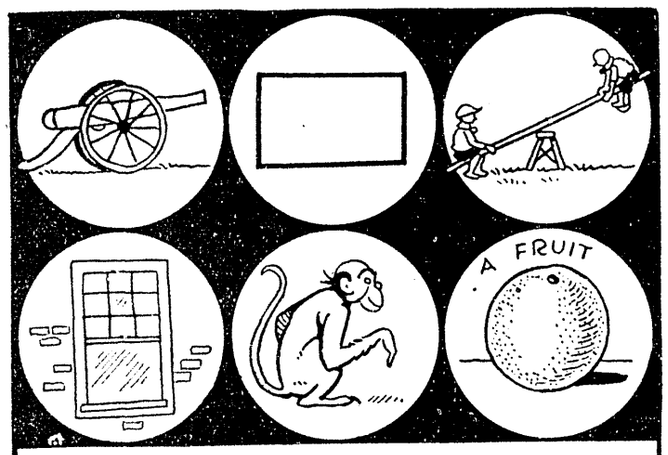
(Copyright 1933, The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

PUZZLES, TRICKS, GAMES & MAGIC

FUNLAND

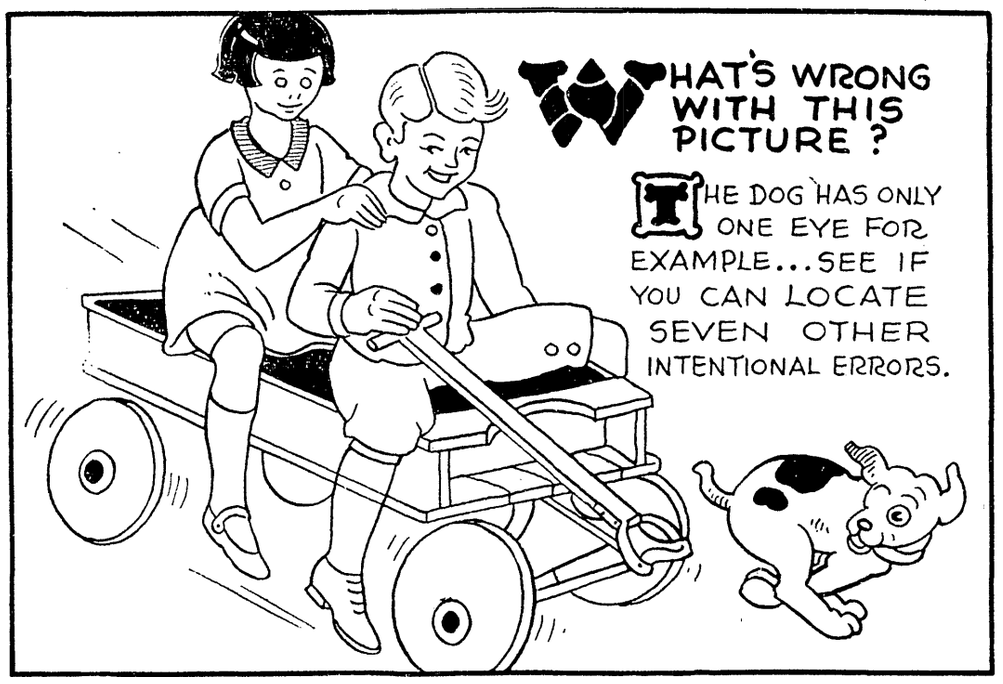
EVERYBODY'S PLAYMATE

★ BY ★ A.W. NUGENT THE WORLD'S LEADING PUZZLEMAKER



EACH OF THE ABOVE PICTURED OBJECTS MAY BE DESCRIBED BY A WORD OF SIX LETTERS. WHEN RIGHTLY GUESSED AND THEIR INITIALS WRITTEN IN THE PROPER ORDER, THEY'LL SPELL THE NAME OF A CITY CAPTURED BY NAPOLEON.

A.W. NUGENT

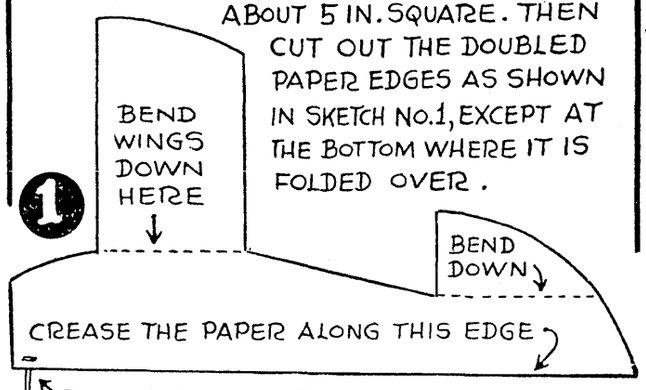


WHAT'S WRONG WITH THIS PICTURE?

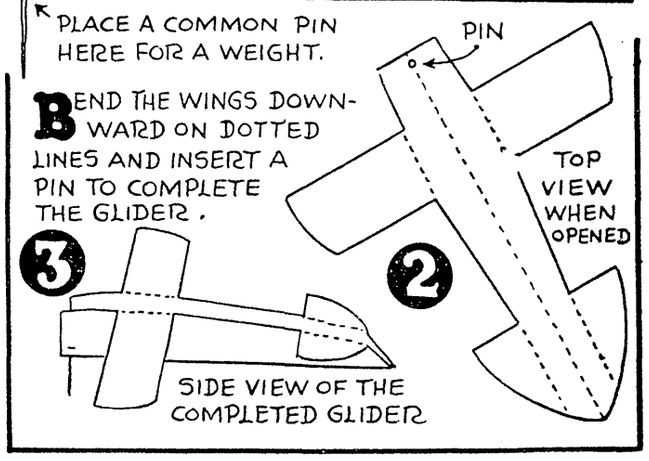
THE DOG HAS ONLY ONE EYE FOR EXAMPLE... SEE IF YOU CAN LOCATE SEVEN OTHER INTENTIONAL ERRORS.

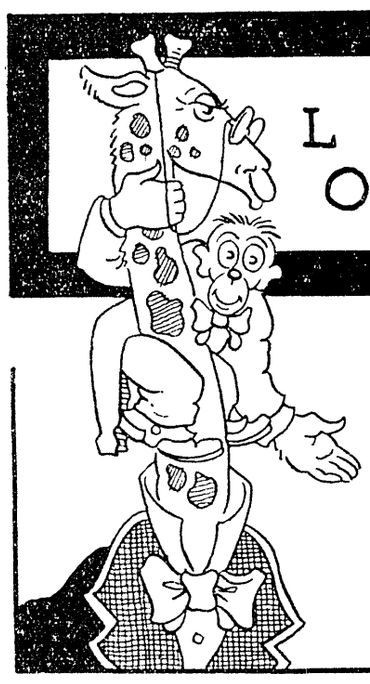
HOW TO MAKE A MINIATURE GLIDER.

FOLD OVER A PIECE OF THIN PAPER ABOUT 5 IN. SQUARE. THEN CUT OUT THE DOUBLED PAPER EDGES AS SHOWN IN SKETCH NO. 1, EXCEPT AT THE BOTTOM WHERE IT IS FOLDED OVER.



BEND THE WINGS DOWNWARD ON DOTTED LINES AND INSERT A PIN TO COMPLETE THE GLIDER.

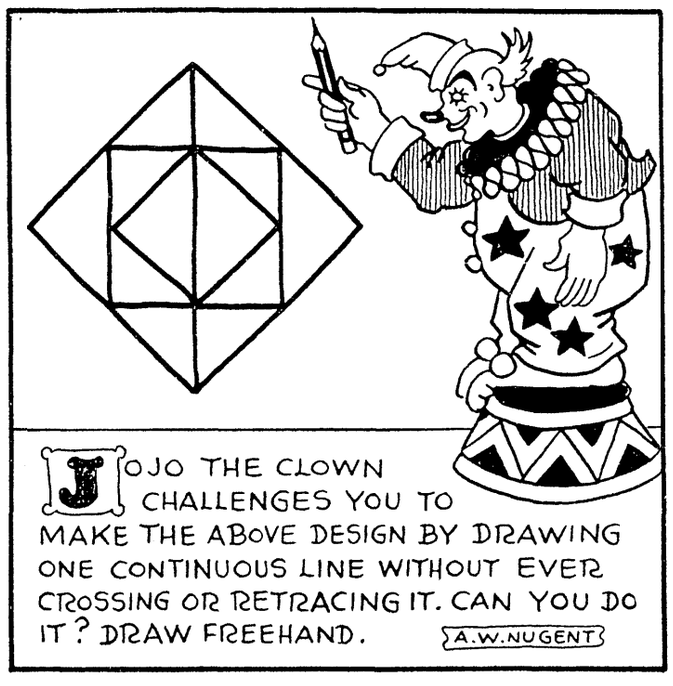




L T M M O V O V R T H R

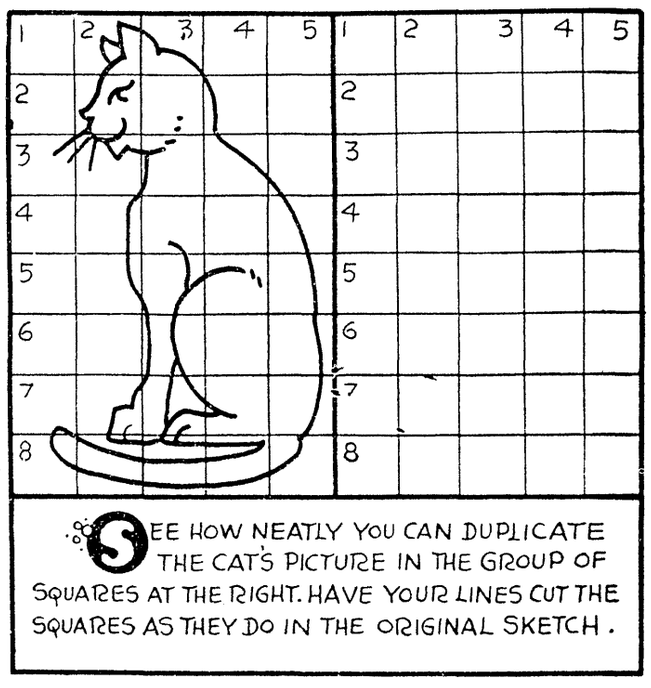
BY PRINTING EXACTLY SIX "E's" BETWEEN CERTAIN LETTERS SHOWN ABOVE, MR. MONK CAN FORM A FIVE-WORD SENTENCE.

CAN YOU DO IT?

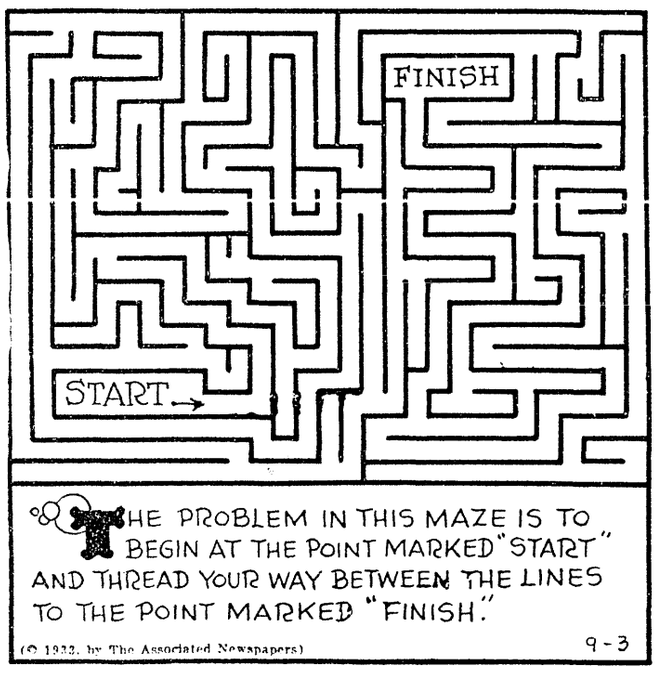


JOJO THE CLOWN CHALLENGES YOU TO MAKE THE ABOVE DESIGN BY DRAWING ONE CONTINUOUS LINE WITHOUT EVER CROSSING OR RETRACING IT. CAN YOU DO IT? DRAW FREEHAND.

A.W. NUGENT



SEE HOW NEATLY YOU CAN DUPLICATE THE CAT'S PICTURE IN THE GROUP OF SQUARES AT THE RIGHT. HAVE YOUR LINES CUT THE SQUARES AS THEY DO IN THE ORIGINAL SKETCH.

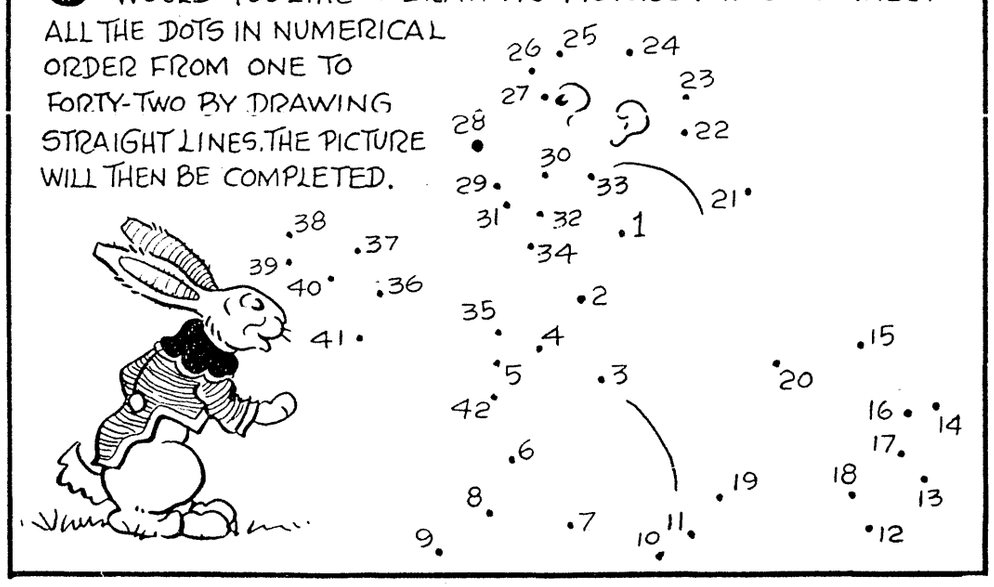


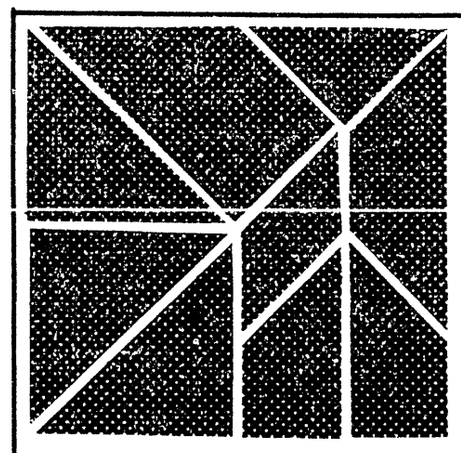
THE PROBLEM IN THIS MAZE IS TO BEGIN AT THE POINT MARKED "START" AND THREAD YOUR WAY BETWEEN THE LINES TO THE POINT MARKED "FINISH."

(© 1933, by The Associated Newspapers)

9-3

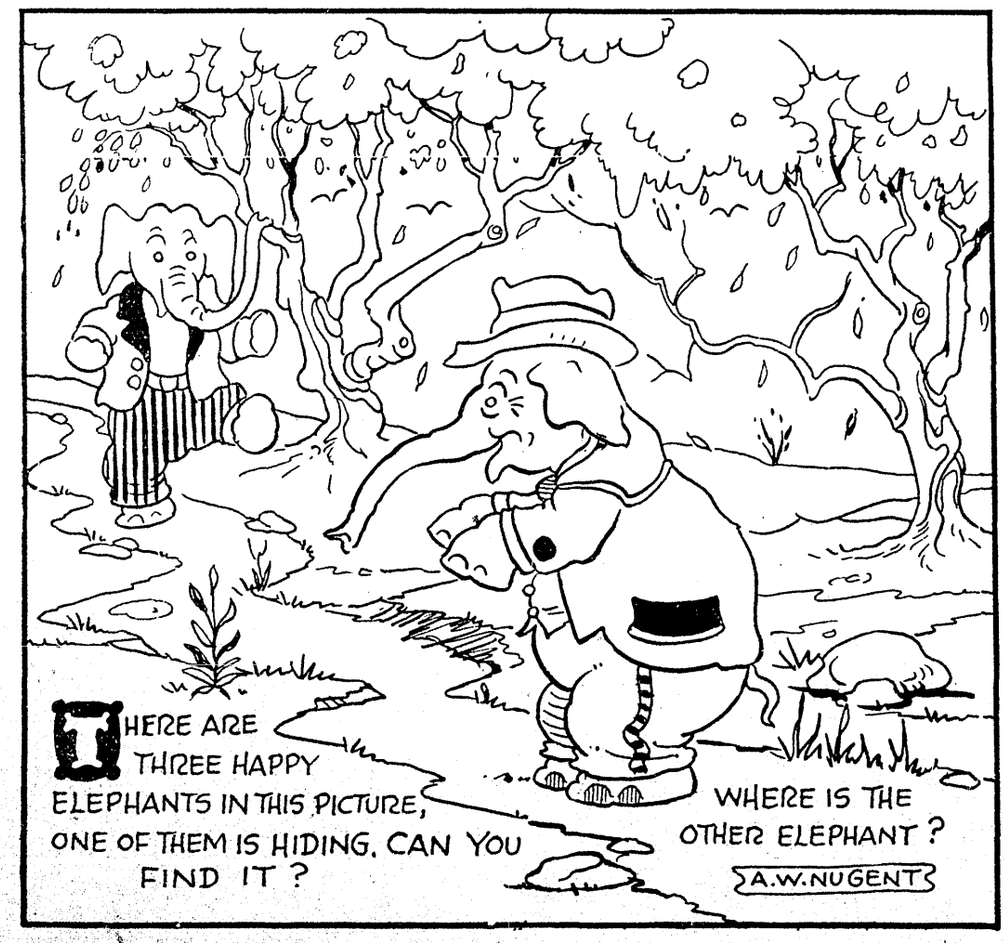
JACK BUNNY IS GREETING A CERTAIN FRIEND OF HIS. WOULD YOU LIKE TO DRAW ITS PICTURE? IF SO CONNECT ALL THE DOTS IN NUMERICAL ORDER FROM ONE TO FORTY-TWO BY DRAWING STRAIGHT LINES. THE PICTURE WILL THEN BE COMPLETED.





CUT OUT THESE NINE MAGIC GEO-MET PIECES VERY CAREFULLY.

THEN TRY TO FIT ALL THE PIECES TOGETHER TO MAKE A COMPLETE SILHOUETTE PICTURE OF THIS RABBIT.



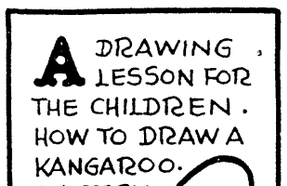
THERE ARE THREE HAPPY ELEPHANTS IN THIS PICTURE, ONE OF THEM IS HIDING. CAN YOU FIND IT?

WHERE IS THE OTHER ELEPHANT?

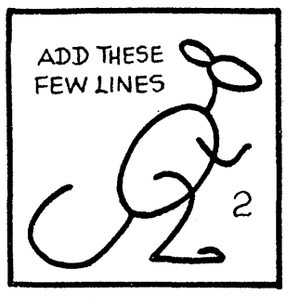
A.W. NUGENT

A DRAWING LESSON FOR THE CHILDREN.

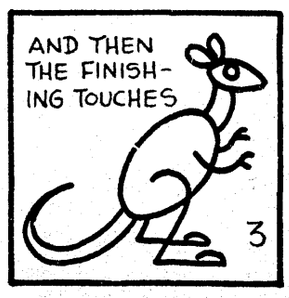
HOW TO DRAW A KANGAROO. START BY DRAWING AN OVAL →



ADD THESE FEW LINES



AND THEN THE FINISHING TOUCHES



NNLLEOII

1 _ _ _ _ _ 2 _ _ _ _ _

MR. WISE OWL CHALLENGES YOU TO FORM TWO FOUR-LETTER WORDS THAT SOUND SOMEWHAT ALIKE BUT HAVE DIFFERENT MEANINGS BY USING THE EIGHT LETTERS SHOWN HERE.

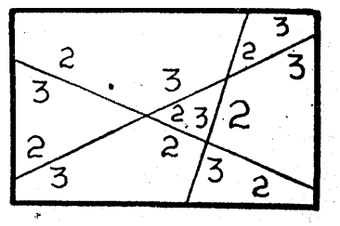
SOLUTIONS TO LAST WEEK'S PUZZLES

THE MISSPELLED WORDS ARE AS FOLLOWS—NECESSARY, PARALLEL, SUFFOCATE, TECHNIQUE, SIEGE AND KIMONO.

THE HIDDEN MAN'S HEAD IS BETWEEN THE EAGLE AND THE RACCOON. THE DOG'S HEAD IS UPSIDE DOWN IN BACK OF THE STORK.

THE TEN MEN'S FIRST NAMES ARE—ART, JOE, TOM, MOE, SAM, JIM, ROD, ED, AL AND BERT.

THREE LINE PUZZLE ANSWER →

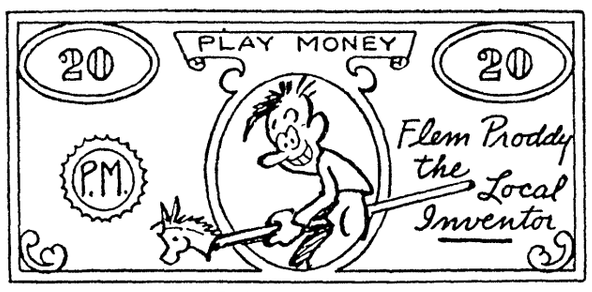


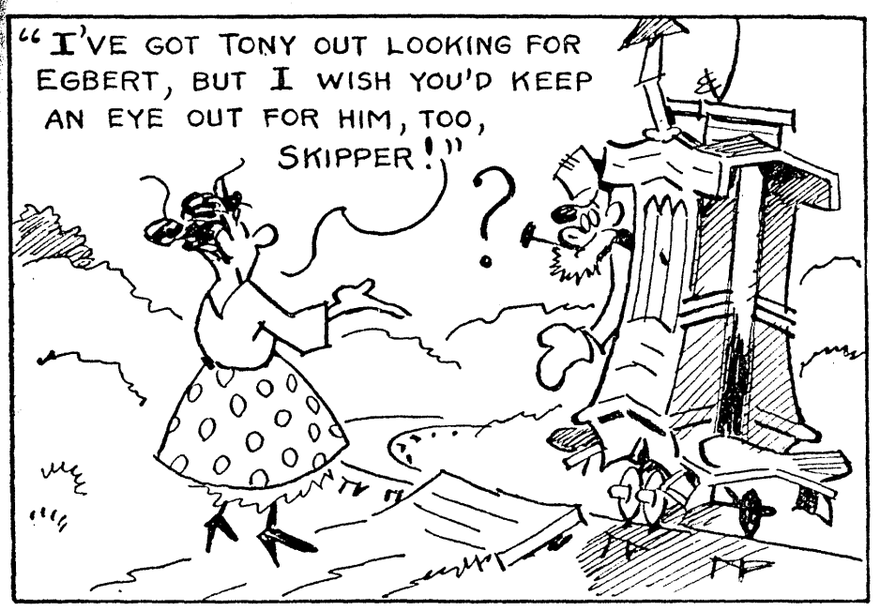
9-3

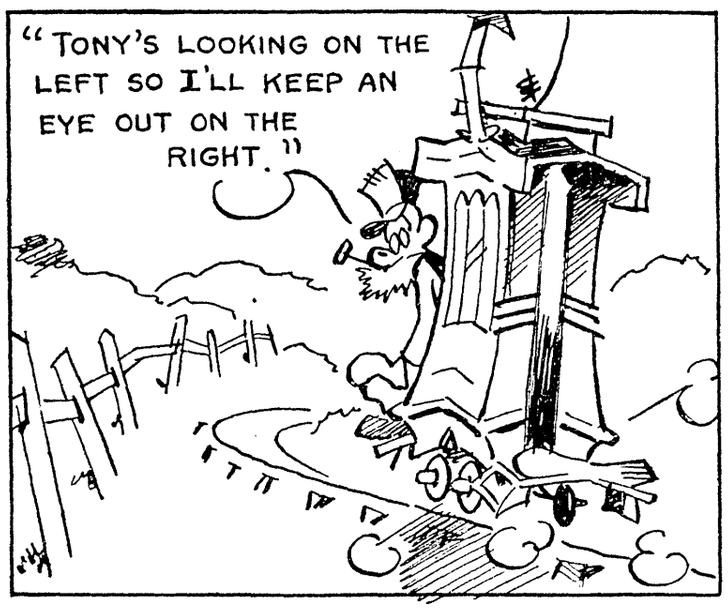
TOONERVILLE FOLKS

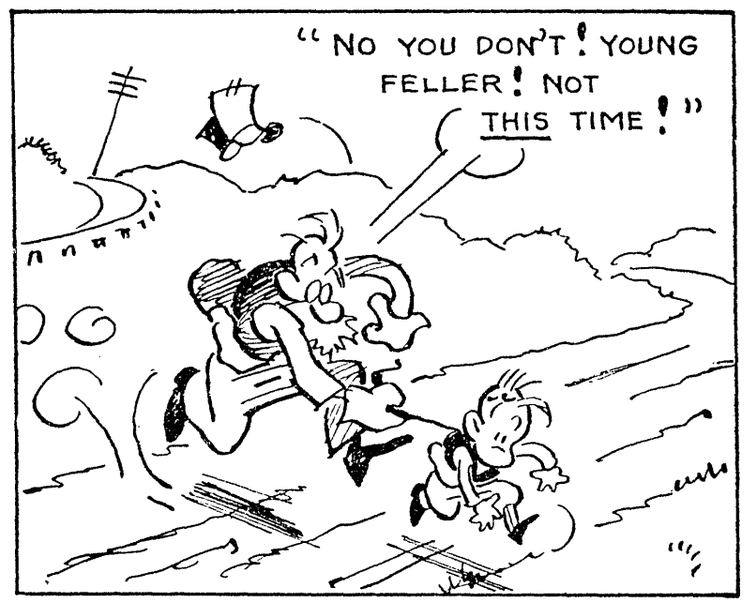
BY FONTAINE FOX

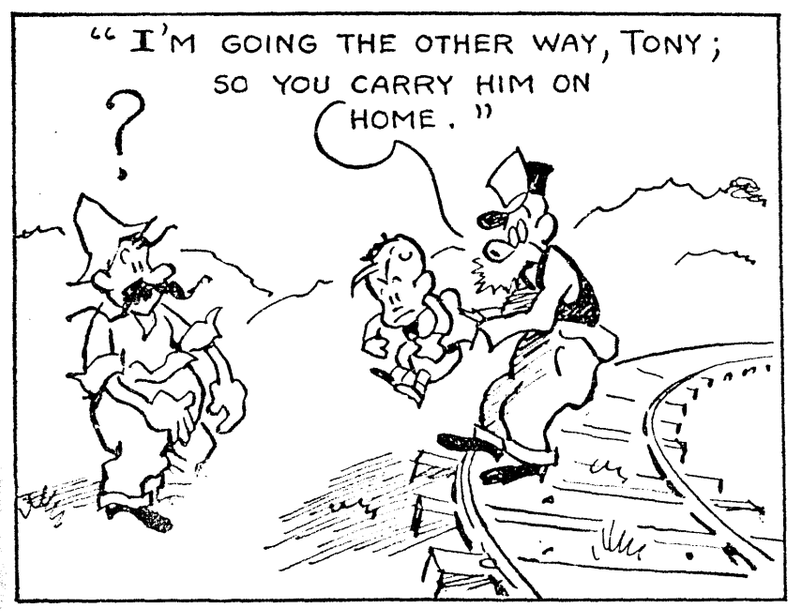
(Copyright 1933—by Fontaine Fox, Trade Mark Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
Great Britain Rights Reserved

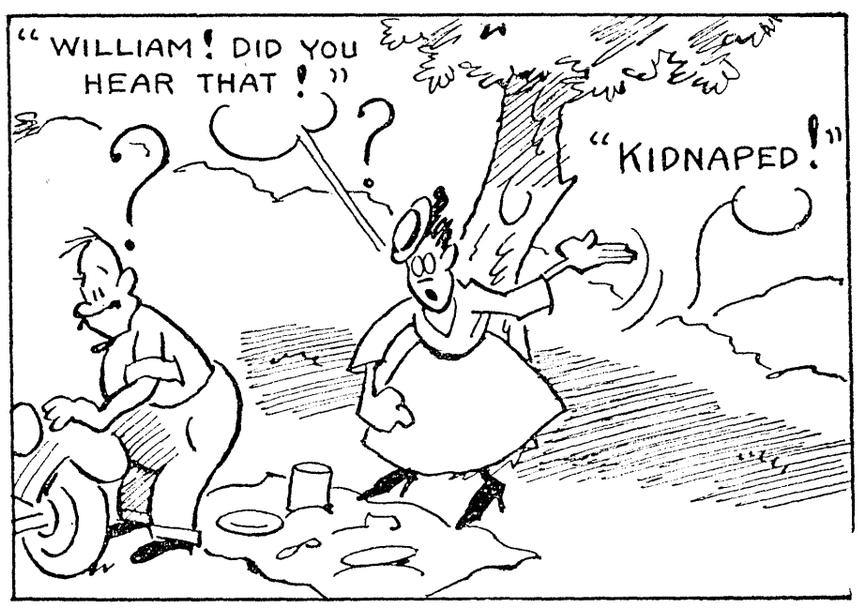


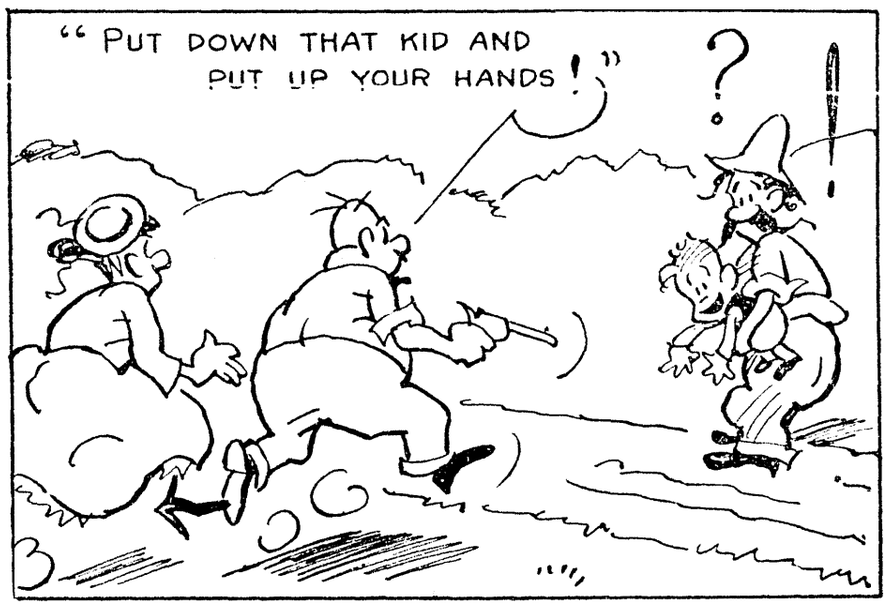


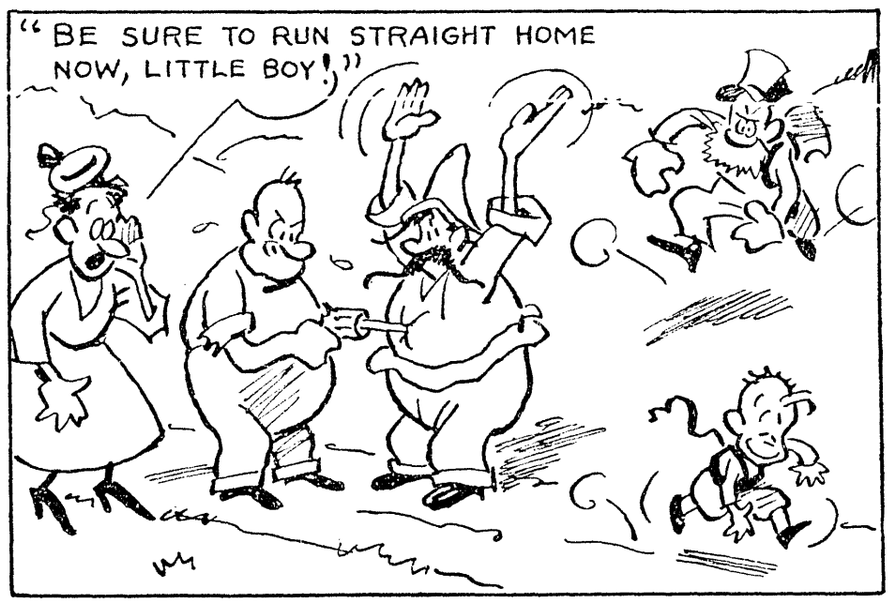




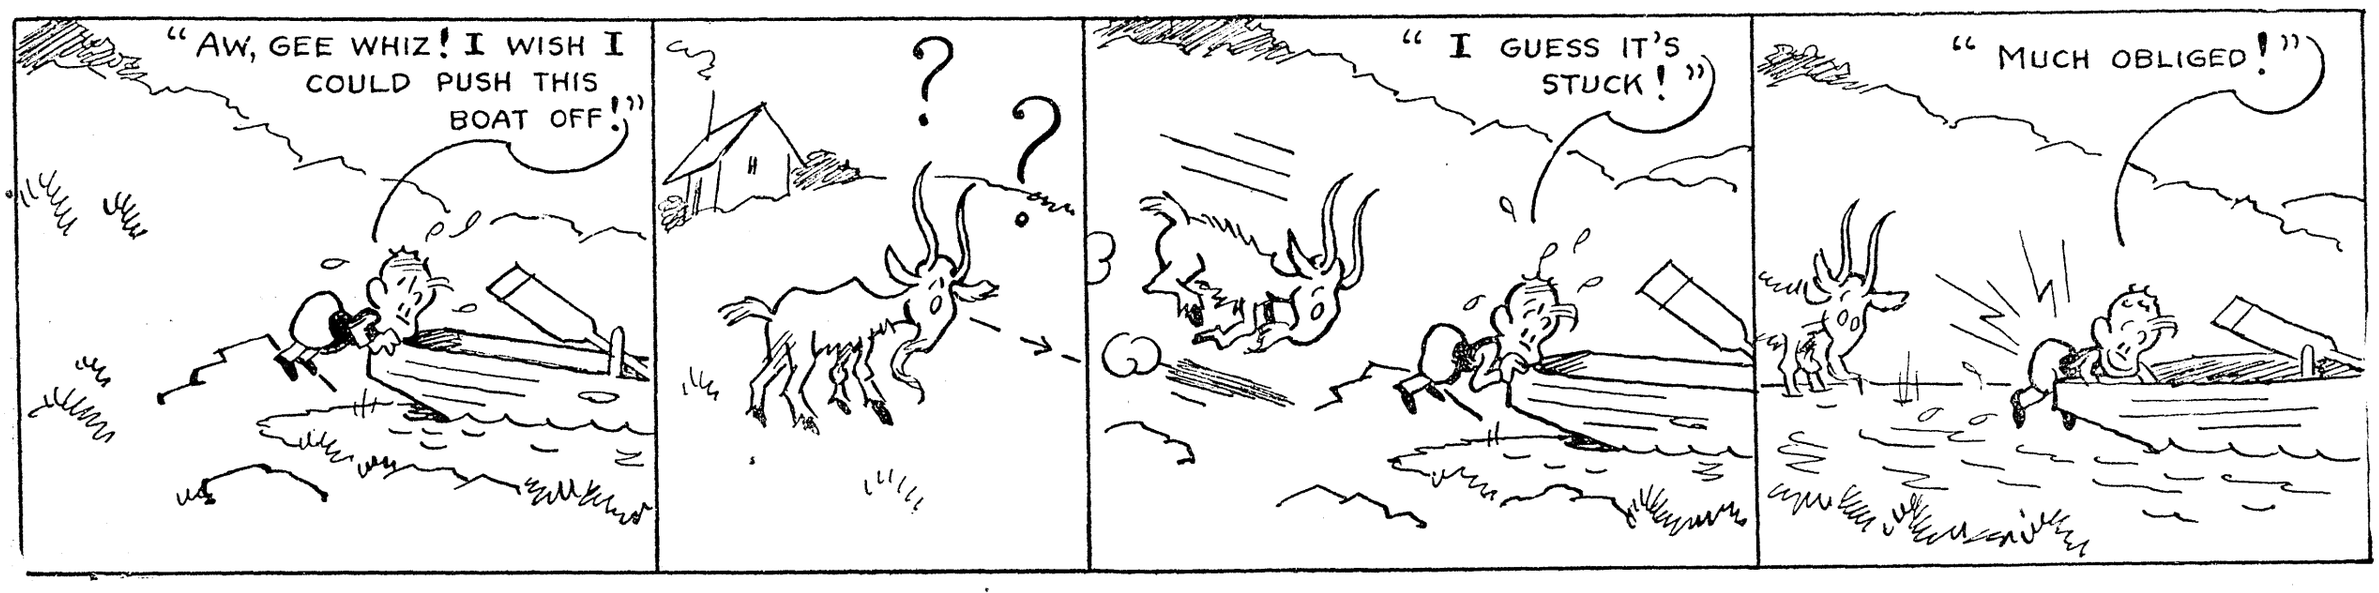


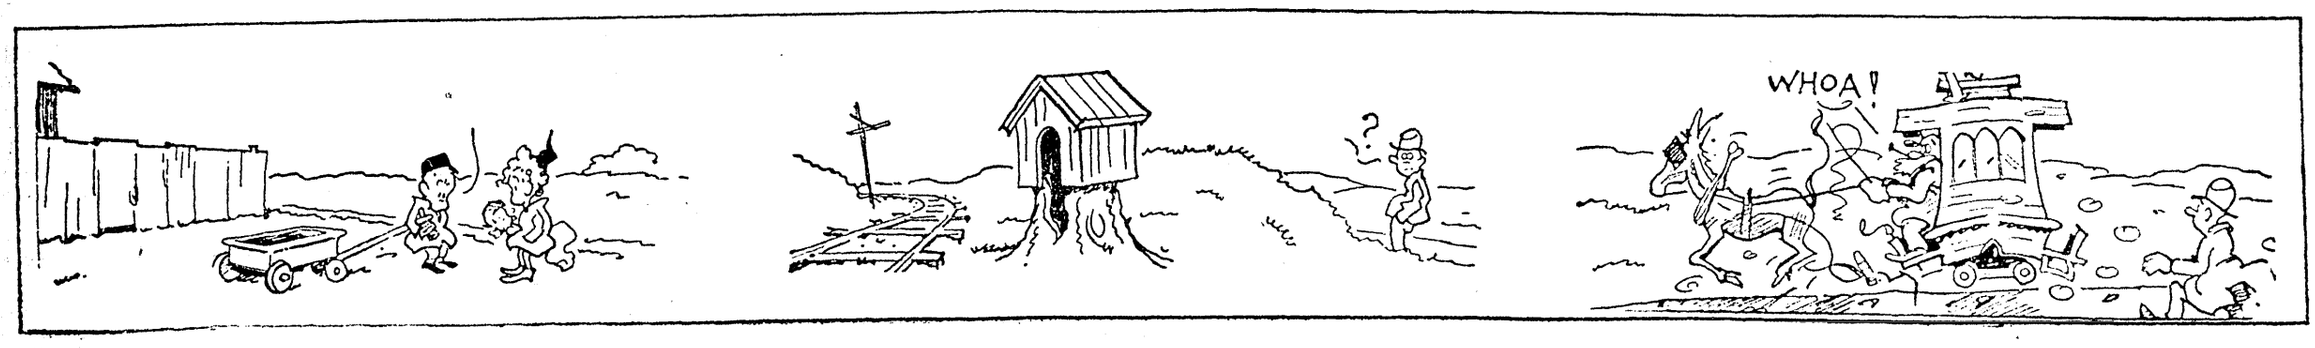






LITTLE STANLEY

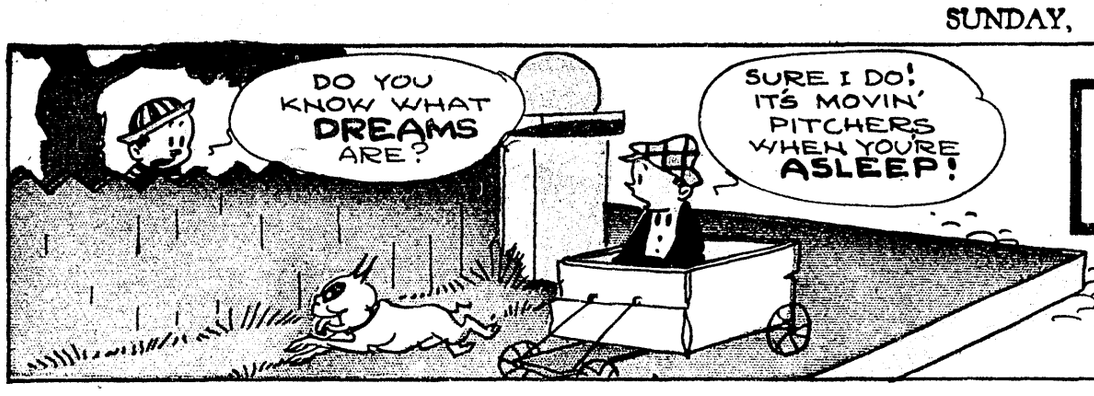


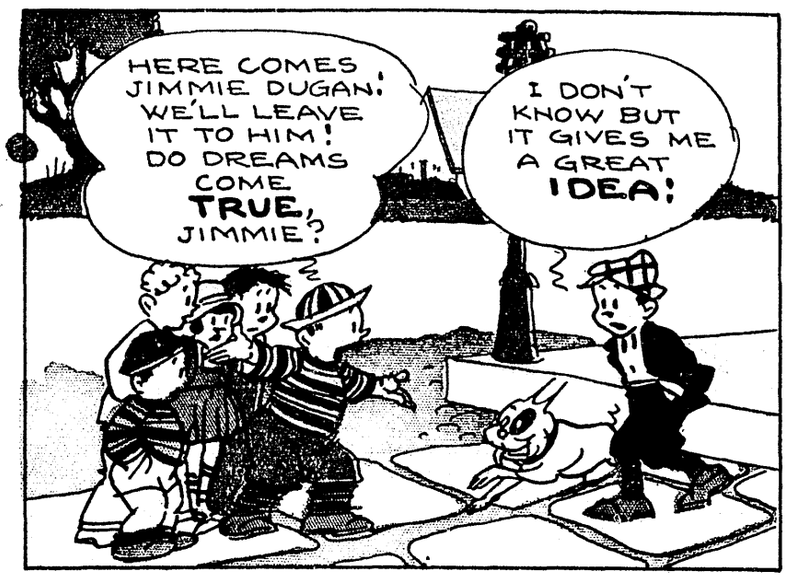


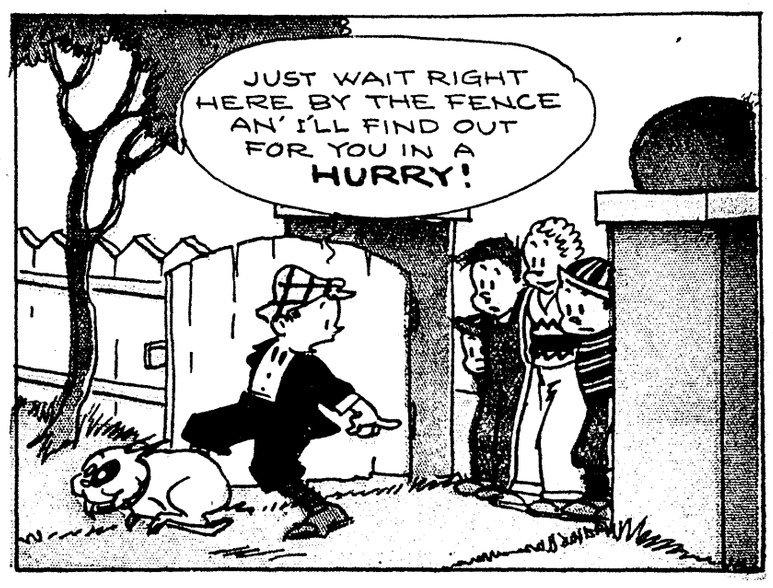
REG'LAR FELLERS

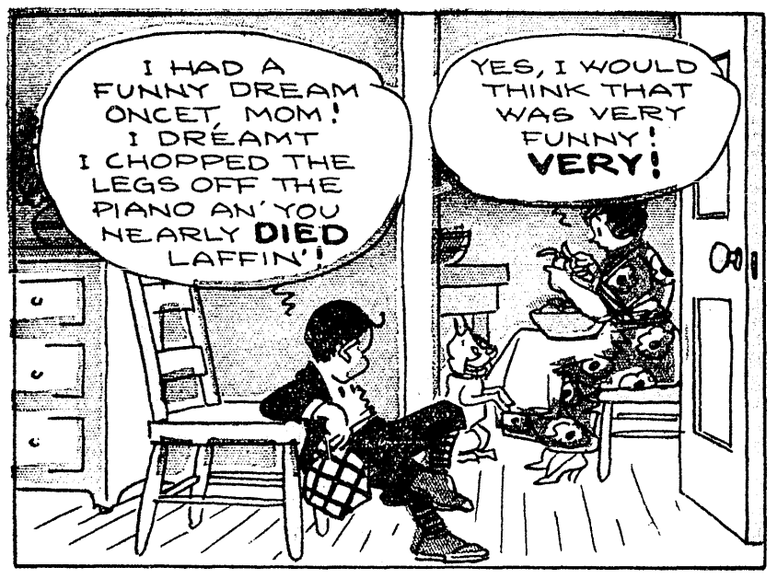
BY GENE BYRNES

Reg. U. S. Pat. Office. All rights reserved

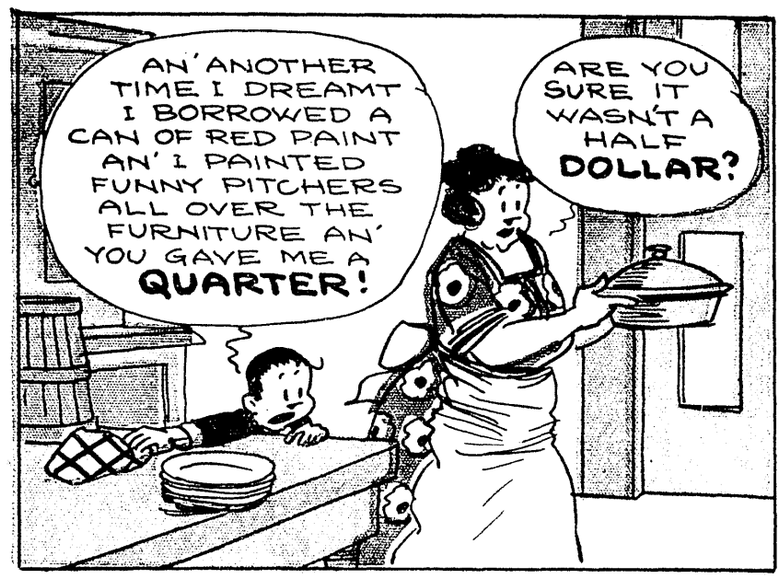




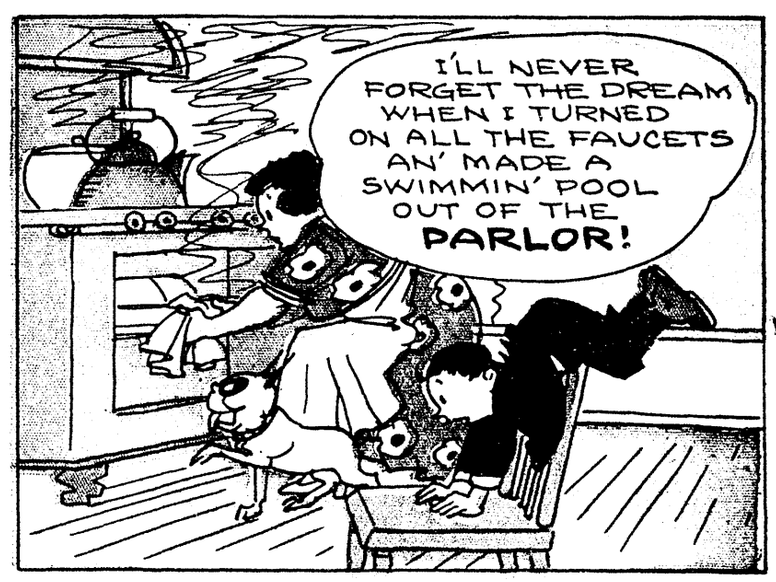


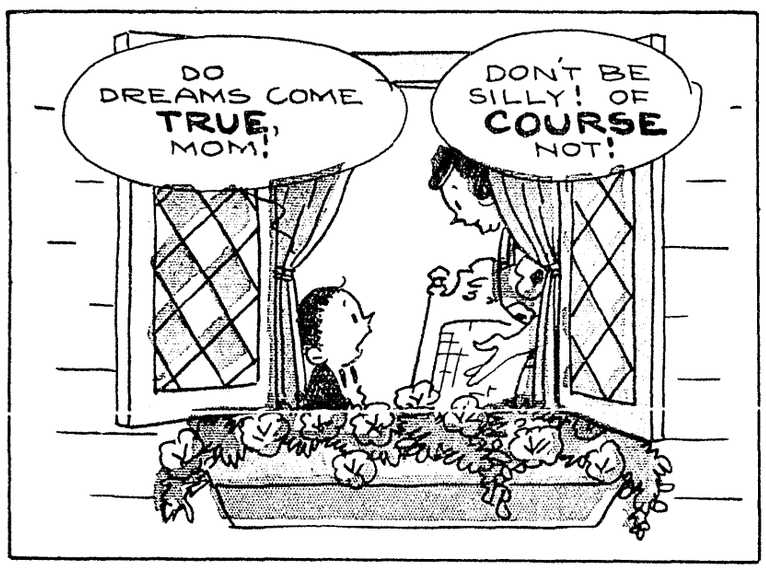


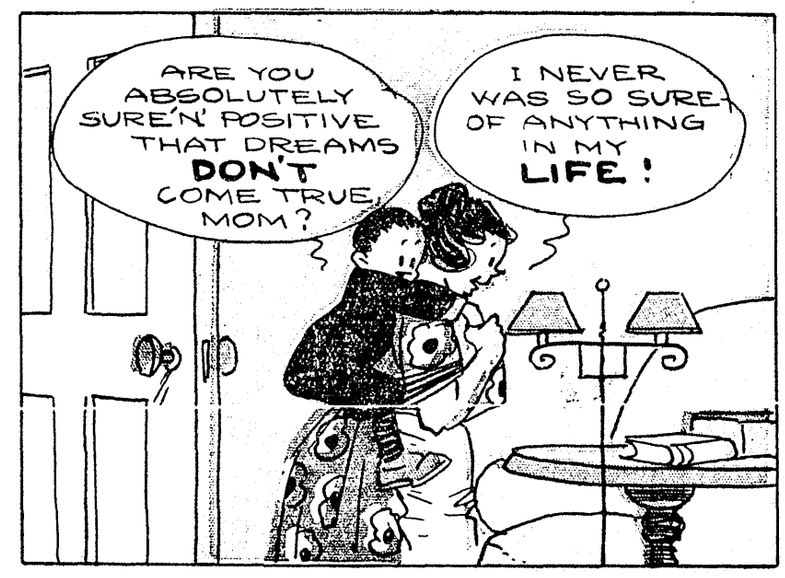
I HAD A FUNNY DREAM ONCET, MOM! I DREAMT I CHOPPED THE LEGS OFF THE PIANO AN' YOU NEARLY DIED LAFFIN'!
YES, I WOULD THINK THAT WAS VERY FUNNY! VERY!

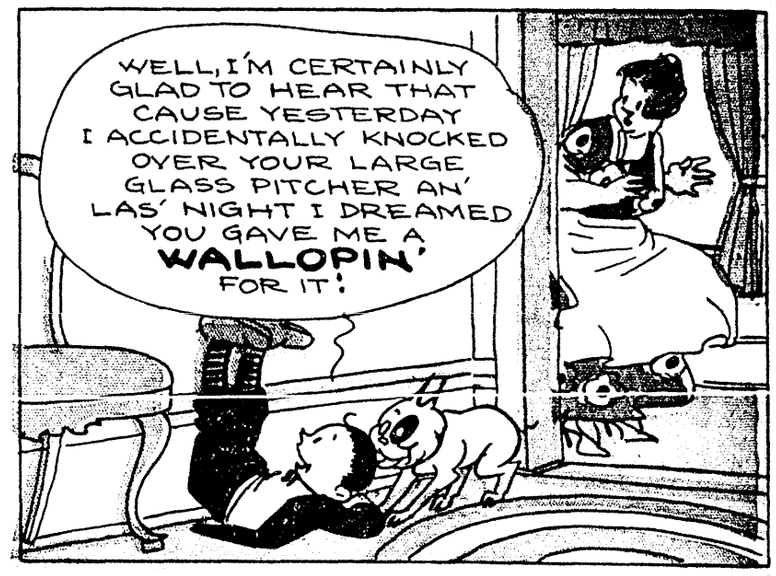


AN' ANOTHER TIME I DREAMT I BORROWED A CAN OF RED PAINT AN' I PAINTED FUNNY PITCHERS ALL OVER THE FURNITURE AN' YOU GAVE ME A QUARTER!
ARE YOU SURE IT WASN'T A HALF DOLLAR?

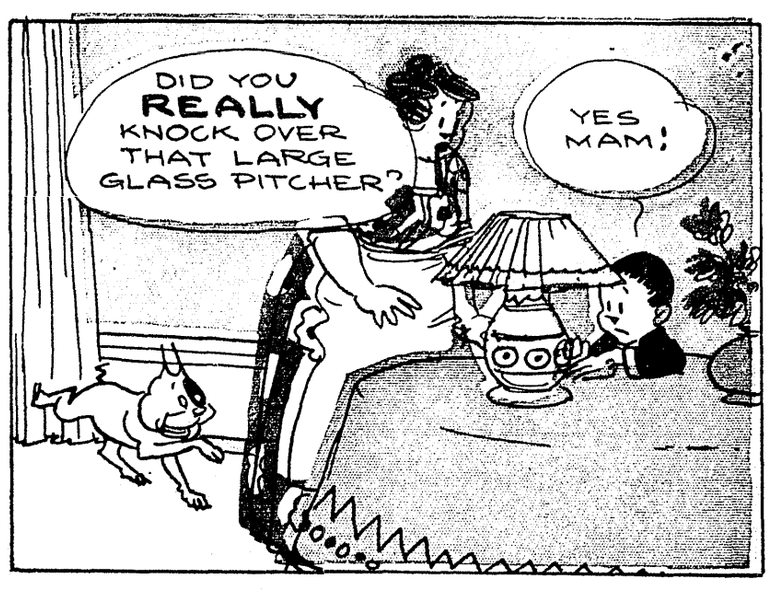


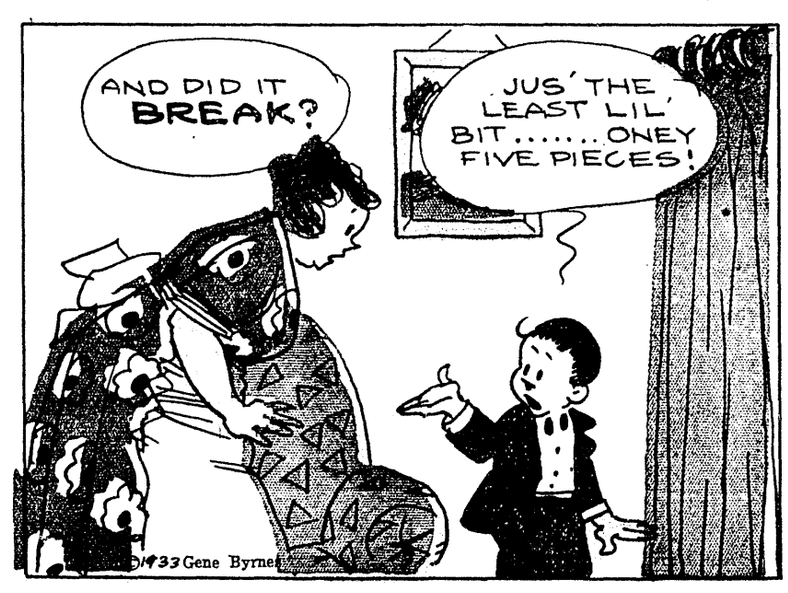






WELL, I'M CERTAINLY GLAD TO HEAR THAT CAUSE YESTERDAY I ACCIDENTALLY KNOCKED OVER YOUR LARGE GLASS PITCHER AN' LAS' NIGHT I DREAMED YOU GAVE ME A WALLOPIN' FOR IT!





DRAW IT Y'SELF

G.B.

DRAW A LINE FROM DOT NO.1 TO DOT NO.2 THEN TO DOT NO.3 AND SO ON.

©1933 Gene Byrnes